FIRST PARLEY ENDS IN CAIRO, BRITISH REPORT

Davis Assails Story by Reuters.

Reds Warn Germans

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP).—The Moscow radio in a broadcast tonight warned the German people that they could expect Germany to become a battle ground. The Moscow announcer said the heavy allied air "raids are military preparation for what is to come."

(Map on page 10.)

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

A Reuters, British news agency, dispatch from Lisbon said yesterday that President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had concluded a long session in Cairo preliminary to a meeting with Josef Stalin in Iran [Persia].

The dispatch said Mr. Roosevelt and Churchill "are now en route to somewhere in Persia to meet Premier Stalin."

Shortwave broadcasts by the United States office of war information repeated the story again and again last night.

"Met in Shadow of Pyramids."

"The three statesmen met on one occasion in a tent in the shadow of the pyramids," said the OWI transmissions, beamed out since 12:30 p. m., yesterday in English, French, German, Italian and other languages to friend, foe and neutral alike.

"During the conference Cairo was cut off from communication with the rest of the world. Roosevelt and Chiang Kai-shek, who was accompanied by Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, traveled to Cairo by plane, while Churchill traveled by sea."

It was said that an official announcement agreed on after the Cairo conference will be published later this week.

Censors Clear Dispatch.

A telephone call to the New York office of war information elicited the information that the broadcasts were authorized by the office of censorship after the Reuters dispatch—duly cleared by the British censorship thru London—was received from the Portuguese capital yesterday morning.

Elmer Davis, OWI chief, said in Washington that his office broadcast the Reuters report because it "already was all over Europe."

He said that DNB, the German news agency, "and virtually everybody else" had circulated the Reuters report and that OWI felt "it should give its customers something, too."

Davis Criticizes Reuters.

At the same time Davis criticized the British news agency.

"If there were a conference we could assume from past experience that there would be some arrangement for a simultaneous release in all capitals involved," he said.

"If that were the case, Reuters broke a release date. If there were no conference, then the story would be an invention. Either way, it is equally reprehensible."

Later a Reuters dispatch from Stockholm said that the United States ambassador to Turkey, Laurence A. Steinhardt, had left Ankara by air en route to Teheran, capital of Iran. The dispatch quoted the Budapest correspondent of the Svenska Dagbladet, who in turn quoted Ankara reports.

The Berlin correspondent of the Svenska Dagbladet was quoted in a radio broadcast as saying that Stalin had agreed to meet with Mr. Roosevelt and Churchill only if Britain could provide evidence of a wrecked Berlin.

REPORT COUP PLANNED

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP).—An anti-Hitler group of old line Junker Germans, according to reports from inside Germany, is awaiting the psychological moment to attempt a government coup.

In London this group is viewed as likely to seize power on any suggestion of merciful peace terms that may come from any meeting of Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt, and Premier Stalin.

The reports, which come thru channels considered reliable altho

British Smash Nazis' Italian Coast Anchor

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 30 (AP).—Gen. Montgomery's 8th army shattered the eastern anchor of the Germans' "winter line" across Italy today, capturing the whole of Sangro ridge and driving the enemy out of a huge bridgehead north and west of the Sangro river that extended at least 15 miles inland from the sea.

Climaxing 48 hours of continuous, bitter fighting, the veteran 8th drove forward in a smashing advance which threatened to turn the flank of the enemy's entire defense system shielding Rome.

Two Bridgeheads Now Joined.

"The whole of the high ridge which overlooks and dominates the Sangro valley is now in our hands," the allied command announced tonight in a special bulletin. "The two bridgeheads on the Adriatic side of the coast have now been joined up to form one large penetration in the enemy's defensive positions. [One bridgehead had been near the Adriatic and the other inland near Archi.]

"Our troops have broken deep into the main enemy winter line and enemy counter-attacks during the afternoon have all been beaten off."

In today's advance Montgomery's warriors swept thru four more towns—Fossacesia, Villa Santa Maria, Mozzagrogna, and Romagnoli—bringing to 12 the number of towns and villages taken since they opened their attack before daylight last Sunday.

Twenty Miles from Pescara.

Montgomery's spearheads at last reports were only about 20 miles from the important Adriatic seaport of Pescara, whence a major highway cuts directly across the Italian peninsula to Rome.

American units of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's 5th army fought their way forward one mile on an inland sector of the line to seize the town of Castelnuovo, northwest of Montaquilla. Fighting in this area was described as heavy, with the Nazis' artillery bombardments increasing in violence.

[Tuesday's German war bulletin said "the enemy yesterday [Monday] launched its expected attack after fierce artillery preparation and with the support of very powerful air formations. The attack was launched against the eastern sector in the Sangro valley. Fierce battles are still in full swing. From remaining sectors of the front, local attacks, carried out by fairly weak enemy forces, were repelled."]

Lay Juvenile Misdeeds at Parents' Door

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—A corps of child guidance experts headed by Father E. J. Flanagan of Boys' Town today blamed parents for the mounting misdeeds of their children.

Parental neglect is the chief cause of a fast-increasing wave of juvenile delinquency, Flanagan told a special senate subcommittee investigating children's problems.

"Let's keep the mother in the kitchen where she belongs," urged Father Flanagan, founder and director of the nationally known home for boys near Omaha, Neb. "The present war is being fought primarily for future generations, and it would be a hollow victory if we were to sacrifice our children in the process of winning it.

Says Mother Serves at Home.

"A mother renders more invaluable service to her country right in the home than the most skilled riveter or machinist could ever contribute."

Judge Paul W. Alexander of Toledo, O., president of the Association of Juvenile Court Judges of America, and Dr. William Healey, Boston, Mass., of the Judge Baker Guidance center, echoed Father Flanagan's remarks on the importance of home environment.

Healey declared a primary parental duty is to overcome "natural tendencies of a boy to display he-man qualities by trying to surpass the deeds of some criminal character, and of a girl to indulge in romantic fantasies such as giving herself to a serviceman because she thinks he's entitled to all the pleasures she can provide."

Father Flanagan Defends Church.

Healey also commented, without elaboration, that he thought "the church hasn't done a good job" of handling the problem.

Father Flanagan turned from his prepared copy to dispute the statement, declaring "people who criticize the church don't know what they are talking about."

Katharine F. Lenroot, chief of the labor department's children's bureau, said federal funds should be provided to help local agencies rescue "thousands of children on the threshold of jail."

Britain Told of 421 Illegal Strikes in Its Coal Mines

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP).—Maj. Gwilym Lloyd George, minister of fuel, light, and power, told the house of commons today that from July 3 to Nov. 13, 421 unauthorized coal mine stoppages were reported to his ministry. They caused a production loss of 562,000 tons.

RADIO IN MOUNTAINS KEEPS FCC SLEUTHS UP IN AIR FOR YEAR

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 30 [Special].—Tucked away in the mountain town of Boone, N. C., population 1,788, a radio station operated intermittently for a year without a license until closed by federal agents last month.

The operator, Kermit Irvin Dacus, 33 years old, entered a plea of no contest before United States Judge Johnson J. Hayes at Wilkesboro Nov. 16 and was fined $300 and placed on probation.

The investigation was made by J. B. Meyers, who is in charge of the Raleigh office of the federal communications commission. He said Dacus, who had held an amateur license from the FCC, maintained a radio repair business and rigged up a station that went on the air for an hour each day, advertising the wares of Boone merchants.

The case caused FCC officials embarrassment because it took them so long to locate the station.

RELAY MESSAGE OF BATAAN YANK FROM JAP PRISON

Direct word from her son, a prisoner of war of the Japanese, reached Mrs. Harold T. Whitmer, 4943 Lake Park avenue, in a message picked up from a Tokio broadcast by Mrs. Howard Paul of Boise, Ida.

Mrs. Paul yesterday wired the Whitmer family she heard this radio message:

"Dear Mother and Dad: How are you? I am enjoying the best of health. Is Don at home? I hope this message finds you all well. Your loving son, Harold."

Mrs. Whitmer said she learned in September that her son, a private in the 200th coast artillery, was safe in a Jap prison at Camp Hoten, Manchukuo. A graduate of Tilden High school in 1938, he went to the Philippines in September, 1941, and was captured when Bataan fell. Mrs. Whitmer is secretary of the Illinois unit of the Bataan organization.

OPA Prying Is Held Illegal by U. S. Court

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 30 [Special].—Asserting he believes the war can be won without destroying the Bill of Rights, Federal Judge Peirson M. Hall today handed down a decision limiting the powers of the office of price administration in dismissing a treble damage suit brought by the OPA against a lumber company.

The ruling was made in a case brought by the OPA against the Glick Brothers Lumber company, in which the firm was sued for treble damages amounting to $34,695 for allegedly selling lumber in violation of OPA regulations.

Charge Illegal Seizure.

The lumber company, thru its attorney, Morris Lavine, charged that evidence was seized by the OPA investigators without legal authority; that the company was threatened with further drastic action by the OPA; that the statute under which the proceedings were brought is unconstitutional, vague, and indefinite; and that congress had not authorized the OPA to conduct "fishing expeditions" into people's private business.

In granting the motion for dismissal and ordering seized evidence returned, Judge Hall said:

"I am mindful of the arguments made by the government for the necessity of maintaining guards against inflation; but at the same time I cannot escape the thought that the Bill of Rights was written into the Constitution of the United States by men who had just fought a war. I think they were just as conscious of the necessity for winning wars as we are today.

No Trespass Right.

"The OPA has no right, either in a civil or criminal case, to go into a man's place of business or his home and examine or take away his business or personal records.

"In granting this motion to suppress the evidence, we are not cutting off the hands of the OPA officials from enforcing the law. They can enforce it in the way congress said they could enforce it. They can get evidence by subpena. They can get it in the way that every other case has to be prosecuted by the government—under the terms and limits of the Constitution."

John Charles Thomas Ill; Concert Called Off

Boston, Mass., Nov. 30 (AP).—John Charles Thomas, Metropolitan opera baritone and radio star, became ill today and his scheduled concert at Symphony hall tonight has been canceled, Aaron Richmond, concert manager, announced. Dr. William B. Robbins reported Thomas apparently was suffering from food poisoning.

OPA DISCLOSES LOWER RATION POINT VALUES

Butter to Remain at Present Figure.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Thru a lowering of ration point values, civilians will be able to buy 30 per cent more meat in December than in November, Price Administrator Chester Bowles said tonight in a radio address.

Bowles said beef ration point values will be reduced 2 or 3 points a pound, that some meats will be made ration free, and that the 2 points a pound reduction on pork Nov. 19 will be retained.

Bowles' statement confirmed an exclusive story in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE Nov. 23 forecasting reductions in meat point values which become effective Dec. 5.

Butter Remains at 16.

Butter will continue to rate 16 points a pound, Bowles said, because supplies still are inadequate to permit a return to last summer's level of 10 points. He said the high point value is necessary to assure fair distribution of butter supplies thruout the country.

Warning against expectations the winter meat ration would continue at the December level, Bowles said:

"Altho there's going to be about 30 per cent more meat for each of us during December, there's no guaranteeing how long this extra supply may last. We may have to raise point values again in January or perhaps in February. And, much as I hate to say it, by spring, I believe, our meat supplies are going to be definitely less than they are today."

Bowles observed that the OPA's release of more meat for civilian tables is well timed for the Christmas season.

Reviewing the meat supply situation, Bowles denied news reports that there are 80 million head of cattle in the country, enough to supply civilians without rationing.

40 Million Beef Cattle.

"With stories like that flying around, it's no wonder you folks get confused," he said. "Here are the facts. On Jan. 1, it is true, we should have 80 or 81 million head of cattle and calves. But here's the catch. More than 40 million of those cattle, or 50 per cent, are dairy cattle. About 40 million are actually beef cattle. And of these, 19 million are reserved for breeding purposes."

The OPA today announced it will permit merchants to cut ration points on canned and frozen foods when they desire to sell stocks to prevent spoilage. The point cut can be effected only if the prices are reduced at least 25 per cent.

MIDWEST B GAS CUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The office of price administration today increased the maximum B gasoline ration allowance for eastern motorists five miles a month and reduced it 20 miles a month for midwestern and western motorists.

The OPA said that effective tomorrow, the occupational mileage ceiling for motorists who use their cars in their work will be raised in the east from 320 miles a month to 325 miles, and will be cut from 480 to 460 in the rest of the country. The OPA said changes are necessitated by the issuance of new type B and C gasoline coupons with a unit value of 5 gallons, instead of the present 2 gallons in the east and midwest and 3 gallons in the far west.

16 Coupons in B Books.

The new B books in the midwest will contain 16 coupons of 5 gallons each, or 80 gallons for a three month period. They will give motorists 1,200 miles of driving at the rate of 15 miles a gallon, or 400 miles a month. With 60 miles a month allotted from the A book for occupational driving, the total is 460 miles a month.

In the east the new B book will contain 13 coupons of 5 gallons each, giving the motorist 975 miles for the three month period or 325 miles a month.

Slot Machine King Is Seized in Hotel Chase

Eddie Vogel, elusive slot machine boss for the Guzik-Humphreys syndicate, sought vainly for two years by grand juries and police, was captured yesterday in a wild foot race thru the crowded lobby, dining room, and kitchen of the Chicagoan hotel, 67 West Madison street.

Eddie Vogel.

His captors were John McGinnis, new chief of the county highway police, and Sgts. Jack Burke and Frank Hart of McGinnis' staff, who went to the hotel on a tip Vogel was there after a long absence from Chicago.

They waited in the mezzanine until Vogel, healthy looking and immaculately dressed, entered the lobby. Sgt. Burke took him by the arm.

Startled, Vogel broke away and the chase was on.

Dining Room Upset.

Vogel ran thru the lobby into the dining room, with the policemen in pursuit. Men diners stared and women shrieked as chairs and tables were upset. Then the fleeing slot machine king ran into the kitchen, endangering himself and the chefs amid cooking stews, soups, and other edibles.

From the kitchen, Vogel darted into a narrow passageway and disappeared. Chief McGinnis spied a door at the end of the passage and jerked it open. There, puffing in a chair in a bus boys' restroom, sat Vogel, confident that he had won. He surrendered.

Almost as quickly as he was seized, he was released, but he did not win freedom until he had been summoned to appear before the grand jury today.

While Vogel was being taken first to the county highway police station at Homewood and then to the state's attorney's office, his lawyer, George Bieber, petitioned Chief Justice Benjamin P. Epstein of the Criminal court for a writ of habeas corpus. Vogel was taken before Justice Epstein, who ordered him booked or released by 10 p. m.

Escapes Questioning.

Vogel was not questioned and had little to say except to call to his attorney, "Let's get out of here."

Since October, 1941, when THE TRIBUNE published record sheets of the Vogel-Guzik syndicate showing payments of some $300,000 a year to politicians, fixers, policemen, and others, Vogel had been a consistent absentee from police and grand jury inquiries. He never could be found when wanted, and grand jury after grand jury failed to question him. He was particularly wanted by the October grand jury in its sensational gambling probe, and still is wanted by the current grand jury.

Police Trials Pressed.

Meanwhile, the grand jury was reported to have expressed impatience over city hall delay in preferring formal charges against nine police captains suspended as a result of the October grand jury's gambling quiz. Five have already been reinstated because charges had not been filed within the required 30 day period.

Earl Downes, assistant corporation counsel in charge of drawing up the complaints, sought to explain that the process was necessarily slow, but the grand jury, in a stormy session, ordered more haste and warned that it otherwise would supersede civil service action by indicting some of the policemen for malfeasance.

Central district police yesterday raided an alleged handbook in room 602 at 155 North Wabash avenue, where they arrested Frank Rudich, 38, of 1502 South Kedvale avenue. They said there were 14 telephones in the room, and that Rudich was taking bets over them.

EXPECT SCHOOL WORKER STRIKE IN N. Y. TODAY

New York, Nov. 30 [Special].—A strike of service and maintenance employes in the city's 700 schools, called by local 112 of the School Custodial Workers, an affiliate of the United Construction Workers, will go into effect tomorrow morning, Leon Zwicker, regional director of the USW, announced tonight.

G. O. P. NOMINEE WINS EASILY IN KENTUCKY VOTE

Predicts 1944 Sweep

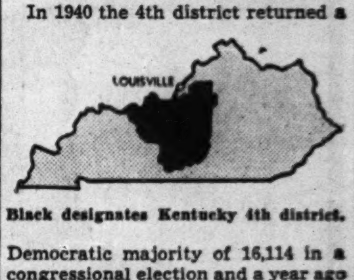
Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—Harrison E. Spangler, chairman of the Republican national committee, after hearing returns tonight from the special congressional election in Kentucky, commented: "It becomes increasingly evident that whatever the President's intentions are respecting a fourth term, the Republicans will sweep the nation in 1944."

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 30 [Special].—Kentucky today followed up its Nov. 2 Republican sweep on governor and other state officials by electing a Republican congressman in a runaway race in a traditionally Democratic district.

Chester O. Carrier.

Chester O. Carrier, a Leitchfield Republican, defeated J. Dan Talbott, Bardstown Democrat, by 12,598 votes in a special election for congressman in the 4th district. Complete unofficial returns gave Carrier 29,832 votes and Talbott 17,234. The election was held to fill a vacancy created by the death of Rep. E. W. Creal, Hodgenville Democrat, who had served since 1935.

In 1940 the 4th district returned a



Black designates Kentucky 4th district.

Democratic majority of 16,114 in a congressional election and a year ago in the off-year election it showed a Democratic margin of 4,856.

"Worn Out with New Deal."

Carrier, for 18 years Grayson county attorney, made this comment on his victory: "It is evident that even the Democrats are getting worn out with the New Deal."

The 4th district, in central Kentucky, embraces 19 counties. The Democrats carried two of them. They were Meade, where Talbott won by three votes as against the customary Democratic margin of 600 to 1,000 votes, and Nelson, Talbott's home county, where he won by 505 votes. Nelson county usually goes Democratic by 1,000 to 3,000.

Carrier's triumph gave Kentucky a second Republican congressman. The other one, John M. Robsion of Barbourville, in the 9th district, has been serving since 1932.

Republicans tonight regarded Carrier's election as emphasizing the Nov. 2 Republican sweep in which Simeon S. Willis of Ashland was elected governor and the Republican state ticket, except for secretary of state, won. Willis will be inaugurated next Tuesday.

A Power in the Party.

Talbott, the loser today, has been a power in the Democratic party. He was state auditor in 1931 and in 1935 played an important part in the election as governor of A. B. [Happy] Chandler, now a senator.

Sen. Alben W. Barkley, a Democratic leader, had urged the election of Talbott, saying his defeat would "be widely misunderstood and misinterpreted." Sen. Chandler and Gov. Keen Johnson also supported Talbott.

Carrier's victory was attributed in part to the voters' resentment against burocratic interference, price regulations, gasoline rationing, government in business, and other New Deal manifestations.

SLAVES OF JAPS FREE TODAY AS LINER ARRIVES

Writer Who Got Away Awaits Gripsholm.

[Miss Dew, the only American woman newspaper correspondent accredited in the far east when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, was taken prisoner at Hongkong. She returned to this country Aug. 25, 1942, on the Gripsholm in the first Japanese exchange of American prisoners.]

BY GWEN DEW.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 30.—They who have been in human bondage tomorrow will become free men and women once more.

Gwen Dew.

From Japan, China, and the Philippines they have come, from prison cells, concentration camps and hospital wards. Hungry, sick, ragged, most of them. Mistreated, diseased, tortured, many of them. Homesick and heartsick, all of them.

They are Americans who stayed at their posts until their flag came down. Yet they have been treated as animals and criminals by the grinning hordes of Jap captors with their shiny sharp bayonets.

They have been insulted, slapped, knocked down. They have lived on fish heads, rotten buffalo meat, rice filled with worms and weevils. They have existed in degradation and dirt.

Land in N. Y. Today.

Tomorrow in New York these repatriates will march down the gangplank of the exchange ship Gripsholm to freedom, released from the blood-stained hands of the murderous little mad men of Nippon. They have glory in their souls, reverence in their hearts, and unashamed tears in their eyes.

I know very well how they feel, you see, for little more than a year ago I walked slowly down the gangplank of that same mercy ship, savoring each move toward freedom. With each step I tried to free myself of memories; of hungry American and British children digging for fallen rice kernels in the dirt of a concentration camp; of lines of British soldier dead with their hands tied and bayonet wounds in their hearts; of the horror in the eyes of woman and girls who were gang-raped in brutality and bestiality.

Marched Thru British Dead.

I was taken prisoner by the Japs in Hongkong on Dec. 24, 1941. Two hundred of us were marched 10 miles over the mountains, thru lines of dead British soldiers, men who had died that we might live. On Christmas eve we were pushed into a filthy, looted paint factory, and there we had to lie on the floor in indescribable vileness, waiting for Christmas day to come. As we were herded into imprisonment we were told:

"You are now a prisoner of Japan. Any infringement of our rule will be punishable by military law, which means death."

That was the rule under which I lived until my exchange six months later. That is the law under which these returning Americans have lived for almost two years.

It should have been the happiest day of our lives as we sailed from the far east on that exchange ship.

It was the saddest, for we left behind our friends and allies, waiting for us to came back with help. Since then they have searched the empty skies for American planes. They have scanned the horizon for allied ships. They have prayed for deliverance. Today some of them are being liberated and already their eyes have seen the coming glory of freedom. But the Japs still hold 280,000 allied prisoners, including 15,000 Americans. They, too, are waiting for help to come before it is too late.

They have watched the allied flags come down—the British, Chinese, Dutch, and American. They have closed their eyes in agony as the rising sun has taken its place over the second largest empire in the world; over 500 million enslaved people; over 1 million square miles of territory of which we have regained, only 1,000 miles in 19 months of fighting.

There are 18 stretcher cases on the Gripsholm. There have been two deaths on the way home. What other tales of tragedy and mistreatment are there among those repatriates? How will I find those I left behind? I know what six months of being a Jap prisoner did to me. I shudder to think what almost two years of imprisonment has done to these people. Tomorrow will tell.

The campaign of THE TRIBUNE to interest the public in the plight of the war's forgotten men—the men who must spend Christmas in army or navy hospitals—has caught the imagination of Chicago and the surrounding states.

Altho the "Adopt a Yank in Sick Bay" movement was announced only last Sunday, about 1,500 requests for the names of wounded and sick soldiers and sailors have been received. Many are multiple requests. One organization asked for 100 names. One individual requested 13.

But the need is great, for the army and navy hospitals of the Chicago area have many thousands of patients, and if you would care to share a little of your Christmas happiness with one or more of these men—and by sharing it, greatly augment it—you are invited to send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Adopt a Yank Editor, Tribune Tower, Chicago. Enclose a note saying how many Yanks you will care for.

Fill Out Slips in Hospitals.

In a few days you will receive the requested number of slips, which are being filled out by patients in the hospitals and sent to THE TRIBUNE.

Each slip will bear the name and address of a wounded or sick soldier or sailor, and perhaps a few suggestions from him as to what he would like for Christmas. You then will choose a gift and wrap it and send it direct to your adopted Yank in hospital, putting your name and address on the package so he will know whom to thank. The gift can be an inexpensive one. The fact that he is remembered, not the money value of the gift, is the thing which will raise the sick Yank's spirits.

Parents with sons in the service are among those who are sending in for names.

Own Son Overseas.

"Our boy is somewhere overseas," one mother wrote, "so we want to help make some other boy happy for Christmas. Thank you for this opportunity to express in a small way our appreciation for what these men have done and are doing for us."

"I have two sons in service, one of them in the thick of it in the Southwest Pacific," another woman wrote, "and should any one show the least kindness to my boys it would make me very happy."

The civilian's sense of obligation to our fighting men—especially to those who have sustained an injury or contracted an illness as a result of their service — is a recurring theme in the letters.

Many men and women who "adopted" Yanks in THE TRIBUNE'S campaign of two years ago, when 21,000 men in training camps received gifts from civilian well wishers, are joining in the present movement. Some of them stress the permanent friendships which grew out of the earlier campaign.

Friendships Still Endure.

One couple wrote: "We still correspond with our 'adopted' Yank from two years ago."

A man declared that the soldier and sailor he "adopted" have remained his close friends thru correspondence, even tho the soldier now is in Sicily and the sailor has been around the world.

The army and navy are coöperating [navy hospitals admit marines and coast guardsmen, as well as sailors]. Typical of the reactions of officials is this quotation from a letter from Lt. Col. I. J. Frisch, public relations officer of the Schick General hospital, Clinton, Ia.:

"I am quite sure that the present campaign will bring much joy to those who otherwise will be unable to participate in the holiday spirit."

GEN. VANDEGRIFT NAMED HEAD OF MARINE CORPS

Washington, D. C. Nov. 30 (AP).—Lt. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift today was appointed commandant of the marine corps, effective Jan. 1, succeeding Lt. Gen. Thomas Holcomb, retiring because of age. Announcement of the appointment was made by the secretary of the navy.

Holcomb reached the normal retirement age of 64 last August, but President Roosevelt requested that he remain in his present post until the end of this year.

Vandegrift, at 56, is a veteran of 34 years of service in the marines. He was in the southwest Pacific when the President decided to appoint him commandant.

Yanks Like to Present Black Nighties, but Alas!

Fort Benning, Ga., Nov. 30 (AP).—The infantry post exchange is sorry, but it can't produce those black nightgowns and negligees such as soldiers sent home as gifts last Christmas. Heavy orders for black underwear were placed in anticipation of calls for such gifts, but only a few pieces have been delivered. The exchange advised it had a good assortment of candy.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS; DEATH PROBED. Police are investigating the death in County hospital Monday of Martin Cummings, 50 years old, 14 South Halsted street. He was found unconscious near his home Nov. 18 and was unable to tell how he was injured.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

CHICAGO AREA'S WAR CONTRACTS SAFE FOR MONTH

Still No. 2 Labor Market; 48 Hr. Week Extended.

Chicago war plants yesterday were assured of contract renewals and new contracts for at least a month. William H. Spencer, regional war man power commission director, announced that the area will remain in the No. 2 labor market classification during December.

Spencer extended the 48 hour work week to the Milwaukee-Kenosha, Wis., and Springfield-Decatur, Ill., areas. The compliance deadline set for these areas is Jan. 16. In Milwaukee, the order met strong opposition from labor and industry and was termed premature.

Spencer said that with application of the 48 hour week, ordered last Friday, he is confident Chicago, the nation's leading war production center on a tonnage basis, can stay out of the No. 1 group.

Reason for 48 Hour Week.

By remaining in the No. 2 class, Chicago is eligible for new contracts and contract renewals. A No. 1, or acute labor shortage, area cannot renew contracts or obtain additional contracts that can be placed elsewhere.

Spencer said he ordered the 48 hour week for this area to prevent a No. 1 reclassification.

The Milwaukee order embraces the counties of Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Waukesha, and Washington. Harry J. Bell, executive director of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce, declared the extended work week is not necessary for that area, and that he will ask Spencer to rescind the order.

Kenosha industrialists and labor leaders said that 80 per cent of the area's industry already is on a 48 hour week, under a voluntary program adopted early this year.

In the Springfield-Decatur area, a labor shortage was reported, but estimates of the extent of the shortage were not available. Plant executives said they did not think the shortage was acute.

Richmond Area Now No. 1.

Spencer announced that the Richmond [Ind.] area has been reclassified as No. 1 in the list of groupings issued yesterday by the WMC. This area includes the cities of Muncie, Richmond, Kokomo, Connersville, Marion, Anderson, and Newcastle.

Union and industrial leaders in Muncie declared there is no serious labor shortage in that area.

The new WMC listings also raised Waukegan, Freeport, and Moline, Ill., from No. 3 to No. 2 areas. These areas are reported under consideration for a 48 hour week.

Rear Adm. Downes Goes on Retired List Today

Rear Adm. John Downes, commandant of the 9th naval district, goes on the retired list of the navy today, but retains his post as district commandant, with headquarters at Great Lakes naval training station. He will remain on duty until Jan. 3, when Rear Adm. Arthur Schuyler Carpender is to take command, and when ceremonies are planned in tribute to Adm. Downes. There was no observance of his retirement date yesterday.

FALLS DEAD ON STREET.

Gus Brandebury, 56 years old, 1542 East 67th place, fell dead of a heart attack in front of 31 East Van Buren street last night. He was a plant foreman for the Illinois Bell Telephone company, and had been with the company 35 years.

Scores Two Points

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Mrs. Lincoln Berri, St. Louis, Mo., stenographer, with letter from OPA thanking her for suggesting consumers be allowed ration points in exchange for salvaged grease. OPA announced later that two points per pound will be given starting Dec. 13.

St. Louis, Nov. 30 (AP).—Mrs. Lincoln Berri, a stenographer, is confident she started the ball rolling in Washington. Last September she wrote a letter to the President suggesting housewives receive meat ration points in exchange for waste kitchen fats and greases. The office of price administration recently announced beginning Dec. 13 two points would be given for each pound of grease. Today Mrs. Berri received a letter from L. A. Bauman, acting chief of the fats and oils branch of OPA's food rationing division, expressing thanks for her suggestion.

OPA RATIONING OF GRAPEFRUIT JUICE TO CEASE

There is so much canned grapefruit juice available for civilian use that it will be released very soon from rationing, the OPA said yesterday. More than 100 million cans have been released by the war food administration from government-held stocks. Current value of a large can is 3 points.

* *

Because none of the ration boards in Chicago exhausted its November quota of heating and cooking stoves, December quotas have been slashed 40 per cent, Michael F. Mulcahy, area director of the OPA, said. The December allotment includes 2,980 heating and 1,439 cooking stoves, compared with 5,046 and 3,021, respectively, for November. The total allotment for the entire metropolitan area is 7,285, compared with 11,592 last month.

* *

Car owners eligible for used tires may obtain tires made principally of reclaimed rubber, starting Saturday. Recapping of commercial vehicle tires with truck-type camelback rubber will be removed from rationing.

* *

Luggage of all kinds, except toilet kits or fitted cases with accessories, must bear a tag showing the retail ceiling when offered for sale in stores, starting today, the OPA said. The tag also must contain the selling price if it differs from the ceiling, the manufacturer's lot number, and the size of the piece. Physicians' bags, sample cases, and trunks are included.

All Allied Ship Losses Replaced, U. S. Asserts

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—The allied nations have made good all merchant ship tonnage losses since the start of the European war, the navy department said today. This point in shipbuilding progress, it was said, was reached on Thanksgiving day.

150,000 FACING LAY-OFFS FROM MUNITIONS CUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Retrenchment of the munitions program in the next 90 days will release a maximum of 150,000 workers from war jobs thruout the nation, a war man power commission spokesman said today. He said the lay-offs will be offset by the demand for 500,000 workers in other key industries in the next five or six weeks.

"We are not concerned about unemployment developing in communities where war contracts have been terminated or curtailed," the WMC official said.

Serious Adjustments.

"The people laid off can get jobs. There may be serious adjustments in some small communities where the curtailed war contractor is the largest employer. But as a whole, we will be able to place all the available workers and we will need more."

The WMC said 60,000 more workers are needed in the coal mines, 60,000 in the lumber industry, 9,000 in meat packing plants, 80,000 in radar plants, and thousands more in smelters, foundries, forges, ball bearing plants, shipyards, synthetic rubber, and aviation gas industries.

Reductions in War Work.

It said reductions in war work have occurred in Salt Lake City, Utah; Denver, Colo.; Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo.; Des Moines, Ia.; Lowell, Mass.; Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn., and Milwaukee, Wis.

Officials said the WMC is notified promptly by government procurement agencies of impending contract curtailments and steps are taken to place the released workers in new jobs.

ENDS LIFE WITH SCISSORS.

Mrs. Anna Haines, 57 years old, 3626 McLean avenue, ended her life yesterday by slashing her throat with a scissors, police said. Her husband, Fred, a tool maker, found his wife dead when he returned from work. He told police she had been bedridden for nearly a year.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 30 (AP).—A. J. Cermak, mayor of Chicago, who was fatally wounded in Florida in 1933 in the attempted assassination of President Elect Roosevelt, was honored today when a Liberty ship named for him was launched at the Bethlehem-Fairfield shipyards. The S. S. Cermak was the 21st such ship constructed at the yard this month and raised total launchings at the shipyard to 254. Miss Evelyn Mlatek of Chicago, named "Miss Liberty" in a war bond drive conducted by the Czech-American National Alliance of Chicago, sponsored the Cermak.

OPA HERE HIRING 96 SNOOPERS FOR NEW CAMPAIGN

The 96 "specialized commodity investigators" to be added by the office of price administration in the Chicago region will be paid annual salaries of $3,150 to $4,400 each, including overtime, and the three "commodity analysts" will draw down $5,000 each, Raymond S. McKeough, regional director, said yesterday.

McKeough said a "saving" of $326,280 in the annual budget, obtained by reductions in the Washington and regional staffs, had been allocated to hire 800 new investigators and analysts, to be added to the 2,200 now on the pay roll, with 99 going to the Chicago region.

COLORADO FREE FOR G.O.P. CHOICE, GOVERNOR SAYS

Vivian Doubts Decision Before Convention.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Gov. John C. Vivian of Colorado said yesterday that sentiment on Presidential candidates in his state has not crystalized, and that the attitude of Colorado is that its 15 delegates will probably be noncommittal until they get to the Republican national convention. The governor came to Chicago to address the Rotary club in Hotel Sherman on "State's Rights," of which he is an ardent advocate. Afterward, in a talk to the press, he sketched the political situation in his state.

Gov. John C. Vivian.

"There is no sentiment in Colorado for anybody as yet," he said. "Colorado is traditionally slow to get on any bandwagon, and the boys generally do not make up their minds on candidates until they get to the convention.

Colorado Free of Ties.

"Wendell Willkie spoke at a luncheon yesterday at which I was present. He had a great crowd and good reception. But nobody is committed to anybody. John Hamilton, former national chairman, has been thru the state to look over trends. An emissary of ex-Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, now a lieutenant commander in the navy, has been in the state. Bricker [governor of Ohio] is not so well known as yet.

"Our state will welcome all candidates. Bricker would get just as large a reception as Willkie, and other candidates likewise. Colorado has not made up its mind, there is no crystalization of sentiment, no commitments—that is the attitude of the state."

Gov. Vivian, a forthright person who served with the United States marines in World War I., spoke of the governors of states as a powerful group in future Presidential politics. He spoke of several who have been mentioned for the Republican nomination, among them Governors Earl Warren, California; Dwight H. Green, Illinois; Leverett Saltonstall, Massachusetts; Harry F. Kelly, Michigan; Thomas E. Dewey, New York; Joseph W. Bricker, Ohio, and Raymond E. Baldwin. Connecticut.

Good String of Governors.

"And," he said, "between Chicago and Colorado is a string of good governors—good timber: Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, Andrew Shoeppel of Kansas, Dwight Griswold of Nebraska."

In the Rocky mountain area, Vivian himself, who did not speak of this, is mentioned for a place on the national ticket, while Kentucky Republicans are starting a boom for Gov. Elect Simeon S. Willis, who is to be inaugurated next week, for vice president.

Vivian, who won the Colorado governorship a year ago after two terms as lieutenant governor in which he made a real job out of that post, last March called a halt on the drafting of farm youths from his state.

LANDON ASSAILS JOINT STAND ON FOREIGN POLICY

Holds It Leads to One Party System.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican Presidential candidate, tonight warned it would be dangerous to the two party system for the Democrats and Republicans to unite on a foreign policy declaration in advance of next year's election. Such a suggestion was made recently by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

In an off the record speech tonight before freshmen Republican congressmen, Landon said such a move would be a drift in the direction of "one party government," and asserted a two party system is essential to democratic principles.

"Roosevelt Doesn't Stand."

According to members present, Landon also said it would be almost impossible for Republicans to join with President Roosevelt on a foreign policy stand "because he doesn't stand still long enough."

Republicans should be wary, Landon said, of indorsing the recent Moscow pacts until they are fully informed of all agreements made there. Reports indicated, he said, that Russia did not yield an inch on her earlier demands for post-war domination of Poland and other Baltic states.

Predicting the people will elect a Republican President and a Republican congress next year, Landon said the elections earlier this month show the country is sick of New Deal Waste and inefficiency and, especially, of what he termed its "totalitarianism."

Didn't Pick Candidate.

Landon, those present said, did not indorse any particular Republican Presidential aspirant. He was asked about assertions by Wendell Willkie that Willkie can have the nomination if he wants it, and replied this was a spurious claim. Nobody is assured of the nomination at this time, he said.

DON'T BE FOOLED BY WILLKIE, SAYS LA FOLLETTE AID

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 30 [Special].—Labor unions and labor leaders of Wisconsin, wooed by Wendell L. Willkie, defeated 1940 Republican Presidential candidate, during his recent visit here, were warned today by Walter D. Corrigan Sr., to "take a good look at Willkie's labor record before they get taken in."

Corrigan, a lawyer known thruout Wisconsin, was a pioneer in the state's Progressive movement. A close friend of the late United States Sen. Robert M. La Follette Sr., he has acted as legal counsel for the La Follette family on many occasions.

The Progressive leader said he has "a profound conviction" the Progressive movement has done more for labor, and also for the farmer, than any other political force in the country. "Willkie's record with labor illustrates what is obvious to me, that his claims of being Progressive on his recent visit to Wisconsin are not, and cannot be established," said the lawyer.

Wisconsin Knows Progressives.

"I am sure he will not be able to carry any support with Wisconsin Progressives. They know a Progressive when they see one, and are not easily misled."

Corrigan said "Willkie had conferred with several labor leaders in the hope of obtaining their support for his 1940 candidacy. In view of his labor record when chairman of the board of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, billion dollar utility chain, as divulged by the La Follette civil liberties committee [United States Sen. Robert M. La Follette Jr. [P., Wis.], how could he look them in the eye?" the lawyer asked.

Corrigan said the La Follette report covering 1934-'36 showed Willkie's Georgia Power company "spent more than $31,000 on labor spies from Pinkerton's, which also serviced Alabama Power, another Willkie subsidiary of that day.

Willkie Firms as Clients.

The Corporation Auxiliary company, the largest espionage agency devoted solely to industrial work, numbered among its clients three Willkie companies: Consumers Power of Michigan, Ohio Edison, and Pennsylvania Power. The La Follette committee was unable to learn the amount of money spent in a number of instances, and the picture may be incomplete in other respects, since many firms and agencies destroyed their records to conceal their activities.

Corrigan said the testimony before the La Follette committee showed Commonwealth and Southern had been extremely versatile in the range of its anti-labor activities. He stated that it hired labor spies, bought tear gas, promoted company unions, coerced and intimidated union employes, and in other ways, manifested hostility to the self-organization of its employes.

Strife Marks Record.

"Under Willkie it had a record marked by bitter strife, including several strikes, and revealing flagrant and repeated violations of employes' rights," Corrigan said.

"In view of this record how can Willkie stand up and say he is a member of big business who never hired a labor spy in his life?" Corrigan asked. "Either he didn't know what was going on, an obvious impossibility for an opportunist with such a sharp eye, or he is not telling the truth."

Corrigan said Willkie claims to have been the first big business man to sign a contract with CIO, a contract for the employes of Consumers Power which he signed with John L. Lewis in 1937. "What he does not tell in connection with this is that it required a strike which stopped electrical service for several hours in a number of Michigan cities to get Wendell Willkie's signature on the contract," the lawyer asserted.

"If Willkie wants to claim any distinction in this direction it should be that of being the first big utility man to have a CIO strike," Corrigan said. "Furthermore, the contract had scarcely been signed when the company launched a counter-offensive.

REPORT REP. HALLECK TO HEAD REPUBLICAN GROUP IN CONGRESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Leading Republican congressmen reported today that Rep. Charles A. Halleck [R., Ind.] is slated to be named chairman of the Republican National Congressional committee to succeed Rep. J. William Ditter [R., Pa.], who was killed last week in an airplane crash.

Rep. Halleck.

The committee, composed of one congressman from each state, works for the election of Republican candidates and plans to carry on an active campaign next year to turn the present Republican minority in congress into the majority party.

Halleck, 43 years old, has served the house since 1935, and is a member of the house rules and interstate commerce committee. A native of Indiana, he lives in Rensselaer and is a World war veteran and a lawyer.

OBSERVERS PICK KENNELLY FOR JOB OF SHERIFF

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

All indications yesterday were that Martin H. Kennelly, prominent business man and civic leader, will be the new sheriff of Cook county to succeed the late Peter B. Carey.

Kennelly talked to State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney and was told by his old friend that an offer of the job was likely. Courtney also did some missionary work in trying to persuade Kennelly that he ought to take the office as a public duty, it was reported.

To a reporter Kennelly's attitude was that he had not been offered the position and hence could not be expected to make any decision. But he left an impression that he was not entirely averse to the job, despite his many business interests. And he seemed to believe that the sheriff's office is not necessarily a "hot spot" if properly handled.

Selection Passed to Courtney.

President Clayton F. Smith of the county board, which will appoint Carey's successor soon, perhaps within a few days, said that the matter reposes in his hands. When he said that he had suggested getting Kennelly he was asked why an offer was not plainly made.

"Courtney was the man to do that," Smith replied.

Observers deduced that Smith had authorized the state's attorney to make the offer, but in such guarded language that no one would lose face if the plan went awry.

Kelly Indorses Kennelly.

Before leaving for Florida, Mayor Kelly put his stamp of approval on Kennelly at a meeting of the new advisory subcommittee of the Democratic central committee. From this stemmed a flurry of rumors that the Kelly-Courtney feud had given way to an era of sweetness and light. This is far from the fact, altho the Kennelly offer is still regarded by many as a substantial olive branch.

Kennelly said he was not interested in patronage. Others are, however, and in the sheriff's office it amounts to about 800 jobs.

Mayor Kelly appointed Kennelly to a three year term on the first Chicago park district board and holds a high opinion of him.

Kennelly a Business Man.

In 1944, Kennelly is expected to direct again the American Red Cross drive, which he successfully headed this year. He is a former president of the Chicago Athletic association and of the Chicago Traffic club, and a former vice president of the Chicago Association of Commerce. He is president of the Werner Brothers-Kennelly Warehouse company.

Resigning his $20,000 a year post as chairman of the executive board of the Consumers company in 1941, after four years as a federal trustee, Kennelly told the directors how a loss of $114,000 for 1939 had been turned into a $60,000 profit for 1940, and added:

"Greater gratification comes in the knowledge that for the last four years no politician's name has been on your pay rolls. In the four years of our stewardship we have not solicited or accepted business on a political basis."

Col. J. F. Davis Confirmed as a Brigadier General

Col. John F. Davis, chief of staff of the 6th service command, was notified yesterday that the United States senate has confirmed his promotion to the rank of brigadier general, effective Nov. 3. Gen. Davis had been a colonel since June 26, 1941. He was made chief of staff here Dec. 17, 1942. He lives at 526 Arlington place.

CHICAGO TO GET WILLKIE EXPOSE BOOK THIS WEEK

The first shipment of 1,000 copies of "One Man—Wendell Willkie" is expected to be available in downtown book stores tomorrow or Friday, according to J. O. Stoll company of Chicago, the distributors in this area.

"The first 1,000 copies are due Wednesday," Stoll said. "They will be alloted to some downtown stores and railroad stations. The New York publishers are promising additional deliveries shortly."

Like Willkie's book, "One World," the one telling the story of his 1940 nomination is a slim volume selling for $1. Written by C. Nelson Sparks, former mayor of Akron, O., where Willkie was a railroad lawyer, the story charges that Willkie's backers had "a roomful of money" at the Philadelphia convention and that he had thoroly committed himself to take the United States into war on the side of Great Britain before the nomination.

MOVE TO DRAFT COL. M'CORMICK FOR PRESIDENCY

G. O. P. Revival Group to Circulate Petitions.

Two actions by the executive committee of the Republican Nationalist Revival committee were announced last night after a closed session of 24 members in headquarters at 82 West Washington street:

1. Appointment of a subcommittee to arrange for the printing and distribution of 10,000 petitions to draft Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, as a candidate in the Presidential preferential primary in Illinois.

2. Adoption of a resolution roundly condemning proposals originating with New Dealers for an identical foreign policy in Democratic and Republican platforms for 1944.

Rally Planned for Jan. 10.

Capt. William J. Grace, executive secretary, said the committee approved plans for receiving the "Draft McCormick" petitions at a public rally on Jan. 10, when the Republican national committeemen from all of the states are to be in Chicago to discuss the 1944 convention.

The subcommittee will start work on a mailing list today, he said. It is composed of former Rep. P. H. Moynihan, chairman; Capt. Grace, James Cullen, former member and auditor of the west park board; Miss Hazel Gustavson, regular Republican worker in the 48th ward, and Mrs. Martha Kryslak, treasurer of the Illinois Republican Women's club.

Among the executive committee members who spoke last night, said Capt. Grace, were David Stone, Illinois judge advocate of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Gustav Beerly of the 44th ward; the Rev. H. J. Brodt, pastor of the Peace Memorial church, an Evangelical Protestant congregation, and Mrs. Ruby Speakman, board member of the National Women's Republican club.

Action Is Unanimous.

The vote was unanimous in favor of the plan to circulate petitions, he said.

"With men being drafted to die for their country, certainly the people have the right to draft a man to lead their country back to solid Americanism," Grace said.

The resolution on foreign policy asserted that so-called internationalists recognize that if the issue is permitted to reach the people their creed will be repudiated. Resentment is now so great in both parties that only the "identical foreign policy" idea of the New Dealers, taken up by a few Republicans, can prevent a return to Americanism, it stated.

BERNICE COX.

The popular song, "He's 1-A in the Army and A-1 in My Heart" was paraphrased in Superior court yesterday when Bernice Cox, 19 years old, 124 South Paulina street, obtained a divorce from Clyde, 21, a filling station attendant who lives at 414 South Sangamon street.

"What's your husband's status in the draft?" Atty. Nathan M. Gomberg asked Mrs. Cox.

"He's 4-F, and he's also 4-F in my heart," she replied.

Mrs. Cox, who waived alimony, told Judge Joseph Sabath that Cox deserted her Oct. 15, 1942, eight months after they were married.

TOUHY, 2 OTHERS GET 199 YEARS IN PRISON BREAK

Roger Touhy, leader of the Touhy gang that spread terror in parts of Chicago and suburbs for several years, yesterday professed himself a much maligned and wronged man when Judge Roscoe C. South, in Will county Circuit court, added 199 years to his present 99 year prison term.

Touhy's sentence was lengthened as the penalty of his part in the daring escape of himself and six other convicts from the Illinois state prison in 1942. The 20 year terms of Matthew Nelson and William Stewart, sentenced for robbery, also were prolonged by 199 years each.

Touhy's 99 year sentence was for the kidnaping of John [Jake the Barber] Factor, which Touhy plaintively characterized as a gigantic frame-up.

Touhy, Nelson, and Stewart, who were recaptured, were convicted in September of aiding in the escape of Edward Darlak, who was serving a 199 year sentence for the murder of a Chicago policeman. Under Illinois law they were subject to the same term Darlak was serving.

ROB LAKE SHORE APARTMENT.

Theft of $100 and two rings valued at $800 from her apartment at 1400 Lake Shore drive was reported to Hudson avenue police last night by Mrs. Margaret Muckolls.

JURY FINES TWO COPS FOR SHOT INJURING SAILOR

Joseph Murray and William Hogan, suspended policemen charged with shooting Howard Darnell, a Great Lakes sailor, were found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon yesterday by a jury of nine women and three men in Judge Harold G. Ward's Criminal court.

The jury, which deliberated two hours, assessed fines of $800 each against the two. The verdict was reached under a new state law which permits juries to determine punishment in misdemeanor cases.

The two former policemen could have been sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 each on the misdemeanor count.

Called "Justice Miscarriage."

The verdict was assailed by First Assistant State's Atty. Wilbert F. Crowley and by James A. Brown, the assistant who prosecuted the case.

"It is a most unusual verdict," Crowley said. "The punishment certainly is inadequate." Brown termed it a "miscarriage of justice."

The state had sought conviction on a felony count, assault with intent to kill, which carries a 1 to 14 year prison sentence.

James M. Burke, defense attorney, said that he will confess judgment and furnish sureties in behalf of his clients, which process will allow them five months to pay the fine.

Judge Ward, in his charge, gave the jurors three choices: To acquit; to convict for assault to kill, which carries a sentence of 1 to 14 years in prison, or to convict of assault with a deadly weapon, which provides any part of a jail sentence up to one year, or a fine up to $1,000, or any parts of both.

Darnell was shot by Murray in a tavern at 2430 North Clark street last Aug. 31, while Darnell was on his way to report for active duty. He testified he had his hands up at the time. The shooting followed a dispute over the policemen's demands for his draft card.

The state sought to show that Murray and Hogan had been drinking, and that the shooting was without provocation.

The defense was, generally, self defense and accident. Murray, it was declared, fired his gun when he stumbled, and did not intend to shoot Darnell.

STEAL SHOPPER'S BABY BUGGY.

Mrs. R. G. Keller, 6453 Parnell avenue, told police that her baby buggy was stolen yesterday at 63d and Halsted streets when she left it on the sidewalk while shopping.

November Temperatures and Snow Below Normal

November's average temperature [illegible] degrees was 1½ degrees below normal, O. T. Lay, chief of the Chicago office of the United States weather bureau, said last night. Snowfall of one-fifth inch was 1⅓ inches below the November average. The month was the 20th driest and 12th coldest in the last 73 years, he added. From Sept. 1 to Nov. 30 the weather was 16 per cent warmer than normal, altho colder than the same period last year.

TROTSKY RIVALS PROVE RED RULE OF WAR PLANT

Bare Stalinist 'Terror' at Studebaker Factory.

WINNING LETTERS!

The Tribune yesterday began a study of hundreds of letters submitted by war workers. Ten $50 prizes and one of $500 will be awarded the best suggestions from those engaged in actual war production. A $50 prize letter will be published next Sunday, Dec. 5, and others will be published daily thereafter.

BY ORVILLE DWYER AND GEORGE HARTMANN.

More evidence that Communists in the big Studebaker war plant, which makes parts for airplane motors, dominated local 998 of the CIO United Automobile Workers' union, intimidated loyal American workers, union and nonunion, and restricted production was brought to THE TRIBUNE yesterday.

The new evidence came from a group of loyal workers who said they were handed copies of a newspaper called The Militant at the gates of the factory yesterday.

The Militant is the official newspaper of the followers in the United States of the late Leon Trotsky. They are Communists, too, but are bitter enemies of the members of the American Communist party, whom the Trotsky adherents label Stalinists after Josef Stalin. The paper is the competitor of the Daily Worker, the official organ of the Stalin wing of the Reds. It is published in New York.

Hails Victory in Union.

In an article datelined Chicago, Sept. 26, which was prior to the Buffalo UAW convention and six weeks before THE TRIBUNE's exposure of conditions in the Studebaker plant, this Communist newspaper tells how the Stalinist machine in local 998 suffered a setback in the election of delegates, and explains:

"This defeat for the Stalinists was particularly significant because they have been in almost full control of the local since last spring and they have made strenuous efforts to put over their burocratic program of 'no slates, no caucuses, no program' except their own.

"The Stalinists had concentrated in the Studebaker plant when it went into production in the spring of 1942, and have since held a dominant position in the local. Last spring, with the aid of a reactionary anti-Negro craft union clique and the intervention of the international officers [R. J. Thomas, president, and others], the Stalinist machine, headed by Carl Swanson, bargaining committee chairman, took over almost complete control of the union apparatus."

Reveals "Reign of Terror."

"Drunk with power, the Stalinists began a reign of terror. At a membership meeting a few weeks ago, the Stalinist leaders had a big goon squad and uniformed city police to intimidate all opposition. Taken by surprise, the rank and file was effectively silenced at this meeting.

"The real intent of these terroristic methods was made clear at a subsequent meeting when Gertrude Selig, a well known local Stalinist, introduced the executive board's proposal to bar all caucuses and slates in the delegate election. This was intended, of course, to give the Stalinist machine an uncontested election of its own hand picked delegates.

Members Rise in Revolt.

"The membership revolted against the totalitarian policy, defied the Stalinist goons, and overwhelmingly defeated the proposal."

An article in the Sept. 25 issue of the Militant, datelined "Chicago," said Buick local No. 6 of the CIO-UAW had "overwhelmingly adopted a resolution calling on the forthcoming [Buffalo] convention to rescind the no-strike pledge," and again referred to "Stalinist dominated Studebaker local 998." In part, it said:

"Up until recently the Stalinists had almost succeeded in putting the UAW in this area in their pocket and were running hog wild in their efforts to squelch the attempts of the workers to defend their rights and conditions against the increasingly arrogant corporations [managements]."

THE TRIBUNE in a series of articles last week told of the battle of loyal American workers in the Studebaker corporation's airplane engine parts plant to throw off the control of a powerfully organized minority group led by the Communist officers in the union.

Yesterday it was reported that the efforts of the loyal Americans in the plant were beginning to show results. Production was said to have shown a small but definite improvement last week and distribution of Communist literature declined.

PUBLIC HEARING IN N. Y. SCHOOLS PROBE ORDERED

New York, Nov. 30 [Special].—Public hearings by the National Education association on charges that Mayor Fiorello La Guardia has interfered with the independence of the board of education will open on Monday morning, it was disclosed today. The inquiry, unprecedented in local school history, is to be conducted by a panel of nationally known educators.

Dr. Ernest E. Cole, former New York state commissioner of education and president of the University of the State of New York, has been retained as counsel for the NEA's investigating committee and will conduct the hearings.

The inquiry was started in September at the request of teachers' groups.

Foremost among the school problems to be considered is the recent dismissal of the board of education law secretary for 11 years at the request of the mayor. Other issues to be examined will include the forced resignation of the assistant superintendent of schools; the attack of the mayor on Ellsworth B. Buck, board president; "interference" with the board of education's purchase and supply division, and dismissal of 40 high school teachers.

'MUSH' MORTON, FAMED U. S. SUB SKIPPER, LOST

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 30 (AP).—Lt. Comdr. Dudley W. [Mush] Morton, famed United States submarine skipper, is missing in action, his wife said tonight she had been advised by the navy department.

Comdr. Morton, 36 years old, whose submarine wiped out a Japanese convoy in action in the Pacific last spring and who had at least 19 enemy ships to his credit, is the holder of the army distinguished service cross and the navy cross and gold star.

Mrs. Morton said no details were contained in the navy telegram and that she did not know in which theater of war operations the commander had been serving recently.

Shortly after his submarine, the Wahoo, destroyed the Japanese convoy in the vicinity of New Guinea, navy officials at Pearl Harbor reported he had returned from a second patrol with a record bag of 8 ships sunk, a ninth damaged, and a trawler and two sampans wrecked, all in enemy waters.

MOTHER OF FIVE NAVAL OFFICERS TO BE HONORED

Mrs. Anna Olsen, 238 Ridgeland avenue, Waukegan, widow of a naval officer, will be honored at the second war congress of American industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers, in New York on Dec. 9.

Mrs. Hjalmar Olsen.

The navy department designated Mrs. Olsen as the symbol of naval motherhood at the request of the association, she was advised yesterday.

She is the widow of Lt. Hjalmar E. Olsen and the mother of Rear Adm. Clarence Olsen, Capt. Charles E. Olsen, Lt. Comdr. Robert Olsen, Lt. Comdr. Albert Olsen, and Lt. Comdr. Earl K. Olsen. Lt. Comdr. Earl K. Olsen was killed in November, 1942, in a naval battle in the Solomons. Mrs. Olsen's daughter, Anna, is the wife of Comdr. Henry Munson.

Dr. Harold Welch Named to Dental Examining Unit

Dr. Harold W. Welch, 25 East Washington street, yesterday was named a member of the Illinois dental examining committee. Director Frank G. Thompson of the department of registration and education said Dr. Welch will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. W. Ira Williams.

CHARGE WLB IS DEFYING LAW BY AID TO UNIONS

BY LAURENCE BURD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The national war labor board was charged today by members of congress with defying the law in requiring millions of workers to belong to labor unions as a condition of their employment.

The charges were made at a hearing of a special house committee investigating executive agencies, headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith [D., Va.], which summoned WLB Chairman William H. Davis and other board members to explain its practices in settling labor disputes.

Smith cited a provision of the national labor relations [Wagner] act which forbids employers to force a worker to join a union as a condition of employment. He said a subsequent act of congress giving WLB its power specifically states that all provisions of the Wagner act remain in force.

Orders Maintenance Clauses.

In spite of this, Smith told Davis, the WLB in hundreds of labor dispute settlements has ordered so-called "union maintenance" clauses providing that if workers withdraw from unions they automatically lose their jobs. These orders, he said, have been issued over the objections of employers involved.

"On the face of it," Smith said, "you have entirely ignored the law. Where does the board get this authority to violate an act of congress?"

Davis replied that under the law employers voluntarily may agree to union maintenance provisions. He contended that under its war powers, the board has authority to tell managements to accept WLB dictated labor contracts if they refuse to do so voluntarily.

"The board substitutes its volition for that of the management and the union," Davis said.

Can Order Any Contract.

"On that basis," remarked Rep. Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.], "you are contending the WLB can order any kind of labor contract, including a closed shop, whether management or the union wants it."

Davis agreed this was his position legally, but said the board has not and will not require a closed shop if an employer opposes it. Hoffman said the union maintenance provision amounts to a closed shop, because workers are forbidden to quit a union, without losing their jobs, except within 15 days after the contract is made.

Smith also declared the WLB has so far successfully blocked attempts by employers to test in the courts the validity of the union membership clause.

"No Court Jurisdiction."

Under questioning, Wayne L. Morse, public member of WLB, conceded the board has opposed judicial review of this issue on the ground that the courts "lack jurisdiction."

"I always thought," Smith told Morse, "that in a democracy every man with a grievance had a right to a court trail. But you say no court can review a WLB order. Then how can an aggrieved party get an order tested?"

"I wouldn't know," Morse replied. He later suggested a plaintiff might seek a court injunction against WLB findings, but said the WLB would seek to have such a suit thrown out on jurisdictional grounds.

SOLDIER REPORTS PISTOL THEFT.

A traveling bag containing clothing valued at $250 and a .45 caliber army revolver was lost yesterday by Lt. John B. Soldat of Fort Custer, Mich., when he left it in a taxi while en route to visit his brother, Joseph, at 2102 West 24th street, he reported to police.

NIMITZ VISITS TARAWA; HINTS NEW BLOW NEAR

'Pressure on Japs to Be Continued.'

WITH THE U. S. MARINES ON TARAWA, Nov. 27 [Delayed]—(AP).—Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the mid-Pacific area, visited battle scarred Tarawa atoll of the Gilbert Islands today.

After inspecting the battleground, still littered with wreckage and smelling of death, he said Tarawa was the most difficult attack United States forces had yet made in the Pacific, but it augured well for the future that we were able to crack this heavily defended Japanese position.

The admiral hinted at future Central Pacific offensives and that there would be no rest following the capture of Tarawa by declaring, "We shall continue constant pressure on the Japs."

Adm. Nimitz said we will continue to hit the Marshall Islands, the oft-bombed island chain to the north. The Tarawa air field, he said, will be a highly important offensive factor in carrying the war deeper into the enemy's Pacific empire.

After viewing the wrecked fortifications, Nimitz said he understood better the courage of the marines who dug the Japanese out of this stronghold.

Learns About the Japs.

"I have learned more than I ever knew before of what the Japs can do," he said. "I am highly impressed by the highly organized defense of this small island and the large number of troops they had on it."

The admiral said he was afraid the American people were not sufficiently impressed with the toughness of the battle for Tarawa because it was over in three days.

"The Japs haven't lost the will to fight," he continued. "Their army has barely been touched, they're well trained and full of fight."

The admiral doubted, however, that the enemy had the means or "the stomach" to retake Tarawa. They would have to have control of the air, which they can't get now, he said, and they haven't enough shipping.

The campaign against Rabaul and Bougainville, aided this operation materially, Nimitz said, by diverting and unbalancing the enemy's fleet and air power. The timing, too, was good.

Old Battleships Used.

He was particularly pleased that some of the older battleships which the Japanese said were on the bottom of Pearl Harbor took a leading part in the bombardment of Tarawa.

Gen. Julian Smith, marine commander, proudly told of the heroism of his men. Once he paused amid the debris and said to Nimitz, "Admiral, this area the other day was covered with our dead—every yard."

There were some Japanese corpses in some of the defense positions, altho most of the dead had been buried. At the western end of the island the party came across a shell hole containing the bodies of three American marines.

JAPS FIGHT WAY INTO CHANGTEH; BATTLE CHINESE IN STREETS

CHUNGKING, China, Dec. 1 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Improvement of the situation in the critical "rice bowl" battle in northern Hunan province was indicated by the Chinese high command today in a special bulletin reporting the recapture of several towns and the seizure of a large quantity of war supplies.

It said the city of Changteh was still firmly in Chinese hands in the midst of bloody street fighting. The Chinese said they had recaptured the highway town of Taoyuan, 16 miles southwest of Changteh, and wiped out the Japanese garrison there. Shihmen, 40 miles northwest of Changteh, again passed into Chinese hands after having been captured and lost.

By forcing their way into Changteh Monday, the Japanese threatened a pincer movement on Changsha from Changteh and Yochow. The Chinese said the enemy again used poison gas, airplanes, and artillery, and that both sides suffered heavy casualties in street fighting.

Shorter Furloughs Cut Into Marriage Licenses

Issuance of marriage licenses slackened during November, County Clerk Michael J. Flynn said last night. Licenses were issued to 3,417 couples, 376 less than in November, 1942. In the 11 months of 1943, 37,791 licenses have been issued. In 1942, Flynn's office issued 42,090 in the same period. New limits on furloughs to men in uniform are one cause for the dropping off of marriages here, Flynn said.

UNION JACK AND OLD GLORY NOW FLY ON BETIO

BY ROBERT TRUMBULL.
[Correspondent of the New York Times.]

BETIO, Tarawa, Gilbert Islands, Nov. 24 [Delayed].—Today two flags fly over this atoll, which before Pearl Harbor was the administrative center of the British Gilbert and Ellice Islands colony. The Stars and Stripes and the British union jack were raised to the tops of two palm trees the second day of the battle here.

Maj. Gen. Julian Smith, commander of the second marine division, suggested that the British flag be raised simultaneously with the American flag. Lt. Col. V. Fox Strangways, who is to be the British commissioner for the Gilbert Islands with his station at Betio, and Maj. F. L. G. Holland, director of education for the Gilbert and Ellice Islands until the Japs came, were present at the ceremony.

They and other British representatives accompanied the army, navy, and marine task forces here. Maj. Holland carried ashore a bag which contained only a pair of clean underdrawers and a British flag. This is the flag that now signifies that the Gilbert Islands are again in the empire.

Army in Chief Command.

The commanders of the American garrison retain the ultimate authority, holding powers similar to those of the military government of Hawaii. The British officer, who represents Philip Mitchell, British high commissioner for the western Pacific, with headquarters at Suva, Fiji Islands, will be allowed all the latitude consistent with the military situation.

Lt. Col. Charles B. Ferris of Yonkers, New York, was in charge of civilian administration for the 27th division after their occupation of Makin. He will be relieved by Maj. Boyce Nixdorff of Brooklyn, whose fellow officers call him "King Nick the First of Makin." However Maj. Holland will soon administer the civil affairs of Makin for the British.

Native King Notified.

The native king and most of his people had taken refuge on Little Makin, a small nearby island which the Japanese did not bother to occupy. Officers handed him mimeographed copies of a proclamation in English and the Gilbertese language. It said the allies had captured the Gilbert Islands and intended to keep them, that the friendship of the natives was solicited, and that they would not be molested.

These natives, of mixed Melanesian and Polynesian stock, resented bitterly their mistreatment by the Japanese. For many years the British had paid the natives for their work. The Japanese impressed them into labor for no pay and fed them only rice. There were instances of flogging, and they were frequently threatened with bayonets. The native king's government was not disturbed, but the forced labor was about as deep an insult as the Japanese could have devised.

British Flag in Solomons.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Nov. 30. — The Union Jack again floats over the Solomons, a government press release said today. The flag has been hoisted above Mono, main island of the Treasury group. Maj. D. C. C. Trench was landed with New Zealanders to represent the British as resident commissioner of the Solomons.

YANK DESTROYS A TANK AND WINS MEDAL OF HONOR

Third Division Sees Him Given Decoration.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Nov. 29 [Delayed].—Third division veterans were drawn up in review before Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark just behind the front today, watching one of their own number receive the nation's highest military decoration, the congressional medal of honor.

In tones that rang with pride they heard Gen. Clark pay unusual tribute to the 3d's courage, resourcefulness, and valor. He declared its presence in the line was one reason for the success of the 5th army. The members of the unit are believed to have established a modern record for the number of consecutive days in the front lines before they were relieved.

The congressional medal was being awarded to Lt. David G. Waybur of Piedmont, Cal., who singlehanded destroyed an Italian tank and aided in the capture of three others during the Sicilian campaign.

Automatically you looked for a big tough looking soldier to step forward—a superman. But out of the ranks came a fresh faced lad 24 years old, who looked hardly old enough to have begun to shave. Yet he was the man who faced four enemy tanks alone. With a tommy-gun he shot up one, and routed the others in such disorder they were captured later.

Over him as he bent his head while the medal was hung around his neck, the wind flapped the battle standard of the 3d division, famous since the Civil war.

Six Illinoisans Killed in Action to Be Honored.

Mount Vernon, Ill., Nov. 30 (AP).—Lt. Col. William A. Peterson, commanding officer of Camp Mount Vernon, announced today that awards for six Illinois soldiers killed in action will be presented to next of kin at ceremonies at the camp on Dec. 7.

The awards include air medals to Sgt. Woodrow T. Mosbarger, Grayville; 2d Lt. James F. Grayson Jr., Hurst; Sgt. Otto Russell, West Frankfort; and Sgt. John E. Pryor Jr., Centralia, who also will be awarded the purple heart; the soldiers medal to Pvt. Mitchell B. Chesnek, Woodlawn; and the silver star to Sgt. Lester M. Boswell, Wayne City.

Middle Westerners Win Awards for Burma Flights.

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 20 [Delayed]—(AP).—Nineteen officers and enlisted men of an American quartermaster regiment have been awarded air medals by the 10th United States air force for the part they played in dropping supplies from airplanes to forward elements of the allied forces battling the Japanese in northern Burma. The men included Pvt. Edward Hnizdor, 2125 West Chicago avenue, Chicago; Corp. William Hols, Pella, Ia.; Pvt. Andrew G. Fedak, Whiting, Ind., and Pvt. William H. Ruane, 7609 Emerald avenue, Chicago.

A second oak leaf cluster to the distinguished flying cross for participating in more than 150 operational flights went to Capt. Albert C. Nowak, 8128 Essex avenue, Chicago.

AUSSIES ENTER BONGA; CUT OFF JAP SUPPLY LINE

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC HDQ., Dec. 1 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Australians pushing north from Finschhafen have captured Bonga, cutting the Japanese principal supply line on the northeastern New Guinea coast.

The Australians occupied Bonga Monday morning without a fight, Gen. MacArthur's bulletin said, and also took Gusika in their general sweep which carried them to the south bank of the Kalueng river.

A headquarters spokesman said that before the success at Bonga, allied forces were obliged to overcome enemy resistance a thousand yards south of the river.

The allied advance along the coast was paralleled by the inland push northward from Sattelberg, which was taken from the Japanese Nov. 26, toward Wareo, western hub of the trail from Bonga. This force was reported to have crossed the suspension bridge over the Song river.

With Bonga in their possession, the costal troops turned westward along the south bank of the Kalueng river, driving toward a jucture with the force advancing on Wareo.

The ground units received distant support from allied light warships—probably destroyers—which for the first time ventured north of Vitiaz strait to bombard Sio harbor and environs the night of Nov. 29-30. Sio is on the north coast of Huon peninsula.

Allied planes attacked the Japanese air base at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, dropping 46 tons of bombs and leaving fires in supply dumps.

Japanese forward positions at Empress Augusta bay, on Bougainville Island in the Northern Solomons, were heavily bombed by allied flyers in support of marines and army troops who have been clawing their way forward in that area.

HARMON ON WAY TO BASE AFTER RESCUE IN CHINA

U. S. 14TH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, China, Nov. 30 (AP).—Tommy Harmon, former University of Michigan All-America football player who twice became a downed army air pilot, was returning to base today after being rescued by Chinese. His fighter craft was destroyed by Japanese Zeros in a low level attack on Kiukiang a month ago.

"Glad to report Harmon okay and returning to base," a terse message to headquarters from his advanced Lightning fighter base said.

There was no mention of injuries, and headquarters said the message probably meant that Harmon would be able to return to duty.

RAIL TOWN LOST BY RUSSIANS IN A NEW RETREAT

Fall of Korosten Blow to Red Army's Drive.

LONDON, Dec. 1 [Wednesday]—(AP).—The Russian army has fallen back from Korosten, its second important retreat before the furious German counter-attack at the Kiev bulge, Moscow announced today.

The loss of Korosten, 85 miles northwest of Kiev, came 11 days after the loss of Zhitomir. Both of them were railway junctions won back by the Russians in their westward drive from the Ukrainian capital.

The Russians gave scant details of the withdrawal. They said: "By order of the supreme command, our troops abandoned the town of Korosten and took up more advantageous positions for defense."

Reds Hint at Danger.

However, as early as last Saturday, the Russians hinted at Korosten's danger when they reported the Nazis had brought up eight tank divisions—perhaps 120,000 men—to join the already powerful German forces who had been storming Russian lines in the area for two weeks. Some of these divisions, Moscow said, came from Italy, Greece, and Norway.

The setback was a serious blow to the Red army's drive that had rolled on since July across hundreds of miles to the western bank of the Dnieper and beyond.

Korosten, taken by the Russians on Nov. 19 in their advance from Kiev, is on the crossing of the Leningrad-Odessa north and south railway and the Warsaw-Kiev eas and west line.

Claim 20,000 Reds Slain.

An indication of the intensity of the fight for Korosten was the German high command's claim that between Nov. 9 and 28 the Russians in that area lost more than 20,000 men killed, 4,800 taken prisoner, 603 tanks, 1,505 guns, 1,042 machine guns, 275 mine throwers, and 554 anti-tank rifles.

The Russians were plunging ahead in five other sectors. Pursuing the German Gomel garrison of perhaps 300,000 men toward Zhlobin, 150 miles north of Korosten, the Russians captured several populated places in White Russia.

Northwest of Gomel four populated places were captured between the Sozh river and upper reaches of the Dnieper. Eight towns and hamlets were taken in the Pripet river area south of Mozyr.

In the Dnieper bend the Russians said they fought to widen their bridgehead across the river south of Cherkasi. Farther south five populated places were taken southwest of Kremenchug, and in the Krivoi Rog-Nikopol area the Russians announced improved positions.

Deaths from Flu in Britain Up; Near Epidemic Mark

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP).—Influenza deaths in London and Britain's larger cities soared to 106 for the week ending Nov. 20 from 46 the week before, the health ministry announced today. It added that while the cases were approaching epidemic proportions, there is "no cause for alarm."

REPORT 35 ARMY OFFICERS SHOT IN BULGAR MUTINY

Balked at Fighting Albanians.

New York, Nov. 30 (AP).—An attempted mutiny by Bulgarian troops was reported today by the British Broadcasting corporation. The BBC account, heard by United States government monitors, said it was reported 35 Bulgarian army officers had been shot after a garrison on the Albanian frontier mutinied to avoid further Nazi-directed action against Albanian patriots.

Report 25,000 Flee Sofia in Fear of Bombings.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 30 (AP).—A Budapest dispatch said today that 25,000 persons have been evacuated from Sofia, Bulgaria, and that other thousands are moving out as fast as possible to escape expected new allied bombings.

Allied Planes Bomb Sarajevo; Historic in First World War.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 30 (AP).—Allied planes based in Italy spanned the Adriatic to bomb the little but historic Jugo-Slav town of Sarajevo, where the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand and his wife in 1914 led to the First World war, an allied war bulletin said today. The attack on Sarajevo was aimed mainly at wiping out an explosives factory that has been supplying Nazi troops fighting the Partisans in Jugo-Slavia.

Partisans Halt Nazi Drives in Herzegovina and Bosnia.

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP).—German drives against Partisan forces in Herzegovina and Bosnia have been stopped short with heavy Nazi losses, a bulletin from the Jugo-Slav national army of liberation announced today.

In Croatia, Croat units wiped out a German column on the Petrinja-glina road, killing 90 enemy troops and capturing 30.

Meanwhile a Reuters [British] dispatch from Ankara said that rail communications between Turkey and Bulgaria are at a temporary standstill as the result of the destruction of the frontier bridge at Svilengrad, Bulgaria, by saboteurs.

SPEED RECORD SET BY 'SANTA' IN U. S. BOMBER

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 30 (AP).—The trans-Atlantic air speed record from Montreal to Britain was beaten yesterday by Capt. Richard Allen, an Australian member of British Overseas Airways corporation which operates the North Atlantic ferry shuttle service for the R. A. F. transport command.

He flew a Liberator bomber 3,100 miles nonstop from Montreal to a British airport in 11 hours and 35 minutes—21 minutes faster than a record established seven weeks ago by a Lancaster bomber piloted by Capt. M. B. Barclay of Perth, Scotland, on the inaugural flight of Trans-Canada air lines' new Atlantic service.

Aided by Strong Wind.

Capt. Allen's aircraft had the help of a tail wind averaging about 45 miles per hour and, in one zone, rising to nearly 70 m. p. h. His indicated air speed was 175 miles per hour, but at an altitude of 16,000 feet over the ocean he traveled at 240 m. p. h., making an average ground speed for the whole flight—with the aid of the wind—of 275 m. p. h.

The transport command said he had not attempted to make a record and the plane never was "all out."

Carried Christmas Mail.

The aircraft carried a maximum "all-up" load of 56,000 pounds, including Christmas mail for Canadian service men and women in Britain and the Mediterranean war zone.

Among the 15 passengers, in addition to a crew of five, was Robert Riskin, American film producer, traveling on a special mission to Britain for the United States office of war information.

REPORT STALIN WILL TALK TO F. D. R. IN PERSIA

One Parley Already Held in Cairo, British Say.

they cannot be identified, say this group already has made informal armistice proposals which were rejected without discussion.

These wholly unofficial tenders, the reports continue, were not regarded by the allies as tenders at all and were dismissed, first, because they did not originate formally with the government in power in Germany and, second, because they fell far short of the allied nations' unconditional surrender formula.

Mention Field Marshals.

The group reported ready to overthrow Hitler is said to be headed by Field Marshal Karl von Rundstedt, Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, Field Marshal Fedor von Bock and Grand Admiral Erich Raeder. These old-line professional soldiers are said to have support among many Junker industrialists, agrarians, and diplomats, all of them convinced there is no hope for a German military victory.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Minister of Information Brendan Bracken of Britain, and others have warned against Germany's peace balloons. Both suspect the validity and purpose of the peace balloons because they are naturally anxious to prevent reports of such wholly tenuous overtures from slowing up the allied military campaigns.

The ability of the anti-Hitler junta to make good on their peace promises at this stage of the war is highly questionable. As already suggested the Nazis themselves would not hesitate to promote such promises in order to sow doubt, disunity, and complacency among the allies.

Paint This Picture.

The most reliable information from backstairs Germany gives this picture:

The old line professional soldiers, such as Von Rundstedt and Von Brauchitsch, and the Junkers are determined to fight on, hopeful of obtaining "reasonable" armistice terms, even tho they have despaired of a German military victory.

Their ultimate aim is to obtain peace terms which will leave enough of German militarism to form the core of a new world conquest attempt under a new fuehrer.

Hence their interest in a reported tripower conference.

Unable to Wipe Out Foes.

Hitler knows of the existence of this group reported ready to attempt his overthrow, but, unable to liquidate it because of its strength, plays it off instead against the Nazi party and generals such as Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, Alfred Jodl, Kurt Zeitzler, and Adm. Karl Doenitz, chief of the German fleet.

The first peace overture came from a group supported by some of Hitler's own agents, and it was this which cast suspicion on the motives. It was directed to certain circles in Russia, and proposed an end to the war on the eastern front, with the Germans withdrawing to the 1939 frontier line in Poland and concluding economic and military agreements with Russia to freeze Britain out of Europe.

The second overture came from the same group, but was directed to Britain. It suggested an armistice to allow Germany to concentrate on Russia.

Ask Three Concessions.

The third offer, which the Germans still have left open, came principally from the generals and Junkers and asked these concessions in exchange for the overthrow of Hitler:

1. Guarantee that Germany would be occupied by forces from the west or allied forces under a joint American-British command—a precaution against Russian occupation.

2. Guarantee that Germany would be permitted to retain a reduced army to insure against civil war, demobilizing gradually after a republican government was elected and established.

3. Guarantee that Germany would be allowed the right of economic rehabilitation.

These latter two proposals are particularly viewed with suspicion because they would leave the militarists free to influence the formation of a new government and insure Germany of economic resources for rebuilding her army as was done once before.

The Junkers and Germans have accompanied their balloons with hints they would fight ruthlessly to destruction unless "reasonable" armistice terms were offered.

13 NURSES MISSING ON FLIGHT TO ITALY ARE BELIEVED SAFE

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 30 (AP).—Thirteen United States army nurses and other medical personnel missing since Nov. 8, when they took off in a transport plane on a Mediterranean flight from North Africa to the Italian mainland, are believed to be alive, it was disclosed tonight.

FAMILIES JUBILANT.

Three Chicagoans were among the 13 nurses reported missing and now believed to be alive. They are Lt. Ann Markowitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Markowitz of 1337 Wicker Park avenue; Lt. Lois Watson McKenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Watson of 9320 52d avenue, Oak Lawn, and Lt. Gertrude C. Dawson, who resided in La Grange while serving as a stewardess for United Air Lines from 1936 until October, 1942. The Markowitz and Watson families were jubilant at the news of their daughters' safety.

YANKEE RAIDERS BOMB RHINE CITY FOR NEW RECORD

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP).—American Flying Fortresses, winding up the 8th air force's best operational month of the war, bombed the Ruhr city of Solingen, east of Duesseldorf, today. The raid was the first allied attack on that target, site of a high grade steel plating mill and a plant making metal alloy parts for German fighter planes.

The four-engined American bombers, accompanied by Thunderbolts and Lightnings and covered in their withdrawal by R. A. F., dominion, and allied fighters, raised the month's total of American heavy bomber attacks from Britain to a record 11.

Two heavy bombers and five fighters were lost, while seven enemy aircraft were shot down.

Famed for Sword Blades.

Solingen, three miles square, lies 14 miles southeast of Duesseldorf. It was well known for the manufacture of cutlery and weapons, even in peace time, and was celebrated in the middle ages for its sword blades.

With a population of 150,000, the city was described by the 8th air force as "one of the most industralized cities of the Rhineland" and the home of the largest nonferrous metal casting foundry in Europe.

That the day's aerial offensive was not ended was indicated when German radio stations went off the air tonight, suggesting the R. A. F. was back over the continent.

The Solingen assault was the third mission in the last five days and the second successive daylight attack for the Fortresses over Germany. Strong formations of the big bombers hit Bremen yesterday.

Defeat Bad Weather in Raids.

The November record operational showing was notable for the fact that it was accomplished in a month notoriously poor for European air activity.

The Fortresses went out in icy weather ranging to 52 degrees below zero and numerous gunners complained that the lack of fighter opposition gave them no opportunity to fire and warm their gun barrels and, incidentally, their hands.

Answers Plea for Help; Robbed, Beaten, Deserted

Milton V. Nelson, 54 years old, 1460 Madison street, a tattoo artist, last night yielded to a plea to help his friend, Paul Hanson, another tattoo workman. Two young men called at Nelson's home and persuaded him to enter their automobile. Two hours later Nelson was in County hospital with a skull fracture. Police found him under the elevated railroad structure in the rear of the 500 block on State street. Two purses containing $100 and Hanson's watch were missing, he told police.

NO COMPROMISE WITH GERMANY, SAYS HALIFAX

Terms Such Peace Action Merely a Truce.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 30 (AP).—While rumors of possible German peace feelers poured out of neutral capitals, British Ambassador Halifax said tonight "we shall not fall into the trap" of a compromise peace with Germany.

Halifax, who recently set off speculation that the war might end suddenly when he said "anything can happen in Germany," declared that "the German leaders—and if they can be coerced, the people—will go on fighting even after they have lost all hope of victory."

"Events of the last few weeks have given cold comfort to the Nazi hopes for a break among the allies," Halifax said, adding: "It may well be that they may have some more cold comfort within the next few days."

In a speech before the St. Andrew's society here, the ambassador said three hopes sustain the German people in their desperate predicament.

Hopes for Negotiated Peace.

One is that war weariness after long, costly battles might induce the allies to make a negotiated peace. Assuring that the Nazis are indulging in wishful thinking, Halifax said, "We know only too well that for the Germans such a peace would merely be a truce, and that in 10 or 20 years' time we should have the same thing to do all over again."

A second hope is that "they may tempt us to take too easy a view of the situation and so relax our efforts," he declared.

Finally, the ambassador said, the Germans may think they can still drive a wedge into the unified allied front. But the Moscow declarations made it clear that the allied nations are going to stick together to the end, he asserted.

Cites Nazi Strong Points.

To illustrate his view that the German war capacity is on the down grade but the Nazis still may put up a tough fight, Halifax cast up a German balance sheet, saying they may list as credits:

[1] Complete regimentation of the people so that "not only is it almost impossible for a German to oppose; it is dangerous even for him to be depressed." [2] The allied blockade has not hit so hard as in the last war, since Germany was economically prepared and has drained her victims of their riches.

Points to Many Failures.

He said German aspirations to lengthen the war go into the red on these points: [1] The development of bombing—results of terrific beatings such as Berlin has taken will diminish Nazi sea, land, and air power. [2] The U-boat was licked this year, as in 1918. [3] The Nazis have lost air superiority and "are not likely to regain it." [4] "Hitler lost the initiative in Russia in 1943 [at Stalingrad] just as Ludendorff lost it in France in 1918" [at the second battle of the Marne]. [5] Axis satellites are losing heart, as Austria, Turkey, and Bulgaria did at the end of the last war.

Japan must be dealt with separately, Halifax said, "and neither your people nor mine will quit on that job."

CAPTURED FLYER ESCAPES NAZIS; RETURNS TO U. S.

Lt. John C. Simmons, 24 years old, a bomber pilot who was shot down in North Africa last February, taken prisoner by the Germans, and put in a prison camp after hospital treatment, escaped from the camp and is back in the United States, his mother, Mrs. John C. Simmons Sr. of 5937 South Spaulding avenue, said yesterday.

Lt. John C. Simmons.

Simmons, who enlisted two weeks after he was graduated from DePauw university in 1941, told his father, who is visiting him in Ream hospital, Palm Beach, Fla., where he is convalescing, that he and three companions made a break from the camp. Two were killed, but he and the fourth slipped away. For 27 days and nights they worked their way south over rough country, subsisting mostly on raw potatoes. Half starved and near exhaustion, they finally reached a Canadian outpost in Italy. They were flown to North Africa, from where Simmons was returned to the United States three weeks ago.

Simmons, whose wife, Georgia Lou Simmons, teaches in the Madison Township Consolidated school near South Bend, Ind., has been awarded the air medal with silver star and the Purple Heart.

PLANE MOUNTED 75 MM. CANNON DEADLY WEAPON

Tests Show Accurate Fire at Targets.

BY WALTER SIMMONS.

America's new 75 mm. airborne cannon, which Monday was disclosed to have sunk a Jap destroyer with five hits, is essentially a precision weapon, it was explained yesterday at Wright field, Dayton, O., where the gun first was mounted successfully on a B-25 Mitchell bomber.

In tests on moving targets at Eglin field, Florida, the 75 scored 29 out of a possible 30 hits. The targets included tanks, whose armor was pierced easily.

Col. Franklin C. Wolfe, chief of the Wright field armament laboratory, said the plane-mounted 75—largest weapon ever carried by aircraft—has an effective range of 4,000 yards. Its shells, however, have carried as far as five miles [8,800 yards], but results at this range have not been satisfactory.

Projectile 19½ Pounds.

The projectile is heavy—weighing 19½ pounds against the standard 13½ pound shell fired by the earthbound 75.

Recoil, it was disclosed, is absorbed by a strong spring. This was the most difficult problem confronting engineers in mounting the gun.

Repeatedly the tremendous "kick" wrecked planes on which the weapon had been mounted. A solution was found in the development of a recoil mechanism and the strengthening of the B-25's nose.

The army would not say whether the gun had been fitted to planes other than the B-25—the medium bomber used by Jimmy Doolittle on the Tokio raid. It was disclosed, however, that the 75 has been installed in two types, fixed and flexible, the latter adjustable for plane to plane fighting.

Carry 20 or 25 Shells.

Because of the weight of the ammunition, only 20 or 25 shells are carried on a flight.

Other details, including the gun's muzzle velocity, are restricted. The standard French 75 used in World War I. had a muzzle velocity of 1,955 feet a second and a maximum range of 12,780 yards at 44 degrees elevation. It is believed the plane mounted model has a comparatively low velocity.

FARM LEADERS PONDER HIGHER OUTPUT GOALS

Conventions Seek Ways to Aid in War.

Agricultural leaders from thruout the nation gathered in several meetings in Chicago yesterday, aiming toward greater production in 1944.

In a meeting of the National Association of Agricultural Agents at the Morrison hotel, M. L. Wilsón, director of extension of the United States department of agriculture, declared that if weather is favorable agricultural production in 1944 may reach 130 per cent of the average for the 1935-'39 period.

Wilson predicted that farmers may expect good prices for their products, but that best results will be obtained by those most scientific in their approach to growing problems. The agricultural agents, he said, can serve the farmers on this front.

Ask Minimum Seed Rating.

L. V. Toyne of Greeley, Colo., presided at yesterday's sessions opening the two day convention, attended by county agents from 42 states.

E. D. Beck of Alice, Tex., was elected president of the association. Other officers are Allison MacDougal, Concord, Mass., vice president, and W. H. Fill, Parkersburg, W. Va., secretary and treasurer. Fill was reëlected.

The International Crop Improvement association, with eight subdivision meetings scheduled, also opened a three day session in the Morrison hotel. Ralph Mercer of Bozeman, Mont., president, said preliminary discussions will lead to adoption tomorrow of minimum seed standards for various crops. These standards will apply, he said, to interstate shipment of seeds, permitted without testing, under a new federal seed act. The minimum standards are aimed, he said, toward boosting 1944 crop production.

A spokesman for the Certified Seed Potato Growers' association reported a goal of 5 per cent increase in production for a total of 450,000,000 bushels in 1944.

Urge Soybean Guarantee.

The American Soybean association adopted a resolution to be forwarded to state and federal AAA directors and to the Commodity Credit corporation, calling for establishment of a soybean price two and one-half times that of corn. This is necessary, the resolution said, if soybean growers are to meet a goal of 23 per cent increase in acreage for 1944. Returns per acre will be insufficient to make soybeans profitable if the soybean price is not held up, it was reported.

Sectional meetings of the International Crop Improvement association also were scheduled for corn, small grains, clover, alfalfa, tobacco, cotton, vegetables, sorghum, and other products.

Veterinarians Meet.

The 24th annual conference of Research Workers in Animal Diseases was in session yesterday in the Palmer House. Dr. R. R. Birch of the New York state veterinarian college at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., was in charge of the meeting, attended by 75 government extension veterinarians and others.

The brighter side of the agricultural picture was reflected in a meeting of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions in Hotel Sherman. A consensus of reports, it was said, indicated that many fairs which were closed in 1943 will reopen in 1944. Fair secretaries from 22 states are attending. The three day meeting closes today.

MAJ. OTTO KERNER JR. TO ADDRESS REUNION OF LA SALLE ALUMNI

Comdr. John L. Collis of the navy and Maj. Otto Kerner Jr. of the army will be principal speakers at the 48th annual banquet of the De La Salle Alumni association tomorrow evening in the Morrison hotel. Prominent alumni of the high school, including men high in the business and civic life of Chicago, will sit at the speakers' table, whose center piece will be a large cake replica of the De La Salle High school.

Boy Scouts to Distribute 30,000 Calendars Dec. 15

Chicago Boy Scouts will distribute 1944 calendars to offices and business houses in Chicago about Dec. 15. Thirty thousand calendars will be distributed, with the first going to Mayor Edward J. Kelly.

City Water Tax Gains $707,422 in 11 Months

The city's collections from water bills for the first 11 months of 1943 totals $14,571,293, or an increase of $707,422 over the same period in 1942, Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, said yesterday.

HEALTH CHAMPS OF 4-H NAMED; ONE IS TEACHER

Plenty of milk and vegetables, good fresh air, and lots of sleep—that's what national 4-H club health champions are made of.

These are the general rules for keeping in condition as exemplified by a quartet of national health winners announced yesterday on the program of the 22d National 4-H club congress, which ends today.

The winners are: Rena Garner, 17 years old, Ozark, Ala.; Virginia Nelson, 18, North Platte, Neb..; John Weis, 18, St. Cloud, Minn., and Delmer Couch, 17, Eagletown, Okla. All except Weis, a high school graduate of last June, are absent from classes for this congress. Delmer Couch and Rena Garner are absent as students, but Miss Nelson is absent as the teacher!

Doubles as School Janitor.

Miss Nelson, who teaches 11 pupils at Wellfleet, Neb., and doubles as school janitor, was reared on 640 acres of "mostly corn." She is 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 127 pounds.

Miss Garner, who is 5 feet 5½ inches tall and weighs 121 pounds, is a high school senior who conducts 4-H gardening and poultry raising projects at her Alabama farm home.

Delmar Couch, who is 5 feet 9½ inches tall and weighs 141 pounds, is a high school junior. He works on his father's corn and cotton farm.

In Minnesota, 5 foot 7 inch John Weis helps raise Guernseys, turkeys and hogs on his father's two farms. He weighs 140 pounds and has carried a full program of 4-H food production and other projects for nine years.

It was a day of winners at the congress yesterday with Marjorie Olive Hollister, 16, of Plains, Ga., named as one of eight winners of the 1943 national 4-H war garden contest. Marjorie has spent six years gardening, cultivating 6½ acres to produce 52,600 pounds of 162 varieties of vegetables and small fruits.

Other national winners include: Wallace Deeke, 18, Arlington Heights boy who values his returns from seven years of gardening at $1,334,81.

Lockport Boy Wins.

Glenn Eisenbrandt, 18, of Lockport, wired a nine room house among other projects which made him one of six winners of $200 scholarships given in the national 4-H electrical contest.

Another Illinoisan, Esther Elaine Finley, 19, of Bridgeport, was one of six to receive $200 scholarships in the record contest for "all around" homemakers and farm workers.

FALL INJURIES FATAL.

John Battista, 46 years old, 606 Elizabeth street, a truck loader, died yesterday in St. Luke's hospital of injuries suffered Nov. 12 when he fell thru an attic trap door at 16 North Racine avenue.

ILLINOIS YOUTH SCORES SLAM AS CATTLE FEEDER

T. R. Lacy, 17, Wins 3 Top Steer Awards.

BY BEN MARKLAND.

T. Richard Lacy Jr., 17 year old senior in the Kansas [Ill.] High school, yesterday established a stock feeding record which compares with a 100 yard run in football, a perfect 300 in bowling, or a victory by 15 lengths in the Kentucky derby.

Lacy's perfection in the care and grooming of cattle was demonstrated by his clean sweep of all major steer awards in the Chicago Market Fat Stock and Carlot competition at the Union stock yards. His Hereford steer, T. O. Monogram, was judged grand champion of the show, defeating 554 other Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus, and Shorthorn entries raised by master stockmen and 4-H competitors from 14 states and Canada. The same animal Monday was judged the best of all entries by junior competitors. To add to his record, Lacy exhibited the best group of three steers.

Iowa Youth Second.

T. O. Monogram, the grand champion, was exhibited with two other Lacy-owned Herefords, T. O. Royal and T. O. Emblem, in yesterday's winning group of three.

The first to congratulate Lacy was John Oxley, also 17, the Marion [Ia.] orphan whose Aberdeen-Angus steer was runner up to T. O. Monogram in the junior competition Monday and in the grand championship race yesterday.

This is the third consecutive year Lacy has won the junior championship, each time with a Hereford bought from the T. O. Ranch, Raton, N. M., and finished in Lacy's feedlots in Edgar county.

At 9 a. m. today T. O. Monogram will be sold at public auction and, if last year's price is paid, Lacy's steer will bring more than $1,000. Lacy received $1,135, or $1 a pound for T. O. Masterpiece, last year's grand champion. T. O. Monogram weighs 1,010 pounds.

Sale Breaks Record.

The 79 young bulls sold yesterday at the International Congress Shorthorn show and sale under the supervision of the American Shorthorn Breeder's association broke all records with an average price of $785 an animal and a total price of $62,055.

The high individual price—$3,600—was paid for Edellyn Roman Mercury, the grand champion of the Shorthorn show. He was entered and sold by Thomas E. Wilson of Wilson, Ill., and was purchased by Green and Mumford of Toronto, Ont. The second high price—$3,000—was paid by Dunn and Tuntland of Sioux Falls, S. D., for the reserve champion, Helfred Promoter, owned by F. W. Hubbell of Des Moines, Ia. The sale of Shorthorn cows will be held this morning.

FARM LEADERS CALL SUBSIDIES SOP FOR LABOR

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—Farm organization spokesmen denounced food price subsidies today as a disguised, inflationary and unjustified wage increase for labor, and as a brake on the farm production they are designed to encourage.

The farm leaders, Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, and Albert S. Goss, master of the National Grange, presented their demands for an end to the price cutting payments before the senate banking committee.

Goss, appearing before the commitee in person, urged congress to open the way for "increased production" on farms by letting prices rise.

"Food will hold down prices—not law," he said.

O'Neal Denounces Scheme.

Countering administration arguments for the $800,000,000 a year subsidy program, Goss contended that the way to take off inflation pressure is to let farm prices keep pace with demand and siphon off excess cash thru taxes.

O'Neal, whose prepared statement was filed by W. R. Ogg, legislative representative of the Farm Bureau federation, also denounced the claims of subsidy advocates that repeal of the subsidies might break the chief dam against inflation.

He asserted that bureau of agricultural economics figures show consumer food prices would have to rise only $1,300,000,000 to achieve a "fair" return to farmers. That, he said, would be only about 1 per cent of the total consumer bill for goods and services.

"These relatively small increases in consumer costs can be absorbed by consumers out of their present high incomes without justifying any general wage increases," he declared.

Inflation Cover-Up.

"The subsidy scheme was launched to appease the unjustifiable demands of labor leaders for price rollbacks and to cover up the failure to control an unprecedented wage inflation. It is a move on the part of a few labor leaders to obtain a disguised wage increase at the expense of the public treasury—under the guise of 'holding the line' against inflation and under the guise of getting the necessary production of food."

O'Neal asserted that the subsidy program constitutes an effort to turn the Commodity Credit corporation into a "colossal Santa Claus" and a move to "cover up the failure to prevent the worst wage inflation and the worst debt inflation in history."

Both witnesses urged extension of the life of the CCC past Jan. 1 as provided in the pending bill.

Downstater Gets Post on Legislative Council

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 30 (AP).—Appointment of Dr. Richard G. Browne, Normal, as acting director of research of the Illinois legislative council, effective Feb. 1, was announced today by the council. Dr. Browne will take leave from the faculty of the Illinois State Normal university to succeed Dr. Karl Bosworth, who is resigning to join the civil service assembly in Chicago.

TRY THIS $2,000,000 WHISKEY SOUR!

Here's the recipe below! We call it a $2,000,000 "dream of a drink"—because that's what Fleischmann invested in grains, skill and research before we released one golden bottle of this rich, luxurious, straight bourbon whiskey. We make it in limited amounts. We have to—it's so smooth and delicious!

FIRST, GET FLEISCHMANN'S BOND THEN DO THIS!

1. Squeeze ¾ oz. of lemon juice into a 6-oz. "whiskey sour" glass!

2. Add 1 teaspoonful of sugar, and 1½ oz. of velvety Fleischmann's BOND!

3. Then shake with ice, pour, and garnish with fresh fruit (if you like)! H-m-m!

AN EX-POSTMAN RINGS THE BELL OVER GERMANY

Homewood Hero Returns After Cheating Death.

George B. Beckhelm, 28 years old, of 18462 Klimm avenue, Homewood, had been a postman for more than three years when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor and the United States was plunged into war.

Lt. G. B. Beckhelm.

One by one the young men of Homewood joined the army and navy. New stars, one of them gold, were added to the flag that flies over the town from a tall staff on the lawn of the village hall. George's mail bag grew heavier as letters came with increasing frequency from service bases over the world. The postman became the confidant of wives and mothers who shared with him the news that he delivered.

On March 11, 1942, George hung up his mail bag to take up the equipment of the army air forces. Soon the new mailman was carrying letters from George to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Beckhelm. Eventually he was commissioned a lieutenant and sent to England.

Struck by Cannon Shell.

Co-pilot of a B-17 [Flying Fortress], Lt. Beckhelm took part in a raid over Courtrai, Belgium, on May 14, 1943. The next day his crew bombed Emden, Germany. Two days later, his plane was over Lorient, France. Soon Rennes, France; Wilhelmshaven, Kiel, and Huls, Germany, were added to the plane's missions.

A synthetic rubber factory which was supplying the Nazis with about 20 per cent of their rubber was the objective of the Huls raid on June 22.

"They were waiting for us when we came in," Lt. Beckhelm wrote to his parents. "The Germans are flying fools, but the Americans are better."

Curiosity killed a cat, but it saved Beckhelm's life, the postman said, in the Huls raid. Just as he stood up, the better to see the bombs strike their target, a 20 mm. cannon shell came thru the side of the ship, passed thru Beckhelm's body at the hips and exploded. Shrapnel struck Beckhelm in the side and injured his navigator's leg.

Army surgeons hesitated to operate on Beckhelm, for they held out little hope for his survival, but with the life giving effect of 2,000 cubic centimeters of blood plasma, successful surgery was performed.

Aided by Young Doctor.

Even after the operation, physicians doubted that the flyer would walk again, but a young army doctor, Lt. George R. Merriam of New York City, felt otherwise. After his regular working hours, Lt. Merriam put Beckhelm thru a series of exercises to strengthen his legs and to build up the muscles and nerves that had been shattered. The doctor often got a friend to help him carry Beckhelm to a movie "to keep up his will to fight."

Yesterday Lt. Beckhelm was back in Homewood, where villagers from 5 to 70 know him as a friend who "used to be our mailman." He walks with only a slight limp.

"Gee, it's great to be home," he commented on his arrival, "but it'll be a long time till I'm able to carry that mail bag again."

TULE LAKE JAPS CODDLED, HOUSE INQUIRY IS TOLD

Engle Relates Role of Social Workers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Coddling of Japanese by social workers at the Tule Lake, Cal., relocation camp preceded the riots at the camp the week of Nov. 1, Rep. Clair Engle [D., Cal.] told a house subcommittee of the Dies committee on un-American activities today. United States army troops were called to restore order in the camp.

Rep. Engle.

Engle's testimony included a report on the investigation conducted by a California state senate committee soon after the riots and a report of conversations he had with members of the camp staff. Tule Lake is in his district.

Quotes Former Legislator.

Engle quoted Clifford Kallum, former California legislator and Tule Lake farm supervisor, as saying that social workers on the staff had told the Japanese they were American citizens and were being treated badly.

"Kallum also told me representatives of the Civil Liberties union had been allowed to visit the camp and talk with the Japanese," Engle said.

Engle said Miss Semmah Battat, a camp secretary, had told him encouragement also was given the Japanese by six conscientious objectors on the teaching staff at the camp.

"Miss Battat said teachers had told the Japanese the bombing of Pearl Harbor was justified," Engle asserted.

Engle criticized Dillon S. Myer, national director of the war relocation authority, the agency supervising the Japanese relocation camps. Engle said Myer encouraged coddling of internees and attempted to dispel the misgivings of the camp staff after the first disturbance Nov. 1. Myer was visiting Tule Lake when the trouble started.

Asks About Fence.

"Myer was asked whether a fence was going to be built between the Jap quarters and the administration area," Engle reported. "He dodged the question and told the workers, 'If you can't take it get out.' Then, while the situation was still tense, Myer left because he had an itinerary to keep."

Engle said he was told of Japanese refusing to harvest crops because the crops had been planted by loyal Japanese before their segregation from the disloyal. After stopping work they wanted unemployment compensation, Engle said.

A Dies committee spokesman said the testimony being taken by the subcommittee would provide justification for Myer's removal as WRA director. Myer will be called as a witness this week.

Gets Five 3-Year Terms in Illegal Narcotics Sale

Pleading guilty to five indictments charging illicit sale of narcotics, Anthony Pellegrino, 32 years old, 1635 Trumbull avenue, was sentenced to three years on each indictment yesterday by United States Judge William J. Campbell. The sentences are to run concurrently, Judge Campbell ruled. Assistant United States Atty. Mary T. Bailey, prosecuting the case, told the court Pellegrino was arrested Feb. 10 after selling narcotics valued at $4,000 to federal agents.

IMPORTS OF LIQUOR FROM CUBA FACING POSSIBLE WPB CURB

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The war production board may be requested soon to put a limit on gin and rum imports from Cuba because so much Cuban alcohol is going into the manufacture of those liquors to meet an increasing demand in the United States, it was learned tonight. The alcohol is suitable for the manufacture of munitions.

Informed sources said such action would be taken only if United States and Cuban officials are unable to arrange a satisfactory price for the sale of the alcohol to the United States for war uses.

Foreign economic administration officials said imports of gin and rum from Cuba, which were between 35,000 and 60,000 gallons a month a year ago have increased to more than 3 million gallons a month.

The OPA ceiling on domestic alcohol is 48 cents a gallon. FEA officials said the Cubans now are getting from $1.75 a gallon for 90 proof alcohol to $2.30 to $2.60 a gallon for 100 proof alcohol in gin and rum. Such prices are authorized by OPA gin and rum price ceilings.

JOAN FONTAINE IS NURSES' AID DURINGVACATION

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 30 (AP).—Nobody was supposed to know it—but Film Star Joan Fontaine is working as a nurses' aid at the Hartford hospital.

The chairman of the Red Cross nurses' aid committee was all apologies when the news got out. She apologized to Miss Fontaine, even to the head nurse.

But golden haired Joan didn't mind a bit. Emerging in crisp blue uniform from the ward where she works from 8:30 a. m. to 1 p. m., she handed the reporter a pad of paper and leaned informally and becomingly against a balustrade.

"I love it," she announced. "Whenever I'm on vacation [right now she is visiting friends in West Hartford] I always work as a nurses' aid."

BIBLE READING CRUSADE OPENS IN CITY TODAY

Churches Co-operating in 15 Day Event.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Probably as never before, the Bible will take hold of Chicago today, when a 14 day Bible reading crusade is started by the Chicago Bible society. Dr. Robert Taylor, executive secretary of the society, said last night that his office at 35 East Wacker drive is "swamped" with requests for crusade material.

The greatest demand, Dr. Taylor added, is for the set of 15 pamphlets, each containing a favorite biblical chapter. One chapter is to be read each day during the crusade. One request, he said, came in a letter from California. The writer spoke of reading of the crusade in a Chicago newspaper and added that there had not been a Bible in his home for 14 years.

Hundreds of Churches Aid.

Two hundred Chicago church congregations will hear addresses by national leaders of the American Bible society, who are in Chicago for the crusade. Three hundred more churches have asked for special crusade direction. Hundreds of other churches are participating informally.

Altho there are controversial aspects to be found in nearly every verse of the Bible, the present campaign is characterized by exceptionally wide denominational co-operation, Dr. Taylor asserted. While the Catholic church is not participating in the crusade, the Sheil School of Social Studies, 31 East Congress street, has announced a current study of the Bible in the new school term which opened Monday. The first of six Wednesday night lectures will be delivered at 6 o'clock tonight.

McCutcheon Aids Crusade.

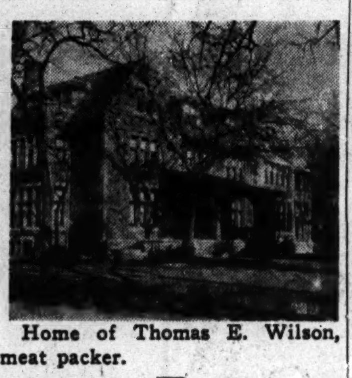
The 15 favorite chapters, the first of which, Isaiah 55, is to be read by members of the crusade today, are noted in the cartoon by John T. McCutcheon, dean of American cartoonists, on page 1.

The understanding of today's great chapter will become clearer when it is realized that the writer knew the desert lands where wells were so few they often were given names and where rivers were almost unknown. He used this figure of parched thirst, and hunger, to note God's ability to assuage spiritual discomfort.

Book McVicker's Theater Robber and Soldier's Wife

Frank Crudder, 45 years old, who was identified by four recent robbery victims at a police showup, was booked last night on five charges of robbery. Mrs. Kathryn Flesher, 19, wife of a soldier serving overseas, was booked as an accessory. She had been living with Crudder, police said. Crudder was captured Saturday by employes of McVicker's theater after he had held up the manager's office and obtained $1,500.

$8,000 Burglary



Home of Thomas E. Wilson, meat packer.

Burglars early yesterday ransacked the home of Thomas E. Wilson of Wilson and company, meat packers, taking jewelery and clothing valued at $8,000. The home is at 4815 Woodlawn avenue.

Three fur coats, one a mink garment valued at $4,000, a $250 watch, a revolver, and eight men's suits valued at $140 each were taken.

80,000 MEMBERS OF ITU VOTING ON AFL TIEUP

Eighty thousand members of the International Typographical union were balloting in print shops and newspaper shops thruout the country yesterday in a referendum vote to decide whether the union would re-affiliate itself with the American Federation of Labor.

The union withdrew from the AFL in 1940 after refusing to pay an increase in per capita tax. The balloting will continue today among the members who are working the late and early morning shifts.

The ballots will be counted in the local chapters of the union and will then be forwarded to the local union. It will be several days before the complete returns have been made to the international office at Indianapolis, union officials said here yesterday.

BLIND AND DEAF WITNESS HEARD IN FRIEND'S SUIT

The testimony of Paul Tischner of 1649 Vine street, who is blind and deaf, yesterday aided Mrs. Netta Buckley, 35 years old, of 2721 North Clark street, in obtaining a divorce in Superior court from Raymond Buckley on the ground of desertion.

Questioning Tischner presented only a slight problem to Atty. Herman Bogolub. He merely told Judge John A. Sbarbaro and the court reporter the question he would ask and then "wrote" the query in the palm of Tischner's hand with his finger.

In this manner the witness testified that he knew Mrs. Buckley had been deserted in August, 1941, and had lived alone since.

Recognizes Soldier Son in Tribune War Picture

Mrs. C. J. Carlstrom, 6747 Foster avenue, said yesterday she "sure was glad" when she looked thru THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE. Her gladness came on seeing her son, Sgt. David A. Carlstrom, in a picture of a group of Yanks in a rest center in Naples.

PREACHER GETS GASOLINE, BUT THERE'S A CATCH

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 30 [Special].—The Rev. Leland L. Marion, pastor of the Christian Temple church here today received from the local rationing board a reduced allowance of gasoline coupons—his first since Oct. 1—but faced an investigation and possible penalties for his use of donated coupons during the last two months.

These developments followed intercession of W. E. Fitzgerald, state director for the office of price administration, in the quarrel between the pastor and the ration board which was brought to public notice last week when 50 members of the Rev. Mr. Marion's congregation picketed the ration board's office here.

Renews His Charges.

Far from mollified at the belated issuance of gasoline coupons, the pastor tonight addressed a mass-meeting called to protest the situation. He renewed his charge that Alfred J. Diebel, chairman of the local board, had told him churches were not fundamental to the war effort.

The Temple was packed to its capacity of 1,200 tonight at the mass-meeting by citizens eager to sign petitions for the removal of Diebel. The petitions, asserting the "citizens of Oakland county have suffered untold abuses and tyranny at the hands of Diebel," asked the ration chairman be replaced by "a God fearing American who sympathizes with the needs and problems of the people."

Dr. Marion read a dispatch which said that Rep. Clare Hoffman, Michigan Republican, had contrasted the OPA refusal to grant gasoline to a pastor with its grants of "almost unlimited rations to labor union organizers."

Dr. Marion said:

"Diebel has picked on the wrong Irishman. I will not be pushed around by a local punk. I demand that Oakland county be put back in the United States. There will be hell popping from here to Washington from now on."

Tells of Experiences.

He added:

"We demand that a Christian business man be put in charge of rationing in Oakland county," the Rev. Mr. Marion asserted. He said that when he went to the rationing board today to get his coupons, in pursuance of the order of the state director, he was subjected to two hours of questioning and that "CIO members" of the gasoline panel sought to "put him on the spot."

Robert L. Poe, chairman of the gasoline panel, is president of the Pontiac CIO council, and John Bridgewater, a member of the panel, is president of the Pontiac local of the CIO United Automobile Workers.

Poe did not make public testimony taken by the board regarding the pastor's use of donated coupons, but said the panel had been told the pastor used coupons which members of his congregation piled on his desk.

OUTLINES CASE OF U. S. IN NEW KIDNAP TRIAL

Lousville, Ky., Nov. 30 (AP).—Assistant District Atty. J. D. Inman today outlined the government's case against Thomas H. Robinson Jr. for the 1934 kidnaping of Mrs. Berry V. Stoll and declared Robinson planned the kidnaping several months before it took place.

Robinson, who pleaded guilty and served six and one-half years of a life sentence at Alcatraz for the kidnaping, won a jury trial after contending he was insane at the time of the kidnaping, that he was not properly represented by counsel, and that he was coerced by agents of the federal bureau of investigation into pleading guilty.

Inman said the government would show Robinson entered the Berry V. Stoll home under pretense of being a telephone repair man, slugged and kidnaped Mrs. Stoll, and took her to Indianapolis, where he held her for six days until he received the $50,000 ransom.

Jehovah's Witness Pastor Sentenced as Draft Evader

Daniel J. Strege, 19 years old, 2953 North Spaulding avenue, was found guilty of draft evasion by a jury yesterday. He was sentenced immediately to three years in prison by Judge Michael L. Igoe in federal District court. Strege failed to report for induction last Aug. 5. His defense was that he is a minister in the Jehovah's Witnesses sect, and thus exempt from military duty.

JUDICIAL LEGISLATION.

Gilbert H. Montague, a New York lawyer who specializes in the practice of anti-trust law, recently pointed out the astonishing reversal of the New Deal on legislation by the courts during the period since Mr. Roosevelt's tenure in office multiplied his appointments to give his faction of the Democratic party control of the federal judicial machinery.

As Mr. Montague noted, a principal cry raised in 1937, when the impatient New Dealers were attempting to seize control of the Supreme court by packing it, was that the courts were usurping legislative powers whenever they found that an act of congress contravened the Constitution. This invalidation of unconstitutional statutes was a traditional activity of the Supreme court, and a necessary one if our government is to be conducted upon constitutional lines. Obviously, if congress were to say without dispute what the Constitution means, we would have no Constitution other than the will of shifting majorities on Capitol hill.

The new legislative activities by the court are less traditional in form and more dubious in value. They consist of judicial opinions made at the solicitation of the department of justice in anti-trust cases, which hold the anti-trust laws to apply to situations in which congress never intended that they should apply and, indeed, to be applicable in some fields in which congress has specifically and repeatedly refused to legislate.

Mr. Montague cited some of these cases. The use of criminal indictments in 1938 to regulate the financing of purchases by automobile manufacturers; the consent decree forced on a group of motion picture companies in 1940 which went far beyond any statutory regulations that either congress or the states had ever imposed upon them; and the decrees which the anti-trust division of the department of justice coerced a number of leading corporations to consent to during the last two years, regulating the use of their patents in a far more drastic manner than congress has ever shown any inclination to approve.

The legislative activities of the courts extend into other fields. Attempts have been made to use them to give the effect of law to the orders of various war time administrative agencies, even tho those orders have dubious legality and often obvious stupidity. In this connection, as in the anti-trust cases, there has been tyrannical abuse of the process of injunction. Our legal history is full of instances which demonstrate the power of this court order and which should act as a warning against its indiscriminate use. Injunctional tyranny was resorted to to enforce the prohibition laws when it was no longer possible to get citizens sitting on juries to inflict the savage penalties sought by the prohibitionists, and these particular instances of tyranny had much to do with the repeal of the 18th amendment. The same sort of behavior is being followed by government attorneys in the enforcement of the orders of the OPA and other war agencies. Their actions are often accompanied by the lowest forms of legal trickery, such as was exhibited by OPA attorneys in a recent Peoria injunction case.

In all these activities the courts are legislating, in the true sense of the word and not in the false sense that was charged against them when they invalidated unconstitutional laws. They are dangerously invading the powers of congress and are abetting the evil design of the department of justice to seize as many industries as possible by the throat, so that the New Dealers can use them politically.

Congress, now free from New Deal dictation, should go deeply into the whole pernicious system. If it does not, and if the New Deal courts allow New Deal prosecutors to put meaning into laws which congress never intended should be found in them, there will be little reason for congress to pass laws.

MR. BUSBEY IS RIGHT.

The people of this country are indebted to Rep. Fred E. Busbey of Illinois for calling public attention to the order issued by the federal civil service commission on Nov. 3. Mr. Busbey is asking for a congressional investigation and unless congressmen have lost their wits, their savvy, and their patriotism, his suggestion will be adopted.

The civil service commission has some 800 investigators whose business it is, among other things, to examine into the fitness of applicants for places in the federal burocracy. In the past the investigators have been instructed to ask questions with a view to discovering whether the aspirant is a Communist. The fact could not be ascertained by putting the matter bluntly to the man or his friends because Communists, as a rule, lie about their membership in the party. The only way to get at the truth, therefore, was to examine into the applicant's associations. If he was active in a number of Communist-front organizations, some basis for judgment was available.

The order of Nov. 3 seems to forbid all questioning along this line, and Mr. Busbey wants to know at whose instance the rules were changed and why. Those are important questions. As Mr. Busbey says, there are already hundreds of Communists in the federal service and probably many more fellow travelers. There would be still more of them save for such vigilance as has been exercised by the commission to keep them out.

A good many so-called liberals have been heard to say: "What of it?" The answer is that the Communists and the fellow travelers are determined to destroy our form of government and substitute a dictatorship for it. They have, therefore, disqualified themselves from serving in the government just as certainly as a bank robber has disqualified himself from getting a job as a bank teller.

Ordinarily it would not be necessary for congress to interfere in such a matter; the executive could be relied upon. But the present situation is peculiar. Mr. Roosevelt, to serve his own political ambitions, has made a covenant with the Communists. In return for favors done to them they support him in the elections and on more than one occasion their support has been sufficient to turn defeat into victory. He cannot be relied upon to keep the civil service free of revolutionaries because they are his hatchet men, and if the job is to be done at all congress must do it.

That is why Congressman Busbey's resolution asking for an inquiry is important. As matters now stand, there are hundreds of enemies of the Republic on its pay roll. If the rule of Nov. 3 is allowed to stand there will be thousands of them.

WHAT THE DOUGHBOYS ARE THINKING.

An Associated Press correspondent with the American army in Italy made some exceedingly important observations in a dispatch which he sent on Monday of this week from Naples. He was writing of the attitude of our soldiers in Italy toward the war. He reported that they regarded the European phase as "just a job" and in no sense as a crusade. On the other hand, they are eager to get at Japan, which they regard as by all odds our first enemy.

The subject is one which an Associated Press man, trained in objectivity, would not tackle if he were not utterly sure of his ground. Moreover, the dispatch passed thru censorship, and censors are notoriously prudent men. As the views attributed to the American soldiers will gratify neither our administration nor our allies, and may give some comfort to Hitler, the censors no doubt would have held up the message if they had found any flaw in it. In fact, the story came thru without delay.

The matter is of such importance that we believe we are justified in repeating here the relevant paragraphs:

> The average doughboy regards the war against Germany as a job, not a crusade. He doesn't have the same sentiment toward his enemy as British troops, who have seen British cities bombed.
>
> The doughboy, however, does have a genuine hatred for the Japanese. These same men would fight without any thought of home leave if they had Japanese troops in front of them instead of Germans.
>
> They have a real feeling about that area of the war. The fighting in this area is just a job.
>
> Fifth army commanders have been well aware of these sentiments for a long time. Small units continually are being pulled out of line and sent into rear areas for rest. But that isn't what the average soldier wants. He wants to go home. He's homesick—as soldiers always are—and believes there are plenty of troops, in America and elsewhere, to take his place for a while.

In short, the doughboys are thinking like Americans. Over the months we have expressed the same viewpoint, to the great annoyance of the New Deal bosses and the even greater annoyance of the Communist-Anglophile-millionaire axis in this country. They wanted to believe that our soldiers in Europe are engaged in a crusade on behalf of England or Russia, or both, and will be eager after this war is over to return themselves or send their sons to Europe on behalf of England and Russia if the call should come again. Obviously, that belief is without foundation in present fact, and those who are planning an international order based upon a false assumption of what our people will do are making trouble, not only for our country, but for Europe and the rest of the world as well.

The war against Japan is the popular war in this country. Americans know why they are in it and why they mean to win it. They know, also, that this war, when won, will stay won, because Hirohito and his gangsters are going to be hanged and the Japanese are going to be disarmed and kept disarmed. The doughboys, like all other Americans, know that we have the power to achieve these results and the will to achieve them over the long future.

If European statesmen give heed to the accounts of American opinion that come from seaboard Anglophiles and Communists the statesmen are going to be seriously misled. Americans want to fight Japan and the sooner the Europeans realize it and act on it the more satisfactory our future relations with our European neighbors are likely to be.

Editorial of the Day

THE RADAR IN PEACE.

[Baltimore Sun.]

Every one knows that the war is going to leave a host of problems to solve and losses to overcome, but there will also be some gains to offset the debits. Among these is the radar, which, tho developed as a weapon of defense for war, may be expected, according to a British government committee that has just reported, materially to reduce the hazards of peace time navigation.

The utility of this device for detecting the presence of invisible objects in general navigation is obvious. It is now employed principally to enable ships to detect the presence of submarines, but it could as easily be used to detect the approach of menaces to navigation in time of peace. As the British committee points out, it would, if used generally aboard merchant vessels, serve to take most of the peril out of fog and much of the peril out of storms.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

GLIMPSES OF THE GILBERTS.

The Gilbert Islands are in the foreground of the war news, and their occupation by American troops, after deadly fighting, should arouse curiosity about the native life there. This archipelago has figured in South Seas lore since the era of sailing ships, and their inhabitants have been respected as a fine racial type. On the whole they have been hospitable to traders and missionaries, but if offended in any of their customs, which include a strict moral code for their women, they could be dangerous. A Gilbert Islander, when enraged, was handy with a fish-dart.

* * *

Let us glance at their women as seen thru the eyes of Robert Louis Stevenson, a resident on Butaritari in the summer of 1889:

"The race cannot be compared with the Tahitian for female beauty; I doubt if even the average be high; but some of the prettiest girls and one of the handsomest women I ever saw, were Gilbertines. Butaritari is Europeanized; the colored sacque or white shift is common wear; the trade hat, loaded with flowers, fruit, and ribbons, is unfortunately not unknown, and the characteristic female dress of the Gilberts no longer universal. The ridi is its name: a fringe of the smoked fiber of coconut leaf, not unlike tarry string; the lower edge not reaching the mid-thigh, the upper adjusted so low on the haunches that it seems to cling by accident. . . . In that, and naked otherwise, she moves with an incomparable liberty, and grace, and life."

* * *

On the island of Apemama Stevenson sampled the native "devil work," and had a curious experience with the chief wizard, who was also the island's physician. He was suffering from a cold and was taken to this wonder-worker's clinic. Says Stevenson:

"The doctor and myself entered the sacred place alone. For a while the sorcerer remained unseen behind me, making passes in the air with a branch of palm. Then he struck lightly on the brim of my hat, and this blow he continued to repeat at intervals. . . . I have had people try to mesmerize me a dozen times and never with the least result. But at the first tap sleep rushed upon me like an armed man."

He fought off the hypnotic trance and stumbled home, where he fell into a stupor. When he awoke his cold was gone.

RISING IN THE DARK.

I wake on winter mornings when the night
Clings to the skirts of dawn and will not go,
Like a reluctant child who dreads the plight
Of parting with some joy it wants to know.
The rising time arrives, and I am slow
At leaving warmth and comfort, peace and rest,
For this wild venture thru the unexpressed

And when the dawn of that celestial day
Breaks cold and chill, and dim with early rain,
I shall not want to tear myself away,
But shall delve deep beneath life's counterpane
And, like a wayward child, refuse to part
With this familiar earth I love with all my heart.

Neanderthal Man.

As We Grow Older.

To us who are older, who are tired, Christmas is nostalgia, Christmas is a memory:

There was a church with a shabby carpet and uncushioned seats. A tall fir tree, brought in from the country, stood in the corner on Christmas eve; it reached the ceiling, dancing with lights, snowy with popcorn balls. Odor of pine and oranges; children's rippling excitement. Every child in the Sunday school got up and spoke a piece and the choir sang carols; the preacher sent up a prayer, and the Sunday school superintendent made jokes as he gave out the presents.

Moonlight thru stained glass windows, and the jokes and the gift from the Sunday school teacher; candy for every child, and a picture of Christ from the parson. A piece to speak, and a new dress, likely made over. For every year Mother had to make six dresses, three for us and three for the girls next door to wear to church on Christmas eve. Christmas for Mother was stitching, stitching against time, making new dresses for the girls next door, and making over dresses for us, working all day and at night by the kerosene lamp, sewing and sewing . . .

In the heart of every one of us who are older and tired there is a little white church with a mended carpet, and a preacher's prayer, and a song, and a mother stitching, stitching against time. . . .

VICTORY GARDEN.

All fallow now our little garden lies;
The frosts have told it that its work is done.
Its yield was liberal for its tiny size,
And so it rests till winter's course is run.
The lettuce, carrots, tender beans, and beets,
Tomatoes, cabbage, chard, and peppers green
Have been our much-prized war time table treats,
Each one a thrill that we had not foreseen.

Now in these days of snow and slanting sun,
While outdoor life lies dormant by its law,
We wonder how the coming time will run,
What harvest follows when the ice will thaw.
And we the peace we hope the year will bring.

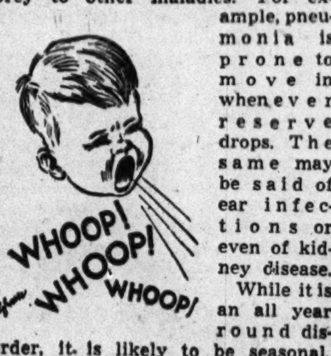
WHOOPING COUGH, A WEAKENING DISORDER.

WHOOPING cough is an odd ailment. The siege may be so prolonged and hence so exhausting that the one who is afflicted will become an easy prey to other maladies. For example, pneumonia is prone to move in whenever reserve drops. The same may be said of ear infections or even of kidney disease.



While it is an all year round disorder, it is likely to be seasonal, more cases appearing in the late autumn and in the spring. Parents should keep youngsters away from known "whoopers" or any one who is hawking live germs of any type.

The disease is of bacterial origin. Altho it has been known for centuries, the exact cause was not discovered until 1906 when two French investigators in the Pasteur institute found the specific microbe. These "bugs" are spread by coughing, sneezing, or by handling handkerchiefs, towels, drinking cups, tableware, etc.

Apparently it is not "catching" during the developing period. In other words, we have to wait until it is in full bloom before it can be transmitted. After recovery, the microbes do not linger. Enough resistance returns to banish them from the throat and nasal passages.

The infection is not difficult to identify. The rapid, repeated "barks" which leave the child breathless are characteristic. As soon as air can enter the lungs, the patient takes a long crowing inspiration—the whoop—which gives the name to the affliction. During the paroxysm, the little one appears in danger of suffocation and the face and the eyes become congested. In fact, it is not an uncommon experience to find hemorrhages in the tissues surrounding the eyeball.

Fortunately, we have a vaccine which provides a high degree of safety. Organisms can be grown on suitable culture media, destroyed by chemical processes, and the injection of appropriate doses will be followed by a slowly acquired immunity.

Good nursing is essential. Filling the air of the room with steam is helpful and, because vomiting is so common, it is necessary to have food immediately at hand so that nutrition can be maintained. If a meal is lost it must be replaced as soon as the tot is willing to eat. Only in this fashion can strength be kept at par.

The wise thing, of course, is to protect youngsters by means of the vaccine. Furthermore, they should be kept away from known cases or places where they are likely to contract the malady. If there are other children in the home, the one who is ill should be isolated and all contact avoided except with the oldsters who are responsible for care.

If the seizures come frequently, the family physician will have many suggestions for decreasing their severity. But there probably is no way to shorten or abbreviate the illness, once it has obtained a head start. About all we can hope for is that discomfort can be lessened and complications warded off.

No one of us should assume that only infants and young children are afflicted. Adults may be attacked, whereupon they will become a menace to others.

CARBON MONOXIDE.

F. H. writes: Twelve years ago, while working as a garage mechanic, I was overcome by carbon monoxide gas. I recovered and did not go back to this type of work. Lately, I have been employed in a defense plant, where the air is full of exhaust fumes from tractors. I now suffer from dizziness, headache, and tingling sensations in various parts of the body. My physician can find nothing wrong after an examination. Do you think that I am still poisoned?

The effect of the original episode has long since passed. You are probably more susceptible, however. Try to find a well ventilated area for your work. Your employer will coöperate.

LUNG IRRITATION.

REPLY.

While the tubercle bacillus may be responsible, there are other causes. The pneumonia germ and certain viruses are particularly fond of lung tissue.

REPLY.

No. The guy rope may be cut if it extends too far forward.

NAIL INFECTION.

G. W. R. writes: What causes felons?

REPLY.

The People's War.

New York, Nov. 30.—Everywhere you go around the country you see great posters in the railroad stations. "Enlist in the war of movement!" they shout at you in capital letters. The first time we saw this we laughed at the strange irony of it. Now we cry. It's the people's war, all right; the war of travel.

To appreciate this fully, one should undertake a night trip from Washington to New York. A reservation naturally is impossible, as personages with important secretaries have bought up the berths in lump chunks, and these characters have been snugly in their berths for three hours by the time the station gates are opened 20 minutes before train time for the harried would-be denizens of the day coaches. Any one interested can rate their importance by the volume of their aggregate snores which zoom out as, weighted down by your luggage and other cares, you stumble past security into a world beyond belief.

The train leaves at 1:05 a. m., say, and you get to the station at 11:30. This enormous marble garage, dimly lighted, heaves with jammed, patient humanity, its bulk intermittently enlarged by hundreds erupting from the outside. Literally thousands of men in uniform are there, and all are tired and disconsolate. They try to snatch a sandwich at the serpentine lunch counter, a waiting line of three standing behind each stool. The waitresses are exhausted, and so is the food. They are out of sandwiches, out of milk, offering only coffee and a thin slab of pressed sawdust disguised as cake, and at midnight promptly the lights in the lunchroom go out and a good 500 are turned away.

Outside, the benches are filled, sardine style. Many soldiers, their heads in their hands, perch on their luggage, lean against closed counters, sit on the floor, or fondle their girls one last, lingering moment, hoping to take from this fleeting instant strength and tenderness to carry them thru another month, or six, or 18, or the duration. By this time there is a surging, impenetrable mob at the gate leading to the train, and suddenly, with no warning, the barrier is lifted, and the race is on.

At last you hit the coaches, most of them antiquated and foul with dirt and ancient air, and you begin the futile march for a seat. Down one, two, 22, cars you go, and in car 23 you see a seat and lurch for it. In fact, there are so many vacancies in this car that two plump women grab two double seats, turn them to face one another, and spread out their belongings, and across the aisle a sulky faced girl does the same. They continue to hold them tenaciously, their eyes out the window, as the sprinters come, the laggards who timed their arrival too late for the opening gun at the gate. These quickly fill the car, are standing, are sitting on their luggage, in one another's laps. Some lie on the connecting platform outside the car. And the two plump women and the sulky faced girl lie down on their double seats and go to sleep.

And on into the night the train rushes. The faster it moves the hotter the air in the coaches. Baltimore winks out from the darkness. A few get off, but more get on. And Wilmington—and on and on.

The considerate travelers are the men in uniform, the enlisted men. They take care of each other and everybody else. They offer a firm shoulder for a sleepy pal's head and carefully awaken any boy who is about to sleep thru his stop. "Come on, mate," they will say gently. "Fort Dix." They share heavy coats, rolled into pillows, with civilians and bring paper cups of water to all. They throw heavy bags up under the eaves for you and carry them off the train. They are indefatigably kind and courteous. And they are the ones who end up standing on the train. That is a little point the two fat women and the sulky faced girl who sprawled on their double seats during those five dragging, hot hours from Washington to New York did not see, for their eyes were closed, then as always.

CREATING MORE INFLATION.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—What has become of all the New Deal vaporizings about "anti-inflation"? Under the newest commissar decree all employers of more than eight persons are supposed to go on a 48 hour week, paying full time in local industry, or time and a half if any part of their work or product is involved in interstate commerce, for the additional eight hours. At the same time, no employe may be dismissed until the USES has found another job for him. In other words, the employer who has been working the 40 hour week which the New Deal decreed a few years ago as a reasonable time to ask of labor, and has a force capable of handling his business on that basis, must immediately increase the pay of his employes by from 20 per cent to 30 per cent, without having any work to keep them busy during the additional eight hours a week.

No wonder they don't dare crack down on the Red inspired union orders limiting the output permitted employes in war plants! And what are the employes going to do with this extra 20 per cent to 30 per cent in their pay envelope? Buy war bonds? Maybe, with part of it, but human nature in America is such that a good share of this additional buying power is going to be used to purchase items which are already short by government fiat. Labor and management both are opposed to this new ruling, and no good excuse has been offered for its promulgation. How much longer are the American people going to permit crackpots to tell them how they shall live?

"ADOPT A YANK IN SICK BAY."

Fort Custer, Mich., Nov. 28.—I wish to commend The Tribune for the splendid act of initiating the "Adopt a Yank in Sick Bay" program. Such action is typical of The Tribune, always doing something for some one. If any one deserves to be remembered this Christmas it is the service men in the hospitals.

I know the generous heart of Chicago will let its warmth be felt in every ward in the convalescing hospitals. And I know that my wounded comrades will be eternally grateful.

HE HAS WHAT IT TAKES.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—The success story of Billy Estes printed in today's Tribune is most amazing, especially to the undersigned who has never been on a farm in his life. It all looks so easy that one cannot help but suspect that the complete story was not told and that there must have been other important factors not revealed.

One cannot help but wonder why, if farming is so easy as a road to success, thousands of other bright young men, not to mention the thousands of oldsters in the farming game, are not all surfeited with prosperity via the same course pursued by Billy? Perhaps the missing factor is brains, with which Billy appears to be well provided.

HE LOOKS AND WONDERS.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Your stories are 90 per cent correct of conditions existing in high paying war plants. The birth of those conditions is neither the fault of government, company, or union. And rather than impair war production, government and company have let those conditions ride, and have let the individual workers deceive themselves while wallowing in their own vices and easy earned dollars.

Along with the unwillingness of management to control the situation, other factors are included which helped make the stench what it is. The hiring of more help than is necessary, the wages paid war workers against wages paid essential industry, the willingness of the individual worker to seek pleasure rather than aggrandize himself in production for winning the war, have loosened the bond of union between individuals working together toward a common end.

THE ARMY APPROVES THE PICTURES.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Your attention is invited to the picture you published in The Chicago Sunday Tribune showing the inefficiency of the Japanese .25 caliber rifle.

I have been a reserve officer for 17 years and have been thru the best infantry schools of the army. For three years I have been on active duty and in responsible capacities.

When the press publishes pictures or articles showing the enemy what their shortcomings are they only invite them to improve and do a better job the next time. I feel sure there was no intent that the Japs be given a tip by this picture.

CRADLE TO THE GRAVE.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—The New Dealers have now introduced in the senate a bill which would socialize the practice of medicine by their usual method of further slices from the pay rolls of the nation. Are they now going to tell us when to get sick, and when to get well, and will we have to visit our precinct captain when little Louie has a bad cold? What this country needs is not more, but fewer political wet nurses.

G. O. P. SENATORS WIN CHANGES IN SOLDIER VOTING

But New Dealers Push In Merchant Marine.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Senate Republicans, led by Senators Wayland Brooks of Illinois and Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, today succeeded in modifying the soldier vote bill in two respects, but suffered a defeat by the administration in a third phase. Developments included:

1. Overseas employes of the administration were eliminated from participating in the special voting privileges set up by the bill.

2. A provision was inserted stating that Presidential appointments to a four man commission which will administer the law shall be made from lists submitted by the party organizations, thus assuring that the two G. O. P. members of the commission will not be what has been termed "renegade Republicans."

Merchant Marine Goes In.

3. Administration defenders of Joseph Curran's CIO national maritime union succeeded in retaining the special voting privileges for civilians in the merchant marine.

The Republican bloc, aided by eight Democrats, succeeded on two roll calls in pushing thru the Bridges amendment providing for party nominations of commission members, but failed to hold together on the question of the merchant marine.

Sen. Brooks had advanced amendments excluding both federal civilian employes and the merchant marine from the provisions of the bill, charging their inclusion is a plot to "gather all the predetermined fourth term votes under the pretense of extending rights to the gallant men of our armed services."

Pepper Upsets Things.

Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], one of the sponsors of the bill, rose to say that he and Sen. Theodore Francis Green [D., R. I.], co-sponsor of the bill, found the amendments agreeable. These were about to be adopted by unanimous consent when Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] objected, praising the men of the merchant marine and insisting that these civilians should have the same special privileges as soldiers and navy men.

Sen. Brooks, in arguing for exclusion of the merchant marine from the proposed special voting privileges for men and women of the army, navy, marine corps, and coast guard, based his proposal on the contention that the merchant marine sailors are following careers of their own choice, have the rights of free civilians, and are receiving extra benefits for the dangers thru which they go. They have not made, and are not required to make the sacrifices service men must, he said.

"Most of them work union hours, draw union pay, and have many special benefits such as increased compensation and bonuses way beyond anything ever received before by men in the merchant marine," he said. "They are not subject to the disciplines nor military orders when they are ashore. They are at liberty to come and to go as they see fit."

Raps Bridges and Curran.

He contended further that the vast majority of the merchant marines "are under the guiding influence and control of two men—Harry Bridges on the west coast and Joseph Curran on the east coast."

Concerning Bridges, Brooks quoted the findings of the attorney general of the United States which branded Bridges a Communist.

Concerning Curran and his maritime union, Brooks quoted a section of a speech by Rep. Martin Dies [D., Tex.], in which the latter called the maritime union a "completely dominated Communist organization."

To this Brooks added Curran's recent history—his classification as 1-A by his draft board and his reclassification, on appeal, to a deferred 2-A status "by authority of the President."

"This bill should not be encumbered by merchant marines and civilian employes and other elements to be used only to perpetuate this administration in power," Brooks said.

Senator Brooks quoted newspaper reports of great losses by the marines in taking Tarawa, and other accounts of the same date telling of the threat of 40,000 seamen to strike on the west coast "because they do not wish to submit to newly required physical examinations."

Bookies to Jail Under New Law

Over $2 Bet

Acting for the first time under a new law permitting juries to fix punishment for misdemeanors, a jury in Municipal Judge Joseph H. McGarry's court yesterday ordered jail terms and $1,000 fines for two handbook operators.

The law, introduced by State Rep. Roland V. Libonati [D., Chicago], became effective Aug. 17 when it was signed by Gov. Green.

The defendants sentenced are Jack Purpura, 39 years old, 7947 Burnham avenue, and Schlime Roitenberg, 33, of 515 Briar place. Purpura was sentenced to one month in the county jail; Roitenberg to two months.

They were arrested Nov. 23 in the Paddock club by police from the commissioner's office, who testified that Purpura accepted a $2 bet before the arrest was made.

Judge McGarry congratulated the jury of 10 women and 2 men. "Your verdict was just and fair and may be a standard in similar cases," he said. "It may well serve as a warning to other men of this type." The jury deliberated 2 hours before returning a verdict. The court overruled motions for probation and a new trial but allowed bonds pending appeal.

CALL HAMMOND CITY OFFICIALS IN GAMING QUIZ

Charles W. Gannon, Lake county [Ind.] prosecutor, has issued subpenas for Mayor G. Bertram Smith and Police Chief Thomas H. Martinson of Hammond to appear before the county grand jury in Crown Point Friday in connection with the prosecutor's drive on gambling.

Gannon is the only Republican elected in the last Lake county election. He has arrested theater managers for permitting bank nights, moved against churches featuring bingo games at carnivals, and has warned citizens that playing bridge or poker in their homes for stakes subjects them to arrest.

Machinist Fined $200 for Beating Mother, 68

Alfred Skang, 47 years old, 947 Diversey parkway, a machinist, was fined a maximum of $200 and costs yesterday by Judge Irwin B. Clorfene in Town Hall court on a charge of beating his mother, Mrs. Louise Skang, 68. She testified her son beat her whenever he had too much to drink. He beat her Monday for the third time in three months, she said.

Police Smash Equipment, Seize 10 in Gaming Raid

Capt. William Doyle and 15 men from the stock yards station early yesterday raided an alleged policy game center at 5324 Wentworth avenue, arrested Winston Howard and nine other Negroes, and smashed a large quantity of equipment. A printing press and 2,500 policy tickets were confiscated.

NEW DEAL PRESS SMEAR CHARGED BY NYE IN SENATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] took the senate floor today to answer in detail charges that he advocates a fascist philosophy. He said the charges have been made against him by a group of newspapers and individuals in a "smear" attempt.

Nye listed among the "smearers" the Chicago Sun, PM [which in New York is known as the Uptown edition of The Daily Worker, official Communist organ], the Daily Worker itself, the Chicago Daily News, the New York Post, and Columnists Edgar Mowrer, Dorothy Thompson, and Walter Winchell. He said others also had joined this group in twisting thru accusation and insinuation, statements he made in a press conference Nov. 17 in Chicago.

A "Libelous" Attack.

Nye gave his version of the interview out of which grew what he calls a libelous attack on him. At Chicago, the senator said, he was asked whether he believed fascism would endure after we have won this war.

To this he said he replied: "If Germany and Italy want that form of government, then under our policy of self-determination they should have fascism. It is hard for me to believe that the people of Germany and Italy would tolerate more of it after what fascism had brought to them. Maybe the united nations will have to afford safeguards that will insure the people of Germany and Italy an honest chance to express their choice in reaching their determination."

Asked whether he did not believe fascism was essentially militaristic and aggressive, Nye said he replied: "Not more essentially aggressive and militaristic than have been other forms of government we have known in this world."

Assails Dorothy Thompson.

"That," Nye told the senate, "was the sum and substance, the total of what I said that would seem to have afforded the rank misrepresentation which has been reported."

He listed some of the statements made on the basis of reports of that interview. Dorothy Thompson, he said, did the "No. 1 job of deceiving her readers on this whole smear effort."

"Big Dotty buckled on her shooting pistols and really went to town in her column," he said. "What this pistol packin' mama didn't do to my thin skin isn't worth mentioning."

MAJORITY VOTE ON U. S. TREATIES CALLED A PERIL

Senator Fears More Presidential Power.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Reduction of the number of senators required to ratify a treaty would increase the power of the President in international affairs, Sen. Edward H. Moore [R., Okla.] said tonight on the American Forum of the Air.

Moore and Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] argued against a proposal to change the constitutional requirement for a two-thirds senate vote to ratify treaties and permit ratification by a majority vote. Supporting the proposal were Sen. Harold H. Burton [R., O.] and Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.].

Proposals to provide majority sanction of treaties are pending in congress. One was introduced by Sen. Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.].

Concentration of Power.

"The further concentration of power in the hands of fewer men would be a violation of the concept of the makers of the Constitution in their effort to make this a balanced representative government," Moore said. "To decrease the number of senators required for making a treaty would further augment the power of the President and weaken the power of the senate."

Nye said he knew of no just or moral cause the two-thirds rule ever had jeopardized.

"Any treaty of justice, any treaty that preserves American sovereignty, will easily win a two-thirds vote of the sense," Nye said.

Burton contended the two-thirds provision gives a minority of 33 senators the power to veto a treaty of importance to the country.

Combined Population.

"Furthermore, if the 33 senators opposing a treaty came from the smaller states of the union, their combined population would represent less than 8 per cent of our total population," he said.

Pepper said the two-thirds vote requirement ties the government's hands in international affairs.

"To make a lasting peace we must join hands with our neighbor nations," he said. "We can make no peace with them and they with us unless and until the democratic process is extended to the making of treaties."

Pepper said earlier he will propose a constitutional amendment which not only would provide for a majority vote of both houses of congress to ratify treaties, but also would provide that the majority party of congress would have the power to set the date on which the ratification vote would be taken. This, he said, would do away with delay in considering treaties.

AIR FORCE UNITS TO BECOME PART OF ONE SERVICE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The arms and services branch distinctions within the army air forces are to be eliminated, and the thousands of members of units now merely attached will be absorbed into the air forces proper, it was learned tonight.

When the absorption is completed, the members of the presently attached units will exchange their various collar insignia for the winged propellers of the air forces. Ordnance, signal corps, quartermaster, engineer, and medical units are among those affected by the plan.

SCHENLEY DISTILLERS CORP., NEW YORK

How Many Summers?

A generation ago, it was not unusual to hear the age of whiskey rated by the number of "summers" it had lain in the wood. A man making a nose-and-taste-test of a sample of whiskey might have been heard to inquire, "How many summers old?" He would think in terms of "summers"—rather than in years. And, generally speaking, he knew what he was talking about.

It is conceded by most distillers that the development of whiskey proceeds more rapidly in the barrels when the temperature in the storage or rack-house is at summer heat. There still are those who believe that little or no change in whiskey occurs during the winter months. This opinion is not shared by some very well-posted modern distillers, who, while they admit of greater acceleration of the aging process in warm temperature, still believe that some change results from the changes in temperatures.

However, our most advanced distillery rack-houses are models of scientific construction. The temperature is thermostatically controlled. Really, it is summertime all year around—inside. Since the amount of moisture in the air is also important—the humidity is constantly tested and controlled. And this reminds us that we recently told you that the barrel is considered one of the raw materials out of which whiskey is made. Remember? Whiskey extracts certain flavor elements while it is stored in the "wood." And these flavor elements are variable because there is no exact uniformity in nature's raw materials. The oak from which the barrels are made varies according to the difference in soil where it was grown.

So, by the same token, difference in temperature likewise creates variables in whiskey. For instance, in an old-fashioned rack-house there were many tiers of barrels—from the floor to the underside of the roof. Distillery men discovered that the whiskey in the top-tier barrels, directly under the roof, took on different characteristics from that in the middle or bottom tiers. The hot sun on the roof, of course, was the answer. If you visit one of our whiskey-aging warehouses, you will see only a few tiers from the floor up. A thermometer test will prove the near uniformity of temperature, above and below.

How many of our fellow Americans have any idea of the care and precision that are exercised in present-day American whiskey production—to produce what we sincerely believe to be the world's finest whiskey? Yes, we'll say it again—

WANT TO GIVE UP "DOSING" FOR GOOD?

Try This Natural "Regulating" Food!

Don't lose hope, even if you've tried one harsh pill or cathartic after another, with no lasting relief! For many people there is a safe, pleasant way! One that doesn't prod your bowels—rob your system of water—or "sweep you out"! It's KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN!

The secret, scientists say, is that KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN "gets at" one big cause of common constipation—by supplying the cellulosic elements needed for normal evacuation—should they be lacking in the diet. These elements assist the intestinal flora in lightening and fluffing up the contents of the colon, for easy, satisfactory elimination!

If this is your trouble try eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't give up "dosing" — for good! Remember, too—ALL-BRAN is amazingly nutritious! Each ounce contains more iron than two eggs, more phosphorus than a glass of milk! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

STATES BUY UP 2 DISTILLERIES AND ALL STOCKS

Avert Whisky Famine and Help Aged.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 30 [Special].—Happy days are here again—or soon will be—for whisky drinkers of Oregon and Washington, and for the old age pensioners they support, as a result of one of the most spectacular liquor deals in the nation's history.

As the news came out today that the liquor commissions of the two states had joined to use their tremendous profits for a foray into dwindling whisky markets by the outright purchase of two Kentucky distilleries and their stocks, politicians matched smiles with convivial citizens whose fears of a whisky famine have been averted for at least two years.

Price a Drop in Bucket.

It took $6,450,000 to swing the deal—half of it cash on the barrelhead—but sums like this are little more than chickenfeed to the Oregon and Washington liquor commissions, less than one-third of their combined profits for a single year. Gleefully, the liquor commissioners summarized the advantages expected to accrue.

First and foremost, they listed a cool million cases of aged Kentucky bourbon, which they plan to funnel across the country to their states in a flow of about 50,000 cases a month.

Second, they said, they are insured against dwindling profits from the state liquor monopolies which support the old age pension systems in both states.

Third, they have the distilleries themselves, which they expect to turn over to a Toledo, O., syndicate. The distilleries, they explained, are engaged in producing alcohol for the government and the commissions will have no use for them once they have drained off the available spiritus frumenti.

Pendergast a Figure.

George P. Lilley, Oregon liquor commissioner, is getting the credit here for putting over the deal, which has been in negotiation for three months and which required the approval of the office of price administration.

Far in the background, however, is the figure of T. J. Pendergast Sr., the erstwhile Democratic boss of Kansas City, whose family was a major stockholder in the two distilleries which now pass into the joint ownership of the states.

The distilleries are the Waterfill and Frazier company of Anchorage, Ky., a suburb of Louisville, and the Shawhan Distillery company of Bardstown, Ky. Both were owned in Kansas City and it was in Kansas City that the negotiations were pushed thru to an agreement the last week-end, it was said.

OPA Trims the Price.

The final prices were reported as $2,800,000 for Waterfill and Frazier, OPA having trimmed the asking price by $500,000, and $3,650,000 for Shawan, $605,000 under the price first submitted to OPA. The purchasers agreed to pay $200,000 in accumulated federal taxes, however.

The family of T. J. Pendergast Sr. was said to own half the stock in Waterfill and Frazier, altho Pendergast himself owned no stock. The Shawan distillery was owned by McCrory-Pendergast interests, it was reported.

In both Oregon and Washington the wholesale and retail liquor businesses are state monopolies. Profits in Washington have ranged from 15 to 20 million dollars a year and in Oregon are about 6 million dollars annually.

U. S. JURY OPENS QUIZ ON LIQUOR MARKET TODAY

At least 16 witnesses, mostly liquor dealers, are expected to appear before the federal grand jury today in the government's drive to smash the liquor black market in Chicago. In all, 43 grand jury summonses have been issued, and 16 were served yesterday.

Among those called are William Gardener, vice president of the John Roesing company, wholesale liquor house at 2101 Wabash avenue, and several salesmen; Henry Beutel, an official of the Southeast National Bank and Trust company, 1180 East 63d street; Sidney Weitzman, an official of the Howard Cake company, 6003 Lafayette avenue; Atty. Sidney Hirsch, 1408 South Ashland boulevard, and Atty. Francis J. Kennedy, 135 South La Salle street.

THE QUESTION.

What changes made your domestic life more peaceful?

WHERE ASKED.

Piccadilly theater, 1443 Hyde Park boulevard.

THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. Sol Rosenfield, housewife, 5333 Dorchester avenue—It never made for peace when I wanted to practice piano at the same time my husband wanted to hear his favorite radio program. We bought a small radio for his room and now, with the doors closed, there's no interference.

Mrs. Linville H. Osborne, housewife, 809 East 55th street—Every one else had Sunday off and it didn't seem fair that I should spend most of the day preparing food for them. My husband suggested we eat out that day. That's a special treat for all.

Mrs. J. C. Pendleton, housewife, 5320 Kenwood avenue—My husband always wants our bedroom window wide open and I prefer it just a quarter of the way open. Instead of opening and closing it to suit ourselves, as formerly, we put a screen in front of it so there's no draft.

Mrs. M. P. Cipriani, housewife, 1618 East 53d street—Something had to be done about the coffee. My husband wanted it strong and said what I made was too weak to be called coffee. I learned to make it his way and then diluted it to suit myself.

James E. Fitzsimmons, cash register mechanic, 5488 Hyde Park boulevard—My wife and I always went to dances together, but, because I didn't care to dance, neither of us had any fun. We decided when she wanted to dance she would go with some girls and I would spend the evening with the men. That made for happiness.

Mrs. P. S. Wilbourn, housewife, 7245 Coles avenue—There was a small throw rug between the living room and dining room that disrupted the peace and quiet in our home more than once. After my husband and I and several guests slipped on it we decided it was time to eliminate it.

GROUP IN SENATE FAVORS 8 CENT RAIL WAGE RISE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—A congressional resolution granting a wage increase of 8 cents an hour to 1,100,000 nonoperating railroad workers won the unanimous approval of the senate interstate commerce committee today.

The committee's action—in the face of protests by Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson—cleared the way for senate consideration of the proposal.

Vinson has countered with an offer of increases ranging from 4 cents for higher paid workers to 10 cents for lower brackets. He has said a congressional order for the flat 8 cent boost would crack the "Little Steel" wage formula—a contention denied by the workers.

Sen. Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.], sponsor of the resolution, said he would call it up before the senate "at the earliest opportunity." It would have the effect of validating an agreement last August between the workers and the railroads on the 8 cent boost.

Strike Vote Completed.

The 15 unions embracing the nonoperating employes — such as machinists, clerks and others who do not run trains—have completed a strike vote but results have not been announced.

Operating railroad workers — enginemen, firemen, and others—also are conducting a strike vote in protest against a 4 cent an hour award.

The 8 cent increase for the nonoperating workers originally was recommended by a Presidential board, but Vinson vetoed it. A second board proposed the 4 to 10 cent increase which he approved.

Compromise Move Fails.

Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], who sought to compromise differences between Vinson and advocates of congresisonal action on the increase, joined in the unanimous vote on the resolution. Truman said, however, that Barkley would continue his efforts at a compromise.

Truman said the resolution would not require Presidential signature, "but simply the approval of both houses." Barkley said, however, the President's signature would be necessary.

The resolution states that the August agreement between the railroads and workers is valid under the railway labor act and any other law. Thus it is aimed at superseding Vinson's veto.

Fewer Motorists Given Trials in Safety Court

A decline in the number of cases heard in Safety court in November compared to November, 1942, was reported yesterday. This November 241 persons appeared before Judge Mason S. Sullivan. Last year 297 were arraigned in November, 1942, 71 drivers were fined, 5 sent to jail, and 12 suspended. Last month 54 drivers were fined, one was sentenced to the Bridewell and 5 lost their licenses.

THREE DIE IN N. Y. OF BAD LIQUOR; FIRST IN YEARS

New York, Nov. 30 (AP). — The deaths of three persons from drinking bad alcohol were reported today by Dr. Alexander O. Gettler, city toxicologist, who warned there might be more "unless the better grades of liquor are put back on the market."

Recalling that the height of prohibition there was an average of 20 deaths from poisonous liquor a week, Dr. Gettler cautioned drinkers against consuming strange beverages if legal liquor, now scarce, was unobtainable.

The deaths were the first of their kind reported in several years.

Steal Truck and 55,000 Points Worth of Meat

Fifty-five thousand brown points worth of Swift & Co. assorted meats are missing. So is a truck, William Fennessey, Swift foreman, reported to police yesterday. Fennessey said the meat was valued at OPA prices at $2,500. He said the meat laden truck vanished early in the day from the company's loading platform, 41st street and Justine street.

UNRRA, WITHOUT CENT, BEGINS TO SPEND BILLIONS

Lehman Starts Putting a Staff Together.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 30.—An organization without a dime began its job of spending 2½ billion dollars tonight.

It is UNRRA, the united nations' relief and rehabilitation administration. Director Gen. Herbert H. Lehman, former governor of New York, reported between puffs at his pipe that he already has begun organizing his staff in anticipation of his return to Washington after the final full session of the UNRRA council tomorrow.

"I am deeply encouraged," he said, "to believe this conference may be the forerunner of many other conferences on problems of a post-war character."

An International Staff.

He promised to make his staff "truly international in character." Other UNRRA spokesmen have emphasized, nevertheless, that UNRRA is not to be considered a global super-state, and a member of the British delegation has cautioned against portrayal of Uncle Sam, UNRRA's prospective principal financial backer, as "Santa Claus."

The director general made it plain he is not worried over UNRRA's new but empty till. It has been freely predicted that congress will shortly appropriate half a billion dollars for UNRRA, the first of American contributions expected to total about 1½ billions.

UNRRA hopes for appropriations from other governments, and already has announced it will accept private contributions. Lehman said, indeed, that if the European war should end in 60 days there would be sufficient contributions available to begin the actual task of relief.

Two Other Branches.

He will establish headquarters in Washington. The European branch will be in London. The far east headquarters is expected to be designated when UNRRA's far east committee meets Dec. 10 in Washington.

Lehman was smiling altho the question of starving India popped up again today as delegates were celebrating the accomplishments of their humanitarian work. Pickets who said they were former missionaries to India had paraded around the conference headquarters shortly before Lehman spoke, with banners reading: "Let it be Uncle Samaritan," and "Which Motive Shall Rule the Conference—British Pride or Common Humanity?"

The India delegation, which has been accused of representing the British and not the Indians, has not asked aid for India. And the British delegation recently issued a statement that India does not come within the scope of UNRRA, which is generally limited to enemy occupied countries.

Can "Control Epidemics."

Lehman said in answer to a question, however, that UNRRA can go wherever its council decides, and mentioned that it might be necessary to enter countries outside its general scope to control epidemics threatening its charges.

The UNRRA conference has been concerned with the machinery for its work. Its accomplishments, therefore, are best illustrated by this summary, compiled from the conference's voluminous reports.

Purpose—To aid victims of war. That is, feed and clothe the needy, give them medical attention, and restore their country's medical facilities; take refugees and those driven out or carried away as slaves back to their homes; rehabilitate the populations and restore industry and agriculture sufficiently for relief needs.

1 Pct. of Income Fee.

UNRRA suggests that member nations not occupied by the enemy contribute 1 per cent of their national income, but this is only a suggestion. This would mean about 320 million from the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, 90 million from Canada, and the rest hoped for from other units of the British empire and South American countries. Recent estimates of national incomes indicate all contributions may be slightly lower than the above figures.

Finances—None, yet.

Members—Australia, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Czecho-Slovakia, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, El Salvador, Ethiopia, French Committee of Liberation, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Iceland, India, Iran, Iraq, Liberia, Luxembourg, Mexico, Netherlands, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Poland, Union of South Africa, Russia, United Kingdom, United States, Uruguay, Venezuela, and Jugo-Slavia. A 44th country, Colombia, signed the UNRRA agreement, but took no active part in the conference because its legislative body has not yet ratified the agreement.

Plan Staff of 2,200.

Administration—Lehman is director general at $15,000 a year. He will have a staff of 2,200 of whom 1,200 will be field workers. Lehman will work with the council of delegates, which will meet twice a year or oftener.

General policies—Relief will be administered on the basis of need, without discrimination as to race, politics or religion. Statements of needs will be submitted for approval. [Altho there have been various estimates, only China has offered a concrete statement: 3,200,000 tons of food, including brown rice, whole wheat flour, dry meat, and milk and soup powder, and clothing, blankets and mattresses for 84 million persons.] Countries not required to contribute to the fund will be asked to pay for supplies if they are able. Distribution will be thru agencies of benefiting governments as much as possible. Nonpaying governments which sell their populations the relief supplies will be asked to return to UNRRA all the proceeds possible. UNRRA labels will be placed on the supplies. While the first objective will be providing food and clothes, the next step will be restoring industry and agriculture so countries can help themselves.

G. S. H. writes: "I am one of the hundreds declared 'available' in the order reducing the working staff of a large defense plant. In the eleven months I have been employed by this company I have acquired special skill over and above that of my previous training and experience. As soon as we were given notice I contacted another employer who will put me right to work doing the same work I've been doing. Can my new employer file for deferment for me?"

ANSWER: Your new employer is at liberty to file the form 42-A with your local board and it is then up to the local board to decide whether you are to be given continued deferment. The fact of your changing employers automatically cancels any previous deferred classification, hence the new employer should file the 42-A at once.

A. E. D. asks. "Can you tell me how many men so far have been awarded the Medal of Honor?"

ANSWER: To date 16 officers and seven enlisted men have received the Medal of Honor in the present war.

H. J. T.: "I have completed my boot training in the navy and want to get information how to go about applying for a commission or the best possible rating. I graduated in 1934 with an A. B. degree and from then until 1939 I was employed as a union musician. From 1939 until I entered the navy I was employed by a large insurance company as personnel manager."

ANSWER: The navy is anxious to avail itself of all the special training and skill possessed by the men in the navy insofar as vacancies and new billets make it possible to place the men to the best advantage. Men in the navy who have college educations and special training or skill should not hesitate to ask the permission of their company commander to report to the officer procurement office at their stations. In your case, the navy might be able to use your musical background or your personnel experience or both.

C. E. O. writes: "I am married and have two children and I am employed by a chain drug store and my work is to control all types of stores and act as liaison with the OPA. Yesterday I received my 1-A classification. If the company files form 42-A does this constitute an appeal or merely additional information? Should I wait for the board's decision on the 42-A before asking them for a hearing on my family case? If the board turns down the 42-A, could I still ask for a hearing?"

ANSWER: If your company intended asking for your deferment, it should have filed the 42-A form before you were reclassified. If it is filed now the board may consider it as new evidence and, on the basis of it, may reclassify you, but it is not obliged to do so. If you have a dependency problem, you should write a letter to your board asking for a "hearing" before the board before your 10 day appeal period expires. In this letter simply ask for a "hearing" and do not mention "appeal."

New York, Nov. 30 (AP).—Checks totaling $165,259.83 were identified in federal court today by Jesse T. Mills, a Loew's, Inc., official, as having been made out by his firm from 1935 to 1939 for services "in labor negotiations."

Mills testified as a defense witness in the trial of seven men, six of them Chicagoans, charged with conspiracy to extort more than a million dollars from the motion picture industry. Mills, assistant treasurer and controler of Loew's, said the checks were issued to Mort H. Singer, a west coast theater operator, in return for Singer's services.

He was preceded on the stand by Oliver R. McMahon, assistant treasurer of the RKO Service corporation, who identified a series of checks issued in 1935, 1936, and 1937 and ranging up to $18,000 as made out by RKO to individuals to reimburse them "in settling labor disputes."

FREED OF THEFT CHARGES.

Miss Bobby Allen, 22 years old, a waitress, of 4624 Broadway, was freed yesterday in Felony court when Edward Schnitzer of New York failed to appear to press charges that she took $450 and jewelry from his room in the Blackstone hotel Nov. 3.

U. S. SEEKS NEW INDICTMENTS IN HAUPT TREASON

J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, is presenting new evidence before the federal grand jury in the Haupt treason case, it was learned yesterday. The prosecutor refused to comment, but it is understood that the jury will be asked to vote additional indictments. No new figures are involved, however.

Six defendants are involved in the case. They are Max and Emma Haupt, parents of Herbert Haupt, executed Nazi saboteur; Walter and Lucille Froehling, and Richard and Kate Wergin. The men were once sentenced to death and the women to imprisonment, but all won a reversal, and are now to be tried one by one instead of together.

Farmers are being called upon by the American soldier and the American family to attain, despite wartime labor conditions, grain, meat, vegetable, butter and egg, dairy quotas believed impossible a few years ago.

Like their fellow producers for Victory on the production line, farmers have adapted electricity to a multitude of chores once done slower and by hand.

Helping raise food for freedom is highly important among the wartime jobs electricity is doing.

Electric Power Speeds Food Production

The vast grain and dairy farms of Illinois are vital sources of the nation's food supply.

Electricity has gone to war—don't waste it!

4 U. S. Bureaus Rule on Santa; Here Is Result

The nation's children are having to share the traditional interest in Santa Claus with the war man power commission, the office of defense transportation, the war labor board, and the war production board this year. Not that the children won't be well taken care of, come Christmas, of course.

The WMC hasn't classified the job of being Santa Claus. It is neither essential nor nonessential. If Santa is plying his trade in a tavern, he would be strictly nonessential. But, if he were carrying on as an employe of the Carnegie Illinois Steel corporation, or some other essential industry, then he would assume the cloak of essentiality. He would keep it for 60 days and couldn't be rehired elsewhere without getting a statement of availability.

The WMC said it certainly would frown on a blast furnace blower who wanted to quit the furnaces in favor of a Santa Claus job in a tavern, or on anyone else in any of the 149 occupations it considers essential, who had a similar idea. Dean William H. Spencer of the WMC added that he hopes all advance agents of Santa Claus are making the work supplemental to jobs in essential industry. The commission would smile on that, he said, or on the role for anyone who has none of the 149 essential skills.

The war labor board said that Santa Claus, like anybody else, can't receive more money this year than he received last, with the exception of merit increases, based on improved performance of duty. And last year was not a financially good one for Santa, a survey showed. The WLB said that it was interested in stabilizing wages, and that its rulings applied to every one, even Santa Claus. It said, quietly, tho, that it didn't think, really, that an overpaid Santa or two would rock the stabilization program.

The war production board comes into the picture by its restrictions on the type of toys that Santa can promise with any degree of certainty. For example, and there has been an instance of it reported, Santa Claus is at liberty to tell a youth who is insisting on an electric train with matching tracks that he must go to the WPB.

The matter of distribution has become a bugbear too. The office of defense transportation has stipulated that packages weighing less than 5 pounds and of less than 60 inches in length and girth must be carried.

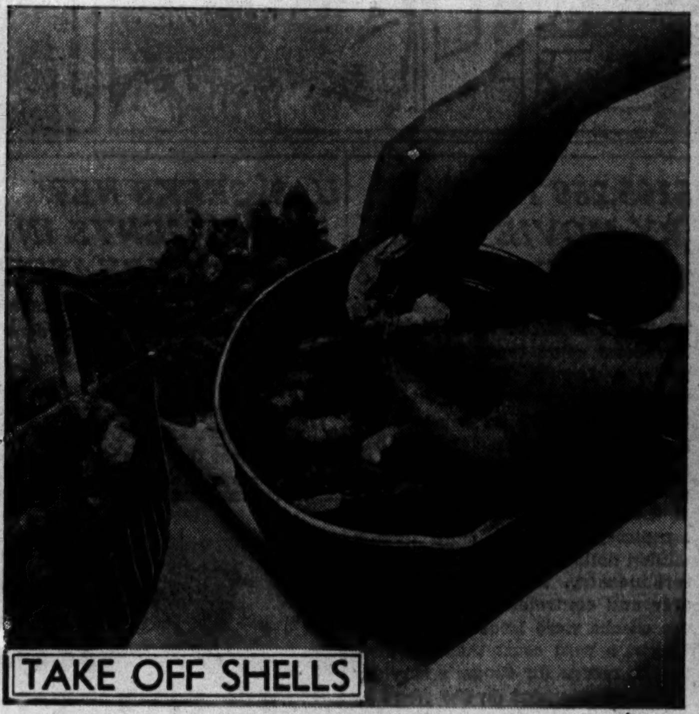
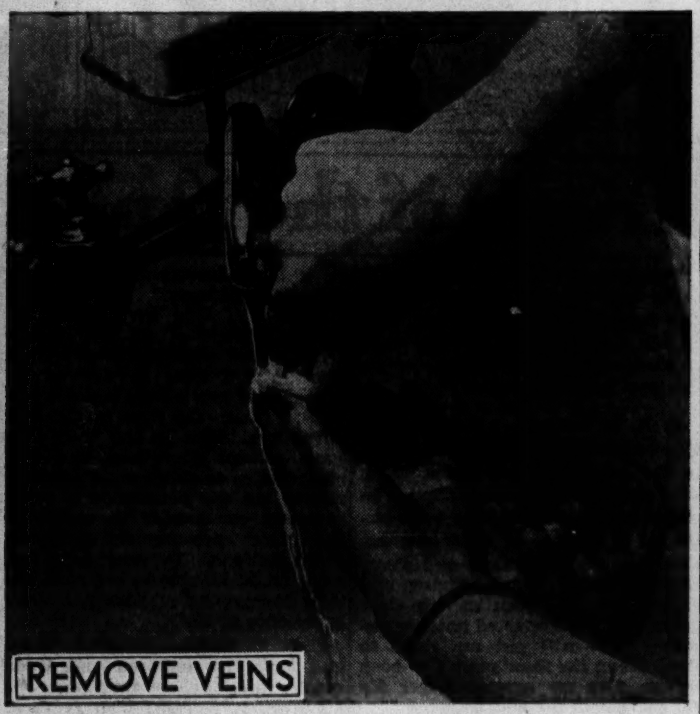
COOK SHRIMP

1. Raw shrimps are gray-green. Wash and drop them into boiling salted water to which you've added 1 stalk celery and a bay leaf.



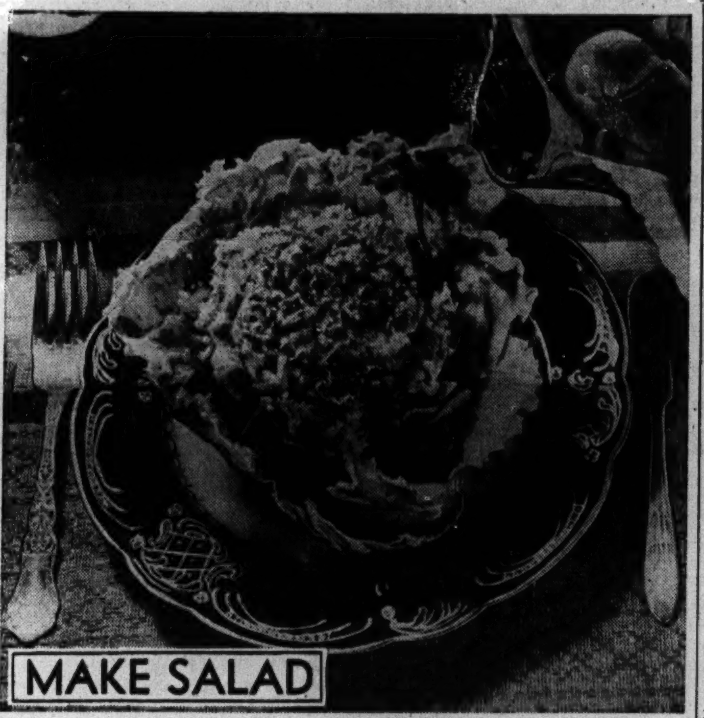
TAKE OFF SHELLS

2. Simmer 15 minutes. The shrimps will turn bright pink as they cook. Drain and rinse them in cold water and peel off shells and legs.



REMOVE VEINS

3. Using the tip of a paring knife, remove black intestinal vein from each shrimp, holding it under running water. Dry on towel.



MAKE SALAD

4. Chill the shrimps until you are ready to use them whole in cocktails or curry or cut into pieces for a shrimp and celery salad.

Stores Packed but Christmas Buying Is Fun

BY REA SEEGER.

The first day of December; this is IT! One shopping trip will convince any one that the Christmas excitement is going full blast. A shopper needs shin guards, a padded helmet, and a padded jacket to emerge in one piece and with the disposition of a Christmas tree angel. The crowds are something out of this world, but it's fun! It takes just one day for the shopping fever to catch; lady Scrooges are transformed almost while you wait.

It's worth your money to see the festively decorated interiors of the stores and shops. One famous State street store has dipped back into history and, with nostalgic tongue in cheek, has gone all out for red plush Victorianism. Only this time the lambrequins and the tasseled table covers and lamps are contrasted against white woodwork instead of golden oak. Nevertheless, the flavor is there—comfortable, stuffy interiors right out of the albums of Currier and Ives. Christmas trees are old fashioned, too—tall, short, and well nigh sagging under old fashioned trimmings such as those which probably are still plentiful in your own attics.

Good old fashioned Christmas gifts make bulging displays everywhere — games, books, rag dolls, crocheted fascinators, cotton mesh hosiery, knitted mittens, and so on.

Slippers, long the object of quips and derision, are popular. There are house slippers of soft, bright colored, smooth leather with felt soles, and there are fleecy models like cozy caverns of color and thickness to ward off wintry blasts in war time heated rooms. Satin sandals, good enough for party or even wedding gowns, have heels and ankle straps or bands and come in pastel white and bright colors. Camel's hair colored felts or fabrics have bands of lapin fur; fluffy white affairs come in rabbit fur; satin mules are decorated with effective petit point floral sprays on insteps, and the bath slippers of terry cloth and chenille are available in every pastel, bright colors, and white.

On the SOLID side

If you happen to have poise and personality and know when to make with the charm and the pearly teeth, that's fine! If you're interesting to look at, a fine specimen of 1-A material or a neat little character, both luscious and lovely, that's wonderful! And if you're all this and smart, too—that puts you right out of this atmosphere!

Because it takes real intelligence to put that final touch of appeal to any fellow or girl who is well supplied otherwise. A chap or chick can be super-sumptuous to look at but unless they know how to make with the brains, too—it's all so much cold potatoes. That's why school is so convenient. Not only does it give you a chance to make friends and influence smooth individuals, but you also can pick up a little knowledge on the side.

Make a mental schedule for each day—or, better still, put the time allotments down on paper. Get a clear idea of just what you have to expect of yourself each day and decide just how much time you can afford to spend at each job. You may want to wash and block a couple of sweaters in the evening. Are you going to do it before or after you do your Tuesday's homework? Should you do your history first, can you fit them both in, or should you postpone your soap and suds orgy till the next night when you don't have such long assignments?

By concentrating in class, hitting the books in study hall instead of writing notes or day dreaming, and by doing your homework hard and long on week nights and saving your social life for week-ends, you can hit the upper crust of the smart set and still have boy-girl fun on the side. High school is one place where work and play don't mix—but if you make that time schedule out right you can have them both. You'll be surprised how many man-hours [!] you can save that way.

This Home-Mixed Syrup Relieves Coughs Quickly

Needs No Cooking. Saves Money.

The surprise of your life is waiting for you, in your own kitchen, when it comes to the relief of coughs due to colds. In just a moment, you can mix a cough syrup that gives you about 4 times as much for your money, and is amazing for quick results.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle. Add your syrup, and you have a full pint of really wonderful cough medicine. It never spoils, lasts a long time, and children love it.

This home mixture takes right hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Which of these 6 Skin Troubles is Yours?

Read How My New 4-Purpose Face Cream Helps Bring Back Your Smooth "Baby Skin!"

BY Lady Esther

What is the first thing people see when they look at you—look closely at you? Your skin!

Are you proud of it—or a little ashamed of it?

Is it a soft, fresh, young-looking skin? Or is it dry and coarse? Is it blemished and uninviting?

You can't expect to have a lovely skin by covering up the blemishes, by hiding them. You must remove the cause. And the cause of many skin troubles is an accumulation of dirt, stale make-up, dead skin cells . . . lodged firmly in the mouths of the pores.

My 4-Purpose Face Cream is scientifically designed to bring your skin four important aids to beauty—all in a single jar of cream! It cleans out the mouths of the pores, removes the rancid accumulations, eases away the dry, dead skin-flakes. Try it—and see what a thrilling difference it makes in the appearance of your skin!

You see, under the surface layer of your skin, a new and fresher layer is constantly forming. This is your new-born skin, your "baby skin." My 4-Purpose Face Cream gently but thoroughly removes every last bit of clogging tissue . . . and gives your "baby skin" a chance to show itself.

Lady Esther 4-Purpose Face Cream does all these four vital things for the beauty of your skin—every time you apply it: (1) It thoroughly, but gently, cleans your skin. (2) It softens your skin, relieves flaky dryness. (3) It helps nature refine the pores. (4) It leaves a smooth, perfect base for powder.

Living Proof—in Your Own Mirror!

Why choose a face cream because it's expensive, or because of a clever package? Judge it only by what it does for your skin!

That's why I say—try Lady Esther 4-Purpose Face Cream! Get the smallest size jar if you like—but try it! When you see how radiantly clean and fresh your skin looks after the very first application—when you see how much smoother and more youthful it appears—it's time enough to get the largest and most economical size. But for living proof that this is the most beautifying cream you have ever used, get the small-size jar of Lady Esther 4-Purpose Face Cream today!

Drama League Party for Cast of 'Oklahoma!' Draws Throng

BY JUDITH CASS.

RESERVATIONS for the Chicago Drama league's breakfast yesterday noon in the ballroom of the Blackstone hotel were almost as hard to obtain as tickets for the outstanding musical comedy success, "Oklahoma!" for whose cast the party was given. In spite of the league's precautions to avoid advance publicity, the reservation list had reached its quota of 350 guests days ago, and those members who had hopefully placed their names on the substantial waiting list were doomed to disappointment as there were no cancellations.

Harry Stockwell, the baritone lead who sings the part of Curly, missed the party as he was called to New York. In his absence Jack Kilty, an attractive young man who serves as understudy, occupied the seat of honor at the right of the league's acting president, Mrs. Alvin W. Jenkisson, while the cast members were introduced by Walter Donahue, who is Will Parker in "Oklahoma!"

Without the camouflage of grease paint and footlight magic, Drama leaguers saw Evelyn Wyckoff, the feminine lead, as a Dresden-china blonde in black trimmed with ermine tails; Pamela Britton, Ado Annie to playgoers, as a smart young woman in a turquoise ostrich toque and a sleek gown with a turquoise, coral, and gold beaded yoke, and Lou Polan, as a much more genial gentleman than the play's sinister Jud. Others from the cast included Mary Marlo, David Burns, Katherine Barrett, Dania Krupska, Al Webster, Dave Mallen, and piquant-faced Sonia Wojcikowska, who dances the part of "the girl who falls down."

Citations Presented.

Merrill Meigs, whose wife is on the Drama league board, arrived from Washington, D. C., yesterday to serve as toastmaster and to present citations to three members who have contributed 140 hours apiece selling war bonds and stamps at the league's booths in Orchestra hall and the Civic Opera house. They are Mrs. William Haywood, Miss Florence Flickinger, and Mrs. George B. Wendt, whose husband, Lt. [j. g.] Wendt, will be coming home for Christmas from his navy post in Jacksonville, Fla.

A real "Oklahoma!" speakers' table, complete with oil well, ox-drawn carts, covered wagons, and corn shocks, was designed by Mrs. Ira Humphrey and Mrs. James Bremner. Some of the others in the large audience were Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, Mrs. Laban Brady, Mrs. M. Lee Alberts, Miss Alice Barler, Mrs. Harold C. Pynchon, Mrs. Horatio B. Hackett, and Mrs. Wayne Wills. The league's next gathering will be a program dinner Dec. 6, when Mrs. Osa Johnson will speak on Tulagi and the Solomon Islands.

Today's Events.

A concert by the Christmas Glee club of the School of the Art Institute from 3 to 4 p. m. today will open the Chicago school children's Christmas fair, which will run for 15 days in Blackstone hall of the Art institute. Pouring at tea from 4 to 5 p. m. will be Mrs. Charles H. Worcester, Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. Alexander Greene, Mrs. James M. Simpson, Mrs. Edward L. Hasler, Mrs. George S. Parker, Miss Florence Dibell Bartlett, and Miss Marie McCahey.

Mrs. Walter Brewster, president of the Chicago Public School Art society, and many of the society's board members will be on hand to greet guests and to help sell the gifts made by children in the Chicago public schools.

Members of the Chicago Chamber Music society will gather at the Arts club at 11:30 a. m. today to hear another concert by the Russian Trio. Some of those who have made reservations for luncheon following the concert are Mrs. Sigurd Oleson, Mrs. George Haight, Mrs. Sanford Gifford, Mrs. Eugene Raymondaud, Mrs. Theodore Heyer, and Mrs. Arthur Franzen.

At White Elephant Party

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Frank Hibbard, chairman of the White Elephant Rummage shop's silver anniversary party, held yesterday at the Casino, admiring some of the silver brought as price of admission.

Silver Treasure Piled High for Rummage Shop

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

Silver admirers, from serious collectors to amateur fanciers, will have a field day beginning next Tuesday when the silver that was collected for the White Elephant Rummage shop's silver anniversary party yesterday at the Casino goes on sale at the shop at 27 East Ohio street, which is conducted for the benefit of the Children's Memorial hospital.

Only a part of the more than 1,200 pieces given to the shop committee was on view yesterday at the Casino party, but it was enough to bring a flood of reminiscences from the older women present, who were busy recalling when such and such an item was in vogue. Prospective Christmas shoppers licked their lips in anticipation of an early visit to the shop to acquire some choice bit, and members of the committee, with the assistance of a city policeman, kept a wary eye on the enticing display.

The enormous collection has been at once a headache and a pleasure to Mrs. Frank Hibbard, chairman of the party, for the proper protection of the silver was her task, as well as the job of getting it polished and put in apple pie order for yesterday's inspection. The next task will be the pricing, for which the committee will have professional assistance, tho none will be needed for the gift of five silver dollars and handful of dimes that some guest brought yesterday as admission to the afternoon's entertainment, which was games.

One of the most handsome gifts was a complete silver tea and coffee service that Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell gave to the shop. Another was the magnificent tureen that Mrs. Arthur Meeker contributed, and still another the stunning solid silver urn sent by Mrs. Frank O. Wetmore. Some lucky young friend of Mrs. John C. Pitcher will receive as a Christmas gift the graceful tureen sent by Mrs. Jacob Baur, if Mrs. Pitcher plays early bird at the sale, while the Casino will acquire a pair of tall, carved candlesticks as a gift from Mrs. John L. Cochran, club president, who will be on hand next Tuesday to buy them.

Many of the pieces had been wedding presents, of course, for what bride isn't given some article that she just doesn't have use for. The most recent bride to contribute, without doubt, was Mrs. Henry E. Muzzy.

Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, chairman of the committee, welcomed guests to the anniversary just before the games started, and was hostess at three luncheon parties beforehand, one for members of the committee, another for employes of the shop, and the third for some of the shop's hardest workers. Her gift was a handsomely carved toilet set.

Mrs. Philip D. Armour Jr. was the first to claim a prize during the games session, after which every one remained to partake of the three tiered birthday cakes and tea or coffee. Many of the women present were taking a few hours off from Red Cross, nurses' aid, OCD, or other volunteer war work.

Among the many hospital friends present were Mrs. A. Watson Armour, Mrs. Orville J. Taylor, Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, Mrs. Howard W. Fenton, Mrs. James M. Hopkins, Mrs. Bruce Borland, Mrs. T. Philip Swift, Mrs. James C. Hutchins, Mrs. George A. Ranney, Mrs. Bryan S. Reid, Mrs. I. Newton Perry, Mrs. M. Paul Noyes, Mrs. William B. Greenlee, Mrs. Roy Flannery, Mrs. E. Cummings Parker, Mrs. Charles K. Foster, Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, who for 20 years supervised the pricing of White Elephant goods, a chore that Mrs. Hopewell Rogers now manages; Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, and Mrs. Alden B. Swift.

You must be very strong and burly.

AUDREY GOOSSENS.

The Pay-Off.

There are many bosses at the top today, not because of their ability to write effective and tactful letters but because of an intelligent secretary. As steno for some two dozen men in our office, I get some of the most garbled correspondence stammered to me in bad grammar. I could overlook the cigars and [sometimes] beery aroma if only the dictation made up for it! The pay-off comes when, upon handing the boys the typewritten letter, they lean back comfortably and say: "Well, it doesn't sound as bad as I thought it would!" M. K.

White Collar Query.

Why is it, with experienced office help sorely needed and pay unprecedentedly high, that many husbands, who did not object to their wives working thru the depression years, now insist they stay home and take care of a tiny apartment?

BRUCE CALDWELL.

Dots and Dashes.

To expedite the delivery of all telegrams to soldiers and civilians, be sure to put the telephone number in the address of the telegram.

When sending a telegram to a person who is visiting friends or relatives in a distant city, be sure to address the telegram in care of the person with whom he is visiting.

A pretty reservations clerk in the Grand Central station in New York, Catherine Ryan, was chosen "Girl of the Century" by the men of the 100th division in Fort Jackson, S. C. She was awarded a three day furlough from her job to visit the camp. . . . Science News Letter says there are 25,000,000 telephones in use in America. . . . Women now comprise approximately 30 per cent of all manufacturing wage earners. . . . A local book store sent out a bill for "Life of Oyster"—$10 which would be high even for pearls of thought. The bookseller meant "Life of Osler." . . . The Seneca shipyard publication, of which Cedo Mullarkey, a White Collar Girl contributor, is woman's editor, carries a picture of a Seneca inspector in the uniform she wore to make tanks in 1917—bloomers and all, showing what happened b. s. Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

More than strikes and spares figure in the winter games schedule of the Women's International Bowling Congress. Its war service committee has launched a "wings of mercy" drive, proceeds from which will go to purchase at least two hospital planes at a cost of approximately $80,000 each.

Bee Hochstadter.

Instead of parties, the organization has match games, stages special tournaments, and sets aside funds in various leagues to which bowlers contribute forfeits when they make errors during play.

Each member of the W. I. B. C., and there are more than 200,000 in the nation, contributes a dollar a year toward the war service fund. The 23,000 members in Chicago contributed to the national organization's purchase last spring of a bomber for the army air forces. The army also was the recipient of another gift from the W. I. B. C., a mobile field ambulance.

Locally, the women bowlers have donated necessities to the service men's centers and also have provided funds so that men in uniform may bowl free on the alleys of the center in the former Auditorium hotel.

More than 1,000 members of W. I. B. C. are in service, and hundreds are active Red Cros workers and blood donors. Miss Violet Jean McClatchey is chairman of the national war service committee. Bee Hochstadter is regional director of women bowlers in the middle west.

A representative unit of the United States cadet nurse corps is the one in training at St. Luke's hospital. Of the 318 student nurses at the hospital, 156 are enrolled in the corps, to be graduated in classes this year thru late 1946.

The trainees' instruction is financed by the United States public health service, thru funds provided under the Bolton law to alleviate the nation-wide nurse shortage in both army and civilian hospitals. Enrollees receive trim and attractive street uniforms, topped by berets, and their tuition, fees, and living expenses are paid. Cadets also are entitled to a monthly stipend.

Members of the cadet nurse corps pledge their services, upon graduation, to the government until the end of the war. Directors of St. Luke's have noticed that the cadet nurses approach their duties with more than usual seriousness and work especially hard to complete the course in two and a half years.

A limited number of teachers is being accepted by the Chicago board of education to work on emergency certificates in the high schools. In the fields of physical education, shop work, mathematics, physics, and chemistry, teachers are being placed by a day-by-day substitute system, provided they meet the requirements.

A teacher who has been professionally inactive for a number of years but is willing, for the war's duration, to work when and where the board assigns her, may apply for a war emergency certificate if she has a college degree, with 15 semester hours of teacher training and two years of college work in the field which she teaches [30 semester hours], and is a citizen and can present her birth certificate.

Certification of such teachers is made in room 242, Chicago board of education, 228 North La Salle street.

Thru the Looking Glass

You will, if you shop promptly, find some luxurious sachets that are excellent gifts for the women who are hard to find things for.

These are superlatively luxurious, and one tiny pillow is as well made, as exquisitely fashioned of silk or satin or lace, whatever the material, as a large and costly set. Your own choice need not be an expensive one. The sky can be the limit if you choose an imposing array of lingerie cases, stocking cases, handkerchief folders, and so on. But you can find a pearl of little price in the scented trifles, and these are small gifts that every fastidious woman loves and never has in sufficient quantity.

The scented sachet cases are ideal thoughts for the young wife who, because of the war, is not keeping house, and who lives pretty much out of a suitcase as she follows her service man husband. The pretty silk cases, redolent of a luxurious fragrance, simplify the problem of packing in an orderly fashion. And, because they impart their scent to everything they touch, they help her maintain her sense of being feminine and well groomed, no matter how harrowing the travel. Her lingerie, gloves, handkerchiefs, and hose will be kept fresh and fragrant when they are tenderly packed in flat, artfully scented sachet cases.

You'll find these gifts, some trifling in cost, some expensive, in a great many shops and you can scale your choice to your own pocketbook and your own ideas of the scent she would like. When in doubt about what a woman will find acceptable and useful, remember these. Every woman loves to own them.

Plan Farewell Tea for Dr. Aldrich at Children's Hospital

The medical staff of Children's Memorial hospital will give a farewell tea for Dr. C. Anderson Aldrich, its physician in chief, and Mrs. Aldrich, Sunday afternoon in the nurses' home.

Dr. Aldrich, nationally known pediatrician, has accepted an appointment to the Mayo clinic to direct a long term research in preventive medicine in childhood. He has been professor of pediatrics at Northwestern university and for three years has headed the staff of Children's Memorial hospital, with which he has been associated for 21 years.

Planning the tea are Mrs. Paul H. Holinger, Mrs. Eigeuen T. McEnery, and Mrs. John L. Reichert. The hospital board of directors, of which John P. Wilson is president, and the woman's auxiliary board, headed by Mrs. James C. Hutchins, will attend as special guests.

INSTALMENT XV.

BLACKBURN SHOT.

Fox glared resentfully at Tim and picked up a rope. He stepped toward the remuda, and as the horses raced past him threw and missed. Pulling in the rope dragging in the dust, he rewound it and made another throw. The loop dropped over the head of a dark brown gelding.

"You're doing fine, Luke," Tim told him.

Allan Dunn stepped out of the doorway. "Here's yore bronc, Jess," he called back into the house.

"You might bring our horses, Tim," Neal said.

The prisoner started to cut across back of Purdy to his horse.

"Wait just a minute," his captor advised. "It will be more friendly if we all leave together, those of us that are going."

The trapped desperado turned, rage and hatred burning in his eyes. He was standing to the right and a little back of Purdy.

"Lay off me, Mac," he said, the words whistling thru tight lips. "I'm not going."

"You're going," Neal answered, not raising his voice, but keeping it strong and clear. Then, swiftly, he flung out a warning for he saw what the man was going to do.

It was too late.

Blackburn snatched the revolver from Purdy's holster and fired from the hip. The crash of Neal's .45 was scarcely an eyebeat later. The outlaw's knees gave way. His big body sank forward, at first slowly.

There was a long silence after the booming of the guns had died.

Dunn looked down at the prone, lax figure. "He sure asked for it," was his comment. He added, as if to himself, "I never liked him. He was poison to any outfit he trailed with."

For a moment Neal stood motionless, watching the man his bullets had cut down. He set his face so that it would not show the horror that filled him. He had never killed a man before.

"I call you all to witness that he fired first," he said in a low voice.

Purdy's wolfish face knotted angrily. "You drove him to it," he spat at MacGowan.

Neal moved two steps closer to the man, his eyes bleak and bitter.

"You killed him, Purdy. You gave him the sign to grab yore gun out and stood where he could reach it easily. You expected him to kill me but it didn't work out that way."

His manner was blunt and stiff, but he fell back as MacGowan advanced. He had let himself be stripped of his revolver.

The cool gaze of Dunn shifted from one to the other and back again. So far he was satisfied with what had taken place. Blackburn had become a menace to his safety. It suited him to have the fellow dead.

"Listen, you," Purdy shouted, still backing. "I'm not in this, I tell you."

Neal's arm lifted and came down hard. It broke thru the arm flung up as protection and the barrel of his .45 skidded from the side of the outlaw's head. Purdy groaned as he staggered.

The incident was finished. Neal turned to his friend.

"We'll get along, Tim, if you'll bring the horses," he said.

On Dunn's sardonic face there was the flicker of a smile. "You're thoro, Mac," he said dryly.

Neal did not answer. He looked down at the huge barrel chested body of the dead man and started thru the trees toward the horses.

The K-B men were careful not to show any signs of hurry, but they did not lose any time in getting under way.

As soon as they were out of sight they quickened their pace. When they dropped into the canyon thru the break in the wall Tim's glance swept the boulder-strewn floor anxiously.

"Ever see a better place for sharpshooters to pick us off?" he asked with a wry grin.

"It would be easy as shooting tame ducks on a pond," MacGowan agreed. "But I reckon Cad isn't quite ready to rub out a United States marshal yet. That might start a lot of trouble for him."

"Hope you're right." Tim looked across at his chief, a boyish admiration in his blue eyes. "I never saw yore beat. Bet you there isn't another fellow in the Flood river country crazy enough to come up here without a big posse and try to arrest a bad killer like Blackburn. And then get away with it—maybe."

"I had a responsible man siding me," Neal mentioned.

They came out of the box canon to the mountain park below and traveled along the creek to the top of the gulch where Russ Miller had left them. It was late in the afternoon when they cut sign of their own tracks made earlier in the day.

"We'll have to hurry to get out of the gap before night," Neal said. "We had better camp on Squaw creek if we can make it."

The miles seemed interminable as they wound thru the tangle of hills, gorges, and wooded parks. The sun had set before they climbed to the cut that was the entrance to Rustlers' gap.

Neal was in the lead when they stopped for a moment at the summit to breathe their horses.

"Sure seems to be filled with absentees," Tim commented. "Betcha a regiment of men could hole up there and not a dozen of them be found in a week."

MacGowan gave his mount the signal and moved forward. Before the horse had gone 20 yards a great boulder crashed down from one of the walls and struck not three feet in front of him. The horse reared wildly and Neal was flung sprawling to the ground. He clung to the rein and scrambled to his feet.

"Get going, Tim," he cried, and vaulted into the saddle.

"All right," MacGowan answered. "Light a shuck out of here, boy."

The Winchester sounded again, but the bad light favored them. In another minute they were out of range.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

The semi-psychic no trump based on a long, solid suit with little or nothing outside is a device used by experts when playing against inexpert opponents. In today's deal, for example, South would not have dared to stick by his bluff except for the fact that he had a weak player on his left, and one who could be counted on to make the "conventional" opening lead.

Rubber bridge.
West, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH.

♣ A K Q 9 8 7 5 2

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 heart	Pass	2 hearts	2 no trump
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass [!]

Even in all-expert games, bids like South's two no trump are fairly common, but with this decided difference: If and when the double comes, there is a prompt runout to the escape suit, for the bluff bidder knows that a smart opponent will promptly double-cross him and open a suit for which he is not so well prepared.

In this case, however, South was willing to gamble on the conviction that he had the West player "pegged right." If South could get a heart lead up to his king, he not only would steal a game but would make an extra trick. If South had been vulnerable, the danger of going down a tremendous number of tricks would have outweighed the possible gain.

West, to his discredit, did exactly what South expected him to do—he opened his fourth highest heart. His side did not regain the lead until the tenth trick!

A diamond or a spade lead, with subsequent correct defense, would have given East-West ten tricks, and 900 points.

Virginia Parker, Soprano, Rated as a Discovery

BY ALBERT GOLDBERG.

Just as our opinion of young Chicago singers and their training was reaching an abysmal low, along comes Virginia Parker. This young lady is far and away the best of the local hopefuls who have graced—and sometimes disgraced—the concert halls this season. On the strength of her Kimball hall recital last night it is, in fact, an injustice to call her a hopeful, and other things being equal, she should not long remain in the merely local category. Prophecy is risky business, but it might not be too much to call her a discovery.

Miss Parker blends art and voice in about equal mixture. The voice does not immediately strike you as one of phenomenal beauty, but by the time you have heard her sing a lengthy group of songs exploiting coloratura tactics, proceed from there to an operatic aria like "Pace, Pace Mio Dio" and assume the power and color of a dramatic soprano, and then sing French songs, particularly Paladihle's "Le Rouet," with a rich and subtly colored lower register, you are beginning to be convinced that you are listening to a voice and a singing talent well beyond the ordinary. Further argument, if any is needed, was provided by an exquisite projection of Strauss' "Wiegenlied," Thompson's "Velvet Shoes," and the engaging "Balloons in the Snow," by the Chicago composer, Jeanne Boyd.

Out of this, too, you may gather that Miss Parker has the discernment to assemble beautiful and unhackneyed songs and to put them together to form an interesting program. She sang in five languages and was understandable and intelligent in at least the three on which we are competent to pass judgment. And along with her other qualities she has poise, for it made no difference to her or anybody else when her memory failed once and she had to start a song over again.

Altogether a pleasant evening, that was also appreciated by a large audience. As usual, Robert MacDonald's accompaniments were a factor in the outcome.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Helen Frances Gilmartin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gilmartin of Bogota, N. J., to Petty Officer Jerome J. Mayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayer of Crystal Lake, Ill. Mr. Mayer just has returned from several months' duty in the Mediterranean.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robert Frankland of Kenilworth announce the marriage last Saturday of their daughter, Jayne, to Lt. [j. g.] Edward Allen Moe, son of Mrs. Guy Gruper of Rhinelander, Wis. The ceremony took place at 4:30 p. m. in the chapel of Christ church, Winnetka, with the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard officiating, and a reception followed in the Frankland home. Lt. Moe and his bride will live in Brooklyn, N. Y.

On the Calendar.

First of the 1944 benefits to be announced is the eighth annual Friends of Orphans party to be held March 1 at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Members will meet Dec. 8 at the home of Mrs. Hayes McKinney in Wilmette. The Friends contribute to the support of the Lake Bluff orphanage, the Central Baptist home, and the Lydia Children's home.

Members of the Boys' Shelter club will meet at 11:45 a. m. tomorrow at the Drake to hear Raymond Thompson, head of the Allendale school, and some of the boys at the school, talk at luncheon following the meeting. Mrs. Edwin S. Noble heads the club, which contributes to the support of the school. Mrs. Vojta F. Mashek is chairman of the luncheon.

Mrs. Thomas A. Connors, chairman of the Chicago chapter of Belgians in Britain, is in charge of a dinner for the working committee to be given Friday night at the Sarong room, 16 East Huron street. Volunteers knit and sew for the organization at 410 South Michigan avenue.

Here and There.

Mrs. Brooks McCormick and Mrs. Mabbett K. Reckord, who are cochairmen of the Christmas committee of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, and a number of helpers are busy daily at 208 West Washington street wrapping Christmas gifts for the society's 1,500 children. A number of the presents were gathered thru the help of Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson and Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams III., and each child will receive something he especially asked for or would like particularly.

The Hubert N. Kelleys of Deerfield are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter, Faith Margaretta Marshall Kelley, on Thanksgiving night. The baby, a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Frederick Weigle of Deerfield, is the great-grandchild of the late John Irwin Marshall of Highland Park.

Luncheon Will Be Held by New England Group

With Mrs. Howard W. Evans presiding, Pilgrim colony members of the National Society of New England Women will hold their annual Christmas luncheon at 12:30 p. m. today in the Blackstone hotel. Miss Florence M. Spofford, in charge of the program, has arranged for a dramatic reading by Mrs. Helen S. Fisher.

Household Forum

By Louise Bargelt

Mrs. Vera N., Chicago—For the duration I have a laundry bag or hamper in every bedroom, in bath and kitchen. Special requests have gone out to all family members to sort out their own laundry each wash day. And when I iron, if it is possible, I bring in clothes as soon as they are ready for ironing and iron—directly from line.

Mrs. Ed W., Kankakee, Ill.—Wouldn't it be a good idea if we all resolved not to use our gas burners or gas oven for supplementary heat this winter? We have always done this before—but no longer. I keep old sweaters on a line, on hangers, in back hall, and any one who is a bit chilly in early morning slips one on. We are told such excessive use of gas will create gas shortage and hamper the war effort on the industrial front.

Now—Your Idea—Please.

Invalid Child May Prepare for Christmas

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Let your children share in all the preparations for their favorite holiday, Christmas, in the making of presents for their nearest and dearest, in the creating of their own personal Christmas cards if they're artistically inclined, and in planning and contributing to some of the house decorations or those for the tree.

As children, we had some of the nicest times doing that very thing; and as a mother I have seen that same enjoyment repeated in the next generation. So I can assure you there need not be a bored or restless hour in your home, especially when bad weather shuts in the children, if Christmas preparations become a family affair in your home, an affair which is of such wide appeal that it can truly take in boys and girls of any age.

But if, in addition, during these busy pre-holiday weeks, any of the children come down with a heavy cold or other illness, or must go thru days of convalescence in bed, you can keep them happy or contentedly busy with planning and doing for Christmas.

There are so many things within their range of skill to make that it is possible for you to help them choose from a variety of activities, depending not only upon their age and tastes, but depending too upon their strength.

For instance, in the mornings when a young invalid is freshest he may feel able to tackle a Christmas job involving patience and skill. But as the day wears on you will make it your business to see that less exacting tasks or worked at. It is perfectly possible to keep several Christmas projects going at once.

Committees Named in Drive for Jobs for Negro Women

At a meeting yesterday of a special committee appointed by the woman's division of the Chicago Urban league to direct a campaign for obtaining employment of Negro women as clerks in department stores, Mrs. Norman H. Freehling, chairman, appointed as heads of her subcommittees Mrs. Harold Rosenheim, public education; Mrs. Louise Kahn, contact; Mrs. Dorothy Weber, public speakers, and Miss Suejette Crank, recruitment.

Among the 10 Chicago women's clubs and organizations represented at the session, which was held at the Council of Social Agencies headquarters, 343 South Dearborn street, were the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, Chicago Woman's Aid, the Council of Social Agencies, and the Y. W. C. A.

The group will meet at 10 a. m. next Tuesday at the same place, and reports will be given by the chairmen on their work in contacting prospective employers, in steps toward educating the public to the idea of accepting Negro women as clerks, and in recruiting the proper type of personnel.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 30.—Now that we're academy minded, has it occurred to any one that the awards usually go to pictures of great scope? "Mrs. Miniver" was the story of England in this war; "Sergeant York" was a hero of the last; "Gone with the Wind" revived the Civil war; "Cavalcade" was a period in English history. But with paintings, it isn't the subject matter that gets first prizes; it's the dexterity and perfection which goes into it. An apple and a plate may get the prize—not the battle of Waterloo. Yet with movies we haven't taken that into consideration. For years Ernst Lubitsch has given us films to delight the soul. He's a perfectionist. He's been so copied that when we didn't know what to call certain scenes, we called it the Lubitsch touch. How we chuckled over "Ninotchka" and his latest, "Heaven Can Wait"—a boxoffice smash too. Will we give him the award as the best director of the year? I don't think so. You see, his wasn't an epic. But suppose you name me a better director.

Ernst Lubitsch.

O, Boy! Presents!

Once when Barbara Stanwyck went on Jack Benny's program he gave her a sable jacket. I wonder what she'll get for pinch hitting for Mary last Sunday. Maybe Mary will open up and give her a set of her jewelry. Boy, has she got it! . . . Jill Esmond phoned to say her mother, Eva Moore, well known character actress, has arrived from England to work at Universal. . . . John Harvey wooed and won Betty Grable in "Pin-Up Girl" and Carole Landis in "Four Jills and a Jeep." But he still has to stand in line at cafes for a table. It'll be different when those pictures get on the screen and his face becomes known.

Letter to Santa.

Virginia Bruce's collapse came when she was about ready to do another musical. Remember the way she put over "I've Got You Under My Skin?" Remember the picture she did it for—a musical satire about the navy, a la Gilbert and Sullivan? Why can't we have another like it? I'm getting a little fed up with boy-meets-girl and twenty different band leaders—and there aren't enough José Iturbis to go 'round. Why doesn't some producer grab Lauritz Melchior of the Met and let him do his imitation of Sinatra on the screen? Also, it would be pretty snappy if Jack Benny could persuade Heifetz to do a duet with him in a picture as he did on command performance for our men overseas. Our producers could get many new ideas if they could get in to the recording of command performances. They're the greatest shows going out of this town, and they owe a mighty bow to Glenn Wheaton.

Looked the Part, but—

Scenes Lionel Barrymore played as a rector in a real church, with 50 choir boys in attendance, for "Since You Went Away," long will be remembered by onlookers who got in. We've too often associated salty sentences with Jack. Not that he didn't use 'em, but the people who heard Lionel wondered if Jack hadn't learned them from his elder brother. . . . A lad of ten, Maurice Tauzin, plays Chopin as a small boy in "At Night We Dream." How he plays! . . . Too bad that Earl Carroll's is doing a black-out these lit-up nights. Union trouble. . . . Mimi Forsythe has tried so hard to crack pictures she's finally going to crack 'em in Andy Stone's "Sensations of 1944." I'm hoping she'll be as good as the part given her. She's the producer's wife, you know.

Musical Evening.

Leopold Stokowski and Al Pearce got together in San Francisco for 200 wounded Pacific vets at the Omar Khayyam restaurant. Stokowski, for a change, agreed to answer questions. When asked about his favorite symphony—he liked 'em all. . . . Steve Brody, back from New York, was telling that his daughter was stepping out with the young Barthelmess boy back there, and asked if I knew any new numbers. At that moment Arthur Hornblow came in to lunch at Romanoff's with a new one—pretty, too. "Why don't you go over and meet her?" He did, and following night she was dining with Brody. . . . Are those daily dinners between Mrs. James Hill and Rex St. Cyr serious? He hopes so. . . . Hedy Lamarr did a good nursing job on John Loder. He was over the flu in four days. . . . Kitty Carlisle worked like a beaver three months until she got her Warners contract. Now she's off to Manhattan for an indefinite stay.

On the Aisle

By Claudia Cassidy

Reports from New York on Katharine Cornell's new venture, "Lovers and Friends," indicate a friendly first night audience rather than love at first sight for Dodie Smith's English comedy of a divorce that didn't happen. Lewis Nichols, writing in the New York Times, says, "Taken by itself, her [Miss Cornell's] new play would be an insufferable bore. Taken as it must be, however, with Miss Cornell, Raymond Massey, Henry Daniell, and the rest, it is a cheerful enough evening of good acting and polite comedy, which will advance the star's career no whit, but which will please a good many people."

Katharine Cornell.

Secrecy, or perhaps indecision, continues to shroud the Chicago Opera company's rally at the Civic Opera house Sunday night, when plans are supposed to get under way for next season. Perhaps by tomorrow there will be something definite to bait an audience. The management, meanwhile, says it has several hundred balcony seats available in pairs for the asking if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the opera company at 20 Wacker drive. First come, first served, while they last.

Fortune Gallo is clamoring at the gates of the city, wanting to bring the San Carlo Opera company to town before Christmas. Specifically, he wants the Civic Opera house, the only place big enough now that the Auditorium is out of circulation. But it seems that the trustees of the Music Foundation have the power to veto any operatic project involving the Civic Opera house, and so far Mr. Gallo is out of luck. New York is more fortunate in the matter of available auditoriums. When the Ballet Russe pays its spring visit there, starting April 9, it will go into the new City Center at popular prices.

When the University of Chicago gave a luncheon the other day to honor Désiré Defauw and Hans Lange, Ernest Colwell, dean of the faculty, told an Elgarian story. "I have always been called 'Pomp" by my friends," he said, smoothing his lifelong pompadour, "but when I get a communication from President Hutchins, it invariably begins, 'Dear Circumstance.'"

Herman Clebanoff will be the new violinist when the Russian Trio appears at the Arts club this morning. Former concertmaster of the Illinois Symphony orchestra and now on the staff at NBC, Mr. Clebanoff replaces Michael Wilkomirski, who resigned.

Alice Gerstenberg's "Victory Belles," recently evicted from New York's Mansfield theater in a rental dispute, plans to reopen Sunday afternoon at the Ambassador, offering a "considerably improved" version.

CLARK TAX PLAN CREATES CHAOS, SAYS STATE AID

Collins Forecasts Wave of Protesting Suits.

Philip W. Collins, head of the state department of revenue, said yesterday that tax collection procedure downstate has been so dislocated by County Assessor John S. Clark's announcement of a 100 per cent assessment in Cook county that a special meeting of county assessors has been called for next Wednesday at Springfield.

"We have had a number of complaints," Collins said. "Many assessors don't understand why the state department's assessments of railroads and capital stock are delayed."

[Railroad and capital stock assessments are projected in the state office at Springfield. These assessments, in turn, must depend upon how much total revenue the state desires to raise and how much already is predicated upon assessments against other property. Clark's action, according to Collins, has thrown the established ratio out of balance, which in turn has held up his office's projection of railroad and capital stock totals, and their subsequent transmission to other county assessors.]

Foresees Rush of Tax Suits.

Collins predicted a great deal of litigation over the change of assessing methods here, adding that such suits may virtually paralyze tax collections in some counties.

In recent years assessments in Cook county have been at 37 per cent of full value. Downstate counties have assessed at 20 to 75 per cent. It is Clark's contention that the 37 per cent is an arbitrary figure; that it is not constitutional to assess at anything less than full valuation, and that the present Chicago tax rate of more than $10 on the $100 assessed valuation gives the city an unwarranted bad name.

$4 Tax Rate Expected.

Under his plan the total assessed valuation in the county probably will exceed 6 billion dollars, compared with 2 billion 400 million dollars previously. The consequent tax rate is expected to fall below $4.

Collins had no complaint concerning the legality of 100 per cent assessments. The revenue department, he said, would have coöperated with Clark if his proposal had been made during the session of the legislature.

Collins said that railroads with small holdings here and large holdings downstate will have, under the new system, larger total tax bills, and had notified him of their intention to litigate.

COMMISSIONER HOLDS 3 IN FIGHT ON ALIEN AGENTS

Three former members of the German American Vocational league yesterday lost the first round in their fight to escape removal to Newark, N. J., where they are under indictment for failure to register as foreign agents. United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker held them to the federal District court.

The defendants are Gustav A. Schmidt, 50 years old, 2223 Leland avenue; Otto Greiner, 45, of 7824 Karlov avenue, Skokie; and Hans Nissen, 37, of 1464 Catalpa avenue. They have contested removal proceedings on the ground that they did not know the German American Vocational league was an alien organization. They said they thought it was a social group.

QUIRK WITNESS GAINS; MAY OPEN TRIAL OF 3 TODAY

Prospects of opening the Marty Quirk murder trial today before Judge Harold G. Ward in Criminal court brightened yesterday with medical reports that James Egan, the state's star witness, had shown definite improvement from a sudden illness which attacked him Monday. It had been feared he would require an appendectomy, thus delaying the trial a month or more. The defendants to go on trial are John J. Williams, John Wright, and Anthony De Lordo—charged, along with Egan, with slaying Quirk last Sept. 18. The killing was an episode in the south side gambling war.

ASKS NEWSCASTS IN WAR PLANTS TO SPEED WORK

Personnel managers from scores of Chicago war plants last night heard Lt. William J. Bailey of the navy's industrial incentive division outline a plan for building morale in war plants thru twice daily newscasts in the Palmer House.

Two 5 minute newscasts are "piped" thru loudspeakers in the plant during each eight hour shift, Lt. Bailey said, including war news of such a nature as to spur production.

He added that where the plan has been tried it has proved successful.

DEMOCRAT GETS PRISON TERM IN MICHIGAN PROBE

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 30 [Special].—State Rep. Stanley Dombrowski, Detroit Democrat, was sentenced to a term of 3½ to 15 years in Jackson prison today when he tearfully pleaded guilty in Circuit court to giving perjured testimony before a one man grand jury investigating legislative graft.

His arraignment came as an unexpected development in the inquiry that has been in progress here since August. His name was not mentioned previously in reports of bribes being tossed about among both senators and representatives in the last three sessions of the legislature.

Questioned by Judge.

The court hearing disclosed for the first time Dombrowski had appeared before the grand jury and had testified there to having taken bribes.

In response to questions asked him by Circuit Judge Charles H. Hayden, the legislator disclosed he had told the grand jury he met a man called "Charley" at the Olds hotel here and had taken two bribes, one of $150 and another of $200, to vote against the 1941 bill to limit branch banking.

A "Poisonous Crime."

But he asserted in court this testimony was false and that he had not taken the bribes.

Judge Hayden identified "Charley" as Maj. Charles F. Hemans, former Lansing attorney and regent at the University of Michigan who now is with the provost marshal's office in Washington. Hemans, previously mentioned in the inquiry as having bribed another legislator, has denied any connection with the wrongdoing.

Dombrowski stood tearfully but without comment as Judge Hayden termed him guilty of a "poisonous crime."

The one-man grand jury investigation, conducted by Circuit Judge Leland W. Carr, has resulted in the arrest of seven other persons, including three other legislators, on charges of accepting or soliciting bribes.

Ration Violator Draws OPA Suspension Order

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 30 [Special].—Peter Scifo, operator of a grocery store and meat market, has been barred by the OPA from selling rationed meats, fats, canned fish, and cheese for 20 days and from selling canned goods for 15 days, both orders beginning Jan. 3, for violation of rationing regulations. Under a stipulation entered into with OPA officials here, Scifo accepted the suspension order after admitting over-drawing his ration banking account and other violations.

ST. GEORGE INVITED TO PLAY IN NEW YORK CITY

CHAMPION PREP ELEVENS WOULD MEET DEC. 12

Mt. Carmel May Go to New Orleans.

Plans are under way for the St. George High school football team, which won the All-Chicago city championship by defeating Wendell Phillips, 19 to 12, last Saturday, to meet Mount St. Michael, New York City Catholic champion, in the eastern city Dec. 12.

Brother Patrick, F. S. C., principal of the Evanston school, said last night that the invitation had been received and that parents of the St. George players will be canvassed today. If they agree to let the boys play, Brother Patrick said, Coach Max Burnell probably will be allowed to accept the bid. The final verdict, however, will be in the hands of the faculty members.

Agree to Make Up Time.

The players, themselves, have agreed to make up the time which would be lost in making the trip.

St. George and Mount Carmel played a scoreless tie trying to decide the championship of the Catholic league 10 days ago. Because of the limited time before the Mayor Kelly bowl game in which the Catholic league champion meets the City league titlist, a coin was tossed to determine the league's entry in the bowl, the loser to participate in a proposed post-season game.

Details Worked Out.

Details for such a game in New Orleans between the Catholic league winner and the Catholic champion of New Orleans were completed several weeks ago by Fred Digby, sports editor of the New Orleans Item, Arch Ward, sports editor of THE TRIBUNE; the Rev. James McDonnell, president of the Catholic league, and the Rev. Patrick J. Quinn, diocesan supervisor of the New Orleans Catholic Youth organization.

The contest cannot be played however, until it is sanctioned by the Louisiana State High School association. To date this sanction has not been given.

Party to Number 40.

Father Quinn called Father McDonnell last night, asking for confirmation of the fact that members of the Catholic league play members of the Illinois State High School association. This was given as Austin played Fenwick of the Catholic league and Leo played Hirsch in independent games.

If Mount Carmel goes to New Orleans for the proposed game on Dec. 26 it will meet Jesuit High, which defeated Holy Cross last Saturday for the southern city's Catholic championship. The Caravan party will number around 40 with 34 or 35 players in the group, according to an annoucement made by Wally Fromhart, coach of the Mount Carmel team.

Banquet Postponed.

The St. George Dragons played 11 games this season. In addition to their tie with Mount Carmel, they won nine and lost one. The lone defeat was dealt them by the powerful St. Rita Mustangs, 13 to 7, in a nonconference game early in the season. St. George won two nonconference games and six in the north section of the league in addition to their conquest of Phillips.

The annual Fathers' club banquet honoring the St. George team, originally scheduled for Dec. 14 at Matt Eiglers', has been postponed due to the possibility the Dragons may accept the bid to play in New York. A later date for the banquet will be announced in the next few days.

Gophers' Best

PAUL MITCHELL.

Paul Mitchell Is Gophers' Most Valuable

Honor Roll

EIGHT Western conference football squads now have chosen their most valuable players. When Iowa has announced its selection a jury of athletic officials will vote on these nominees to determine the most valuable player in the Big Nine. The eight already chosen are:

Joe Keenan, Wisconsin, center.
Otto Graham, Northwestern, half back.
Eddie Bray, Illinois, half back.
Robert Wiese, Michigan, full back.
Gordon Appleby, Ohio State, center.
John Tavener, Indiana, center.
Dick Barwegen, Purdue, guard.
Paul Mitchell, Minnesota, tackle.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 30 [Special].—Paul Mitchell, acting captain for most of the Golden Gophers' games this fall and their No. 1 nomination for All-America honors, was virtually a unanimous choice as Minnesota's most valuable in the Chicago Tribune poll.

The good natured tackle received all but three of the Gophers' votes. Those three were split among Bill Garnaas, now in advanced navy training at Wellesley college; Hoyt Moncrief, full back, who shipped out Tuesday to the Pacific coast for sea duty, and Red Williams, junior left half back.

Becomes Ensign.

Directly after the Gophers had absorbed a beating from the Iowa Seahawks Saturday, Mitchell was sworn into the navy as an ensign. He was graduated from mechanical engineering with an outstanding class room record.

Mitchell started off his greatest year as a football player this fall by playing a prominent role in the College All-Stars' decisive victory over the Washington Redskins in the annual Chicago Tribune sponsored game. He collaborated at the tackles with Dick Wildung, another Minnesota All-American and captain of the year before.

In addition to being outstanding at tackle in virtually every game, Mitchell was the iron man of the Gophers. He was worn down by the close of the season, but every one, including the Seahawks and their coach, Lt. Don Faurot, ranked him with White of Notre Dame as the two best tackles they had faced all year.

Was All-Minneapolis.

Before matriculating at the University of Minnesota, the huge tackle played a star role at Minneapolis Edison High school, winning all-city honors. Despite the fact that he carried a heavy classroom program he had time enough to go back to his high school alma mater and help his old coach, Pete Guzy, coach the Edison line "for the fun of it," an outside job to help pay his school expenses.

One of the most popular players on the Gopher squad, he also was one of the best natured. He failed, however, to achieve his own personal ambition as well as that of his mates—to score a touchdown.

Even tho a senior, he was one of the hardest workers on the squad in practice, and performed an added and outstanding service by coaching first year players in line tricks.

Mitchell was elected by his teammates tonight as honorary captain for the 1943 season.

SPONSORS TAKE GUEST ROLES IN BOWLING MEET

First Four Nights for Backers.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Chicago business men and women, who for years have lent their encouragement and financial support to local bowling teams are going to be on the other side of the fence during the third All-Star National individual match game tournament, opening Saturday morning in the Auditorium service men's center under the sponsorship of The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America.

The sponsors of a majority of Chicago's 15,000 organized teams are accustomed to being hosts and backers. During the nine days and nights of bowling's world series these folks will find themselves in a new role, that of guests. This was learned yesterday when a number of captains of the city's outstanding teams announced that they were purchasing reserved seats for their sponsors and inviting the latter to attend as their guests.

First Four Nights for Sponsors.

The majority of these advance purchases by the bowlers for their sponsors consisted of blocks of four reserved seats for a single performance. As a result, the committee in charge of the tournament have designated the first four nights of the event as Sponsors' nights.

The committee yesterday concluded the pairings and starting times for Saturday, the first day of competion for the field of 120 bowlers who will go to the line. Ten 12-man squads will bowl each of the first four days, rolling six games per day on a total pin basis for a preliminary total of 24 games. The 48 highest scorers for this four day span will then enter the semi-finals, to be transacted on Wednesday, Dec. 8. Twelve games will be rolled on this day, six in the afternoon and six in the evening. The 13 bowlers of the 48 who have the highest pin total for the five day, 36 game stretch will then join Champion Connie Schwoegler, Ned Day, and Johnny Crimmins in the finals. These will be decided on Dec. 9, 10, 11, and 12. The 16 finalists will bowl four game matches across the center eight lanes, round robin play with the Petersen point system in effect. This will make a total of 16 games a day, or 64 for the four final days.

Squad Pairings and Times.

The squad pairings and starting times for Saturday's opening program, with the number of the alley preceding each man's name, follow:

So Little Time.

So little time to do the things
We've always been meaning to do,
Years onward press like a fast express,
Recking little of me or of you.

So little time, we think to ourselves,
Evening's shadows fall fast,
Too late to start much of anything new,
Life soon will be over and past.

Too late? Why, haven't we still today,
Isn't that all that any man owns?
Whether we're old or whether we're young,
Today is all Time's loom loans.

So why not begin this very hour
On some of those things we've dreamed,
And happy at these we'll soon forget
That the years were as short as they seemed!

The Unknown Hero.

There was no band to meet him when he came back from the war,
No government official pinned a medal on his breast,
He seemed to be just one of half a million boys or more
Who looked a little weary from a lack of needed rest.

He had no scars to point to as a mark of bravery,
And yet he fought a battle in his heart while over there,
His passions tried to bind him with the chains of slavery
But somehow he subdued them with a weapon men call prayer.

He kept his heart untarnished and submissive to the Lord,
He fought with fierce temptations and he beat them to the ground,
And tho his body showed no marks of bullet or of sword,
Within his soul a thousand scars of battle could be found.

His name will not be written on the earthly hero roll;
And those who marched beside him in the ranks may never know
He fought the hardest battle of all wars —he saved his soul—
And earned the greatest gift his God and Father could bestow.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 30 (AP).—The Boston Bruins fought grimly against six Chicago Blackhawk forwards during the final 55 seconds of play tonight to protect a hard-earned lead for a 6 to 5 National Hockey league triumph before a crowd of 10,000 in the Boston arena. The victory broke the jinx the Hawks have held over Boston all season, Chicago having beaten the Bruins in all three of their previous meetings.

The Blackhawks, unbeaten in six of their last seven starts, were trailing by a 6 to 3 margin with about five minutes to play. Their furious closing drive gave them two goals and with less than a minute to play Manager Paul Thompson pulled out his goalie, Hec Highton and inserted a sixth forward into the mad scramble for the tying counter.

Bruins Cling to Lead.

The Bruins, however, clung to their slim lead and gave Maurice Corteau, their rookie goalie, tight support as the Blackhawks sniped at him from all quarters.

Bep Guidolin registered the first two Boston goals and the others came off the sticks of Herb Cain, Flash Hollett, Al Palazzari, who was making his first start for the Bruins, and Capt. Dit Clapper.

Altho the Blackhawks outshot the Bruins by a 14 to 1 margin in the first period, they were unable to break thru Corteau until after 30 minutes of play, while the Bruins were leading, 3 to 0.

Bentley Starts Hawk Scoring.

Doug Bentley started the Chicago scoring at 10:32 in the second period and before the final bell came to the hard-pressed Bruins' rescue, Cully Dahlstrom scored twice and Clint Smith and Bill Mosienko fired pucks thru the promising Corteau.

The Blackhawks leave tomorrow for Montreal, where they will meet the league leading Canadiens Thursday night.

CONCORDIA FIVE IS WALLOPED BY DE PAUL, 80 TO 31

George Mikan, star of last year's Demon squad, collected 19 points to continue his high scoring pace altho Gene Stump took personal honors for the evening with nine baskets and a pair of free throws for 20 points.

Joe McCarthy Signs 3 Year Yank Contract

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, N. Y., Nov. 30.—The big league club owners, flanked in most cases by their managers, squeezed into limited hotel space here today and prepared for the annual business sessions opening tomorrow.

The preliminaries, including representation of the minor leagues, consisted mainly of vocal bag punching, but it was learned Lou Novikoff, the famous Cub, is on Commissioner Landis' bad boy list and Joe McCarthy had been signed to another three year contract as Yankee boss.

Novikoff is not especially important in Cub plans for 1944 and nobody thought McCarthy wouldn't take on another term so the two items didn't cause any of the baseball writers to break a leg getting to a telegraph wire.

Novikoff Second Offender.

The overly ballyhooed Novikoff currently is on the commissioner's ineligible list, which bars him from baseball, but the penalty probably isn't half as severe as it sounds. The Mad Russian was one of numerous big leaguers playing winter ball for pay in California until called to account recently by Landis. There is a baseball law against such off-season endeavor and because Novikoff was a second offender he was singled out for special treatment.

Putting Novikoff among the ineligibles also means that while he is in that fix the Cubs are prohibited from making a deal for his services. It is known General Manager Jim Gallagher and Team Manager Jim Wilson are washed up on the ponderous fellow, and if the difficulty hadn't arisen, might have disposed of him before the week-end.

McCarthy Makes Announcement.

The announcement of the continuation of the McCarthy Yankee regime was announced by McCarthy in person. He summoned newspaper men to his quarters and told them the papers had been signed yesterday in the presence of President Ed Barrow, who is confined by illness. Because of a superstition, all of McCarthy's contracts with the Yanks, as well as when he was with the Cubs, have been for two or three years. He came to the Yanks after finishing five seasons with the Cubs in 1930. McCarthy also revealed he had signed Gus Mauch as a trainer. Mauch has conditioned college teams, and for the last 12 years, has worked on the New York Giants of the pro football circuit.

ALL TRACKS TO CO-OPERATE IN TRIBUNE MEET

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Five days of charity racing will be presented during next summer's Arlington Park meeting under the sponsorship of Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., with the coöperation of all track operators of this district. This was announced yesterday simultaneously with the Illinois Racing board's decision on the allotment of dates to the various tracks for the 1944 season. The charity meeting, which will run from Monday, July 3, thru Friday, July 7, will be featured by a Fourth of July program which is expected to bring some of the nation's top ranking horses into action before Chicago's racing fans.

Maj. Ednyfed Williams.

Another All-Star Event.

Chicago Tribune Charities thus adds a series of brilliant midsummer racing events to the list of its presentations which includes the All-Star football game, the Golden Gloves boxing tournament, and the National All-Star bowling event. In the past these enterprises not only have raised large sums of money for worthy charitable organizations but they also have had far reaching beneficial effects on the various sports involved.

Coöperation of all the Chicago area race track operators made possible the scheduling of the five charity days at the height of the midsummer season. The Arlington Park management placed its plant and its official staff at the disposal of Tribune Charities. The dates would not have been available, however, if the operators of Lincoln Fields, Hawthorne, and Sportsman's Park had not joined with Arlington Park and Washington Park in each relinquishing a day out of the normal schedules.

Adjustment of Dates.

This necessitated an adjustment of the dates so that no track would have to give up a Saturday. Maj. Ednyfed Williams, chairman of the Illinois racing board, studied the problem together with his colleagues, Frank Mandel and William Fay, and drew up the following schedule, which was announced yesterday:

SPORTSMAN'S PARK—Saturday, April 29, thru Monday, May 15; Wednesday, Oct. 18, thru Saturday, Nov. 4. [30 days, including six Saturdays.]
LINCOLN FIELDS—Tuesday, May 16, thru Saturday, June 17. [29 days, including five Saturdays.]
ARLINGTON PARK—Monday, June 19, thru Saturday, July 1; Saturday, July 8, thru Thursday, Aug. 3. [35 days, including six Saturdays.]
ARLINGTON PARK [as agent for Chicago Tribune Charities]—Monday, July 3, thru Friday, July 7. [5 days.]
WASHINGTON PARK—Friday, Aug. 4, thru Thursday, Sept. 7. [30 days, including five Saturdays.]
HAWTHORNE—Friday, Sept. 8, thru Tuesday, Oct. 17. [34 days, including six Saturdays.]

Governor Supports Plan.

Some weeks ago Arch Ward, sports editor of THE TRIBUNE, conferred with B. F. Lindheimer, executive director of Arlington Park, with regard to the availability of the racing plant for this enterprise. Lindheimer discussed the matter with other members of the track's operating board—John D. Allen, John O. Stoll, and Joseph J. Rice. They voted to place the full facilities of their organization at the disposal of Tribune Charities.

Subsequently, Mr. Ward took up the subject with Gov. Dwight H. Green, who was enthusiastic over the proposal that racing make another substantial contribution to charity.

When the Illinois racing board was consulted on the proposal, Maj. Williams and his colleagues expressed a readiness to coöperate in every way to make it possible.

Each Relinquishes Date.

Matt J. Winn of Lincoln Fields, John L. Keeshin of Sportsman's Park, Charles Bidwill, and Charles Krutckoff of Hawthorne were consulted on the practicability of all Chicago area tracks coöperating by relinquishing one day from each of their normally allotted schedules to make dates available for the charity project. Walter Gregory, president of Washington Park, whose meeting is coördinated with that of Arlington, was entirely agreeable on the matter of giving up a day. This enabled Maj. Williams and the board members to draw up a schedule which would distribute the relinquished days equitably.

"If transportation conditions make it possible," Lindheimer stated yesterday, "we would like to run off the charity program and our regular meeting at our own track. If this is not practicable, we'll operate again at the Washington Park plant as we did during the 1943 season."

Coast Seeks to Alter Rule on Territory

Job for Hubbell

President Horace Stoneham and Secretary Eddie Brannick made the announcement of Hubbell's retirement and appointment as farm head at the winter baseball meetings.

New York, Nov. 30 (AP).—The Pacific Coast league, holding its annual meeting, today favored an amendment to the rules of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues changing the system by which one league can acquire territory from another.

Under the present system, a class AA loop, of which the Pacific Coast league is one of three in the minors, has to pay certification. This is based on a graduated scale, topped by $50,000 to buy a territory from an A-1 league.

Under the proposed amendment, which comes before the national association meeting tomorrow, a three man board made up of the president and promotional director of the national association and the association's executive board chairman would handle such acquisitions, deciding on the terms of such a deal, including the price.

A revolution in the minor leagues, already in full swing on two fronts, reached its most startling battleground today with reports of a campaign to take all power over the minors away from baseball's high commissioner, Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

Monarchs Aim at Meisters' Lead Tonight

Capt. Bill Flesch's Monarch Beer bowlers, defending champions in the Classic league, who have won 16 of their last 18 starts, tonight will attempt to reduce the three game margin the currently leading Meister Braus hold over them.

The Monarchs are now in third place with a 21-15 record, back of the Meister Braus' 24-12 and the second place Washington Shirts' 22-14.

Tonight's schedule, to be held in the Gateway Recreation, 6432 West North avenue, sends Bill Hargadon's Meister Braus against Jerry Skovie's Washington Shirts, the Monarchs against Art Butler's National Bowling Equipment team, and Eddie Krems' Thompson's Restaurants against Stan Rudcki's United States Brewing squad.

The league leading Goransons and the second place Remias Recreation team will battle tonight in the feature match of the Northwest Ladies' league at the Cascade Bowling center, 3825 Madison street. The Goransons have lost only eight games against 28 victories.

In the other Cascade match, the Meister Braus meet the Double Cola girls. The league schedule at Bowling Lanes, 5221 Broadway, follows: Cascade vs. Marigold, and Bowling Lanes vs. Pepsi Cola girls.

Typo Machinists Enter Printcraft Tenpin Meet

The Typographical Machinists' society has entered the Chicago Printcraft Bowling association tournament in Lakeview recreation next February, James Girard, secretary and treasurer of the society, announced yesterday. Two teams from the Union Printers' league will represent the society in the impending tourney.

Ticket Sale Opens for Stadium Basketball Card

Tickets will go on sale tomorrow at the Chicago Stadium ticket office, 65 West Madison street, for the first college basketball double header of the season Dec. 11. In the opening program, Illinois will face Great Lakes and De Paul will play the University of Nebraska.

Palmer Wrestles Lewis in Rainbo Fronton Tonight

IRISH HOLD TOP SPOT IN FINAL GRIDIRON POLL

New York, Nov. 30 (AP).—If you have your Christmas shopping done and a spare buck left, bet it on Washington, Georgia Tech, Texas, Texas A. & M., Southwestern of Texas, and Southwest Louisiana insitute to win in the Jan. 1 bowl games.

That's how 131 sports writers thruout the country decided the annual New Year's day games would finish while voting in the final Associated Press poll of the 1943 football season.

The voting retained Notre Dame, despite its scenariolike loss to the Great Lakes Sailors, in first place but with a drastic cut in the Irish prestige.

Only 86 of the scribes rated the Irish as the best in the country and some of the remaining 45 listed the club no better than seventh. As it was, Notre Dame collected 1,259 points on a basis of 10 for each first place vote, nine for second, etc.

Iowa Pre-Flight aggregation captured 12 firsts and finished a strong runnerup with 1,028 points.

Michigan, Navy, Purdue, Great Lakes, Duke, Del Monte [Cal.], Pre-Flight, Northwestern, and March Field of Los Angeles, completed the first 10 in that order. Great Lakes was 21st a week ago and zoomed to sixth following its 19 to 14 decision over Notre Dame.

DORAZIO ARRIVES TODAY FOR BOUT WITH BOLDEN

Gus Dorazio, Philadelphia heavyweight, will arrive today for a 10 round bout with Nate Bolden in Chicago Stadium Dec. 10.

Dorazio, who made his Chicago debut last summer by beating Lem Franklin, pulled out of a proposed match with Tami Mauriello in Madison Square Garden Dec. 17 in order to fight Bolden.

Charles Weston Funeral Service to Be Held Today

Funeral services for Charles [Cowboy] Weston, onetime pocket billiard champion of the world, will be held at 3 p. m. today at the Carroll Undertaking chapel, Erie street and Wabash avenue. Interment will be at the Wunders cemetery, Irving Park boulevard and Clark street. Weston, whose right name was Oliver Rectanus, died Friday night at the Wesley Memorial hospital of a heart ailment. He was 67 years old.

All-Star Five Indefinite for Friday's Game

Reaching the final preparations for their game with the Washington, D. C., Bears in the Stadium Friday night, the College All-Star basketball squad is taking definite form.

One squad is working in Huff gymnasium in Champaign under the direction of Doug. Mills, who is fitting in George Senesky and Ed Beisser with four of his former Illinois players. Senesky, from St. Joseph's college of Philadelphia, is being used at one forward while Beisser of Creighton performed at forward, center, and guard during his college days. The remaining four are Illini—Art Mathisen, Gene. Vance, Jack Smiley, and Ken Menke.

Phillip Is Missing.

Andy Phillip, fifth member of the Illini quintet, is now in marine recruit camp at Parris Island, S. C., and has been unable to obtain a leave.

In Patton gym in Evanston, Coach Dutch Lonborg is directing the workouts of the remaining eight. Lonborg will use both Harry Boykoff and Milo Komenich at the same time, tho each is a center. Boykoff, 6 foot 9 inches, will be at his regular position, while Komenich, 6 foot 7 inch star from Wyoming, will be at forward. Working with the pair are two groups—Otto Graham, Northwestern, will be at one forward with John Mandic of Oregon State and Gerald Tucker of Oklahoma at guards in one unit. In the other John Abramovic will be at forward with Jim Seminoff of Southern California and Bob Faught, Notre Dame, at the guards.

Starting Lineup Indefinite.

With several possible units functioning on the two floors, there has been no indication as to the identity of the starting five. In fact, Lonborg and Mills probably won't decide definitely on their starters until just before game time.

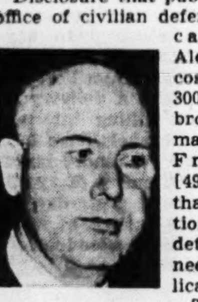
COUNCIL GROUP TO PROBE OCD PRINTING BILLS

Subcommittee Is Named for Investigation.

Disclosure that publication by the office of civilian defense of its Chicago magazine Alert has been costing about $4,300 a month brought a demand by Ald. Frank Keenan [49th] yesterday that an investigation be made to determine the need for the publication.



Ald. Frank Keenan.

The cost of publishing Alert became known when Ralph H. Burke, deputy coördinator of the OCD, sent the printing bills for the months of June, July, August, and September to the city council finance committee with a request that they be recommended for payment.

"I think we should look into this," Keenan said after the bills had been read. "The cost seems excessive. Chicago newspapers are carrying news of OCD activities and publication of them in the Alert probably is a duplication of information already printed."

Investigation Group Named.

Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], chairman of the committee, agreed, and named a subcommittee composed of Aldermen John J. Grealis [44th], Harry L. Sain [27th], and Arthur G. Lindell [9th] to investigate. The bills for the first three months total $13,057.77 and are for work done by the Western Newspaper Union. The September bill of $4,354.50 is due the Miller Supply company.

At Burke's office, it was said that until it was discontinued in October 1,250,000 copies were printed of the monthly issue of Alert. The weekly issue, which still is being published, runs 40,000 copies, which are distributed by community OCD offices. The monthly issue was discontinued, it was explained, to conserve paper and because the information contained in it now was being given to OCD workers by speakers at meetings for organization members. The printing bill for the weekly has been running $720 a month, while the bill for the monthly averaged about $3,630 a month.

Overtime Pay Approved.

The finance committee approved the payment of overtime so repairs on the Washington street bridge can be completed within a week.

The committee recommended the allotment of $300,000 in 1944 for repairs to arterial and state aid highways.

At the request of the committee, Ald. Joseph P. Rostenkowski [32d], chairman of the license committee, ordered a public hearing for Friday on new license fees recommended last week.

Commissioner of Public Works Hewitt asked the committee to consider an increase of $18,430 in the 1944 coal appropriation, now set at $818,720, because of a probable increase in price.

L. LEONHARDT, 87, LONG LYONS LEADER, IS DEAD

Louis Leonhardt, Republican committeeman for Lyons township for 30 years and one of the township's oldest residents, died at the age of 87 yesterday in his home at Gladstone and Bismarck avenues, Riverside Lawn. Born in Chicago, Mr. Leonhardt moved to Lyons township in 1883 and was a justice of the peace there from 1912 to 1924. He retired as Republican committeeman in 1930.

Mr. Leonhardt often recalled that as a newsboy in the downtown area in 1871 he sold the first bundle of CHICAGO TRIBUNES when publication was resumed after the Chicago fire. He related that customers paid as much as $1 a copy in their eagerness for news of the fire.

He is survived by his widow, Catherine, and a son, Louis Jr. Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. in the chapel at 4039 Joliet avenue, Lyons.

NEW YORK AGAIN DEMANDS LEPKE FOR EXECUTION

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP).—State Atty. Gen. Nathaniel L. Goldstein told federal authorities today that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey "cannot grant" a clemency hearing to Louis [Lepke] Buchalter, a convicted leader of "Murder, Inc.," until the latter is in New York's custody.

Goldstein, in a letter to Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle, added the governor "will not indulge in the mockery of permitting two minor figures in a murder to go to the electric chair while the major figure is safely protected from execution by the federal government."

SPARS' Mascot

[Acme Photo.]

BARBARA LOU ERLICHMAN.

New York, Nov. 30 (AP).—Barbara Lou Erlichman, 5 years old, a blue eyed miss who wears her blonde hair in braids hanging down her back, was sworn in today as official national mascot for the SPARS.

Sworn in by Lt. [j. g.] Dorothy Beckwith, SPAR recruiting officer for the 3d naval district, Junior Apprentice Seaman Erlichman promised "to be a faithful junior SPAR, to go wherever the coast guard sends me, to tell every one about the SPARS and to be a good patriotic American at all times."

Barbara Lou, who has a precocious knack for speaking in public, will serve as a special recruiting officer in the SPARS' drive for 3,000 girls needed by the coast guard.

MRS. DEERING'S FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TODAY

Donor of Big Gifts to Northwestern.

Private funeral services for Mrs. Marion Deering, philanthropist and member of a noted Chicago family, will be held at 2 p. m. today in her apartment at 2440 Lake View avenue, where she died Monday night after a long illness. The Rev. Dudley S. Stark, rector of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church, will officiate.

Mrs. Deering, 86 years old, was the widow of Charles Deering, former chairman of the board of the International Harvester company and son of William Deering. Her husband died Feb. 4, 1927.

Daughter of Civil War General.

Born in Norristown, Pa., Mrs. Deering was the daughter of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. William Denison Whipple. Gen. Whipple was chief of staff of the army of the Cumberland during the Civil war.

Following the Deering family tradition, she made many large gifts to Northwestern university, and in 1932, with three children, established the Charles Deering library at Northwestern.

Member of Many Societies.

Mrs. Deering was a governing life member and benefactor of the Art Institute and a member of the Friday club, the Fortnightly club and the Casino club, all of Chicago; Colony club of New York, Mayflower society, Daughters of American Revolution, and Society of Colonial Dames.

In addition to her daughters, she is survived by six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The grandchildren are Lieutenants C. Deering McCormick and Richard E. Danielson of the navy; Lt. J. Deering Danielson of the British army; Lt. Roger S. McCormick, army air force; Brooks McCormick and Miss Marion Danielson.

MINSTREL PLAYER DIES.

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 20 [AP].—Bert Swor, old time minstrel player, who came here from his home in Dallas to act as middle man in a benefit minstrel, was found dead today in his hotel room.

SCHOOL BOARD REQUESTS TAX LEVY INCREASE

BY JOSEPH GREEN.

The Chicago board of education's tax levy for 1944 will be increased approximately $1,008,395 over that for 1943 if an estimated budget prepared by Howard P. Savage, business manager of the board, is put into effect. Copies of estimated tax and other resources and expenses for 1944, prepared by Savage, were mailed last night to members of the board, which is expected to consider the figures at a meeting probably next Wednesday.

The schedule calls for $67,450,728 in five separate levies, compared with a total levy of $66,442,333 for 1943. Other revenue for 1944 is estimated at approximately $4,000,000.

The proposed increase, the schedule shows, results entirely from the restoration of teachers' and other board employes' pay in 1943. This increase was given thru use of what were called nonrecurring revenues and economies of the board. Now the levy must be increased to maintain the pay scale, Savage said.

Educational Fund Increased.

Thus the educational fund, levied at $52,000,000 for 1943, is set at $53,200,000 for the proposed 1944 budget. The $53,200,000 is the limit set for the educational fund in a pegged levy established at the last session of the state legislature.

Reductions total $191,605 in three other fund levies: School playgrounds, from $483,000 to $465,000; teachers' pension and retirement, from $2,322,000 to $2,233,900, and bond redemption and interest from $4,383,333 to $4,297,828.

State Will Contribute More.

Increased state payments will result from a new regulation which goes into effect next July 1, by which the amount paid the board per pupil in average daily attendance in elementary schools will be raised from $11 to $13 per pupil and $2 will be paid for each high school student. No allowance has been given for hig hschool students previously.

The board's estimated total expenses for 1944 will be about half a million dollars less than for 1943, the business manager estimates. The 1944 estimate is for expenditure of $71,312,886.25, compared with $71,761,776.84 in 1943.

BOY SCOUTS ADD 27,000 WORKERS TO SCRAP DRIVE

Chicago's 27,000 Boy Scouts yesterday joined the "Sock a Jap with Scrap" drive and will concentrate on the collection of tin cans, William L. McFetridge, office of civilian defense salvage director, said.

Scrap metal contributed for munitions making is to be taken to city and parochial schools on the morning of Dec. 7, second anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor, "to show the Japanese we can't be beaten," McFetridge explained, adding:

"Altho tin can salvage nationally has increased 20-fold in less than two years, Chicago is not doing as well as some other cities. Collections are increasing month by month, but not enough people take the trouble to remove the labels and wash and flatten their cans. Two-thirds of them are not being turned in."

The war production board said the 14 tin recovery plants, including one in East Chicago, Ind., could handle twice their current receipts.

NAVY TO LAUNCH BIG BATTLESHIP WISCONSIN DEC. 7

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 30 (AP).—The Wisconsin, third of the navy's "biggest battleship" class and one of the heaviest vessels in maritime history, will go down the ways at the Philadelphia navy yard Dec. 7—second anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack—the fourth naval district announced tonight.

The New Jersey, second ship of the class, was launched at the same yard last Dec. 7. First of the class was the Iowa, launched at the Brooklyn navy yard in August, 1942.

OBITUARIES

Charles S. Johnson.

Services for Charles S. Johnson, 80 years old, 327 Sheridan place, Lake Bluff, will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow in the First Presbyterian church of Lake Bluff. VALUE OF FREER ESTATE SAID TO EXCEED MILLION

Archibald E. Freer, 88 years old, retired capitalist and real estate operator, who died Monday, bequeathed $10,000 to Provident hospital and $15,000 to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, it was disclosed yesterday when his will was filed for probate.

Atty. Cecil Barnes estimated that Freer, who lived at 179 Lake Shore drive, left an estate in excess of $1,000,000. He bequeathed $25,000 to the Royal School for Daughters of the King at Bath, England, and $10,000 to Ethel Steel, a former principal of the school. Employes of the Cambridge building at 160 North Wells street, which he owned, are to receive a year's salary.

Freer willed $100,000 to his daughter, Mrs. Leonard Karcher of Barrington, and $100,000 to her husband. A nephew, Edward R. Hills of Oak Park, was left $5,000 and named executor. The remainder of the estate was left in trust for 15 years for the benefit of Mrs. Karcher. Should she die without an heir, this residue is to go to Provident hospital.

COP IS CLEARED OF RAPE CHARGE; GIRL PENALIZED

Policeman James Bitner, 31 years old, of the Hudson avenue station, was found not guilty on a rape charge in Felony court yesterday when the complaining witness without explanation refused to prosecute. The witness, Miss Inez Clark, 25, of 4145 Broadway, was severely rebuked by Judge William V. Daly and assessed court costs of $15.

Miss Clark had accused Policeman Bitner of attacking her in her apartment, but when the case was called her lawyer, Harry Marcus, asked that the charge be dropped. Bitner's lawyer, George Crane, demanded a not guilty finding. Bitner, he said, is married, a father and reputable citizen. He was ready, he added, to prove by apartment employes that Bitner had not visited Miss Clark's room and had not attacked her.

Miss Clark remained mute at this charge at which Judge Daly remarked: "It is a terrible thing to bring such a charge. It can be worse than murder. It could blight this policeman's reputation, and ruin his career." Then he ordered Miss Clark to pay the court costs of the case. Bitner, who lives at 534½ Belmont avenue, has been under suspension since Nov. 12 as a result of the rape charge.

3 BOYS CONFESS 30 BURGLARIES ON SOUTH SIDE

Thirty south side retail store burglaries during the last five weeks were cleared up by Englewood police yesterday with the arrest of three teen age burglars who described themselves as the "skylight burglars" because they favored that mode of entry.

The boys, who lounged in chairs at the police station during their interrogation, are Thomas O'Brien, 15 years old, 5105 South Halsted street; Jack McMillan, 14, of 5510 South Halsted street, and Thomas Finley, 16, of 5855 South Racine avenue. O'Brien was discharged eight months ago from the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles, and McMillan is a student at De La Salle High school.

"They kicked over boxes, dumped shelves of goods on the floor, and scattered paper in the stores," Sgt. John Olson said. "They were likely to leave loot on the roof of an adjoining building, or toss it in the gutter."

SAYS FCC HEAD CASHIERED NAVY MAN FOR SPITE

Craven Accuses Fly of Revenge Action.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—T. A. M. Craven, a member of the federal communications commission, told a house committee today that one man was "practically cashiered out of the navy" for opposing the will of FCC Chairman James Lawrence Fly.

Craven, who has differed with Fly over commission policies, gave his testimony while indorsing proposed legislation to limit the FCC's authority to regulate the radio industry—legislation that Fly has opposed.

Pressed for further information about the "cashiered" individual by members of the house committee investigating the FCC, Craven said he could not identify him.

Report Charge Confirmed.

Eugene L. Garey, committee counsel, then said, "We have testimony which we are not permitted to use, which confirms the commissioner's testimony." He added that a gentleman's agreement with a high navy official would make it a breach of good faith if the name were disclosed.

Rep. Warren G. Magnuson [D., Wash.], objecting to what he termed "bringing this to light by innuendo," asked:

"Did the secretary of the navy say he visited reprisals on this man?"

"Yes," replied Garey.

Garey also said army and navy officials had been forbidden by executive order to testify before the committee.

Urges Curb on Authority.

Craven expressed the opinion that the FCC's authority over the radio industry should be restricted to guarantee broadcasters "freedom from fear of government reprisals or pressures."

He said he was opposed to any prohibition against newspapers operating radio stations in the future, which Fly recently said the FCC has under consideration.

"It is more likely to retard the application of new radio developments to the service of the public than to correct potential abuses," Craven said. There is no evidence, he added, that newspaper owned stations "have been operated as such contrary to the public interest."

XAVIER CUGAT'S NEW PROGRAMS START TONIGHT

Xavier Cugat, who has made Latin-American rhythm so popular that even the Latin-Americans like it, will introduce a new series of programs over W-G-N and 60 other Mutual stations at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Cugat specializes in rumbas, sambas, and congas nowadays, but was once a newspaper cartoonist. Lina Romay, one of the sauciest singers to shake a maraca, and Don Rodney, the Caribbean Sinatra, will support Cugat and his orchestra.

Julia Sanderson's new show—the first since her husband, Frank Crumit, died—is to be entitled Let's Be Charming. It will be introduced over W-G-N and Mutual at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow. She will be supported by Pat Barnes, the piano-organ team of Jack Shilkret and Johnny Gart, and a vocal trio. As guests she will present beauties of Broadway and the night clubs.

Another woman has joined the ranks of network announcers. She is Alice Yurman, heard on Fulton Oursler's new question and answer program on Mutual. Others that come to mind are Lois Mae Nolte of the Musical Steelmakers, Elizabeth Hart, and Bess Johnson.

At about 10 a. m. today WMAQ-NBC expect to present interviews with several of the Americans who were interned by the Japs and are returning on the exchange ship Gripsholm. The ship is expected to dock at Jersey City this morning.

Harper Library to Open Rare Book Room Dec. 6

The rare book room of Harper Memorial library at the University of Chicago will hold a formal opening Dec. 6 in new quarters on the sixth floor of the library building on the campus. More than 18,000 volumes have been placed in new surroundings. Among the new manuscripts on display will be three Gaelic writings, Geoffrey Keating's history, 1725; devotional tracts, 1703, and a Life of Christ, 1700.

Model Engaged

CARLYN TRUAX.

A romance that was begun in typical movie fashion was disclosed yesterday with word of the engagement of Miss Carlyn Truax, model, dancer, and student, to Corp. James H. Drumm Jr., son of the vice president of the National City Bank of New York. The engagement was formally announced by Mr. and Mrs. Drumm in their home at 875 Park avenue, New York.

The two met in 1941 aboard ship en route to Rio de Janeiro when Miss Truax was on tour with the Abbott Dancers of the Palmer House. He was on the way to his family's South American home. Young Drumm pursued Miss Truax on her dancing tour thru South America, Mexico, and back home. Even the army couldn't restrain his courtship. Drumm is 21 years old, a former Dartmouth student, and is attached to the army air base at Reno, Nev.

Miss Truax is 20, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolff Truax, 7767 South Shore drive. A third year student at the University of Chicago, Miss Truax last year was voted 1942 queen by Pulse magazine.

NEW RULING ON LIBEL UPHOLDS PAPER'S RIGHTS

W. Virginia Suit Has Odd Twists.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 30 (AP).—West Virginia's Supreme court, in a guiding decision on libel, took the position today that acts of public officials are of such concern to the public that misstatements about the acts are "qualifiedly privileged" if made in good faith and in belief the statements are true.

The unanimous decision was handed down in a $100,000 damage action of Road Commissioner Ernest L. Bailey against the Charleston Mail association and Publisher Walter E. Clark.

Comment on Bridge Deal.

Bailey based his suit on criticism in Clark's personal column in the Charleston Daily Mail of purchase of the "silver bridge" over the Ohio river at Point Pleasant, W. Va., in December, 1941. Clark had said the state used an agent in its negotiations and the agent received a $50,000 fee.

The Mail filed an amended plea in Kanakha county Circuit court in which it contended it had the right of fair comment and privilege upon the acts of public officials. Bailey filed a demurrer to this plea, but Circuit Judge Julian Bouchelle overruled him and certified the case to the Supreme court for review on the law points involved.

The case now returns to the lower court where it may be tried. Attorneys asserted that the effect of the decision was that, if the Mail could prove the [good faith and belief] allegations made in its plea, they would constitute a defense to the libel action.

The Court's Opinion.

The court in an opinion by Judge W. T. Lovins declared: "We reached the conclusion that the official acts of a public officer are of such concern and importance to the public generally that a misstatement thereof is qualifiedly privileged if made in good faith and in a reasonable and honest belief that the statement is true.

"We restrict the rule as stated above to official acts done in the performance of a public officer's official duty."

PRINTING PRESS PARTS STOLEN.

Police were asked yesterday by August Blum, owner of Aldine Press, 1209 Harrison street, to search burglary suspects for parts of a printing press carried away after a window of his shop had been broken.

STOCK MARKET CLOSES UNEVEN; SPECIALTIES UP

New York, Nov. 30 (AP).—Stocks showed selective improvement today after prices had reached lowest levels since last March, but declines outnumbered advances. Specialties, including utility preferreds, made the best record.

Some accounts were reinstated on the belief that the downswing had put the list in a much healthier technical condition and may have discounted many possible post-war economic difficulties. Other traders, however, awaited details of reported meetings of allied chiefs abroad.

Tax selling for income tax purposes again was a mild handicap, and some apprehension was evident over the revenue battle in congress.

American Distilling was strong, holding a gain of 3¼ points at 94½. Santa Fe was up more than a point as directors voted the usual dividend but ended ahead only ¼. Allied Chemical fell 2¼ when the board failed to declare a special payment, in addition to the regular dividend.

CHICAGO STOCKS LAG.

A majority of the issues traded on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday declined, but the volume leaders were unchanged or higher. Middle West corporation, Commonwealth Edison, Chicago corporation common, and Armour closed steady. Midland United A preferred rose ½. Monroe Chemical preferred climbed 4 points to 45, a new peak for the year.

RAIL BONDS RECOVER.

New York, Nov. 30 (AP).—Numerous rail loans today retrieved a large part of yesterday's losses, but other sections of the bond market extended the recent narrow, uneven drift. Transactions totaled $7,851,800, compared with $8,046,700 yesterday.

Heavy buying of Milwaukee railroad issues brought advances of fractions to 3 points.

People and Events

Arthur Andersen & Co., one of the world's largest public accounting firms and the only one originating in Chicago, today is celebrating its 30th anniversary. The company, which maintains Chicago headquarters, also is represented in 13 other cities in the United States and in a number of foreign countries. Arthur Andersen, senior partner, was the organizer of Northwestern university's accounting department and formerly served there as a professor. He also was president of the university's board of trustees.

W. K. Studebaker, son of the late Henry Studebaker, one of the five brother-founders of the Studebaker corporation, South Bend, Ind., was among seven employes honored this week for the completion of 40 years with the company. Studebaker is paymaster for the automotive division. He is 68 years old.

Eric A. Nicol has been elected vice president of United Drug, Inc., in charge of personnel. He formerly was chief of the lend-lease mission to Australia.

LIGHT HOGS RISE AS GOVERNMENT TYPES ARE SLOW

All except "government weight" hogs were sold quickly in the Chicago stock yards yesterday at strong to higher prices, some of the lightest advancing as much as 25 cents a hundred pounds. Steady prices were paid for as many of the 200 to 270 pounders as packers could handle, but it was estimated that about 6,000 of the "supported" weights remained unsold.

The $13.75 "floor" was the top for the 17th consecutive market session, again equaling the lowest top since December, 1942. The average moved up 5 cents more to $13.60, highest level since Nov. 18. Many smaller packing centers reported increasing congestion and heavier supplies on the way from farms.

Steers ruled steady to slightly lower. Lambs were weak to 10 cents lower.

REPORT CONTROL FIGHT DEVELOPS IN RYE MARKET

A fight for control of the rye market with strong interests on both sides of the December delivery, was indicated yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Cargill, Inc., reputed to have been short December futures, partly reflecting hedges against cash rye held in the American and Canadian northwest, was reported to have shipped 3½ to 4 million bushels of the grain to Chicago from Fort William, Ont., to make a delivery on its contracts to milling interests. About 2 million bushels have been received, and the remainder is due in a few days. Tenders of rye on December contracts yesterday aggregated 2,015,000 bushels of which 270,000 bushels were retendered.

No Action on Probes.

Cash houses were aggressive buyers of December rye and the price advanced 1⅛ cents from the early low with the finish at the top, up ½ cent. The deferred months finished ⅛ to ¼ cent higher.

Opposed to the short interests were said to be several professional traders and cash firms who are long on December rye.

Several weeks ago the Board of Trade and the war food administration compliance branch started investigations to determine if manipulation was being attempted in December rye, but neither has reported its findings. Uncompleted contracts in December rye had been reduced about 50 per cent in the last three weeks to 10,718,000 bushels when trading started.

Rise to New Peaks.

Announcement that the government would pay a subsidy of 5½ to 16 cents a bushel on wheat in order to permit mills to sell flour at its ceiling price sent futures to new peaks. Profit taking cut gains to ⅝ to 1⅛ cents per bushel higher. Oats gained ⅛ to ¼ cent and barley was ⅛ to ¾ cent higher.

FACTS EVERY DOG LOVER SHOULD KNOW

DID YOU KNOW . . . that your dog is color-blind?

DID YOU KNOW . . . that he enjoys food in his stomach?

DID YOU KNOW . . . that meat alone, cooked or uncooked, is not the perfect diet for a dog?

In impartial laboratory tests of the Ideal Formula the third generation of a family of dogs is now eating Ideal Dog Food exclusively. Their parents and grandparents are still being fed Ideal exclusively. Of this food a famous *chemist has said:—"No dog food I have ever seen, at any price, produced such growth, such luxuriant hair, such vigor and good health." Ideal Dog Food is the result of years of dog food manufacturing experience—and of an intensive laboratory search by expert Dog Nutritionists, for the finest dog food they could produce.

"BOLUS" METHOD aids in change to Ideal

Thousands of dog owners are using the simple "Bolus" Method to solve their wartime feeding problems. Easy to use, and usually effective even with finicky eaters. Read all about the "Bolus" Method and about Ideal in our new Free Booklet.

"A" Vitamins Retained Indefinitely

Among experts it is well known that Vitamin "A" is fugitive, fleeting. That, in time, it escapes—disappears—evaporates—from even the tightest container.

To experienced Dog Nutritionists the imperative need for "A" Vitamins in the canine diet has long been an accepted fact. Now, as a result of years of experimentation, Wilson & Co. offers in Ideal a dog food in which these "A" Vitamins are retained indefinitely. Your dog really gets the good of them.

A QUALITY PRODUCT BY

WILSON & CO. INC.

ALL DOGS ARE COLOR-BLIND so red meat color adds nothing to dog's food

The dish of chopped meat you set before your dog, with its red meat color, is just a mass of gray to his eyes. He sees practically the same color in a dish of Ideal Dog Food.

Ideal has just as much eye-appeal to your dog as fresh meat.

DOGS IGNORE FRESH MEAT! Incredible, but true!

In the laboratories where impartial feeding tests of Ideal Dog Food have been made, there are three generations of dogs that have been raised on Ideal and distilled water exclusively. These dogs have become so accustomed to ideal that no other food tempts them. When fresh meat is offered they actually ignore it. Incredible, but true.

A COMPLETE, ALL-IN-ONE MIXED DIET Not a wartime substitute

War or no war, Ideal Dog Food in its moisture-free form, was bound to come. Moist, dry or liquid, it is a scientifically perfected food which your dog will gulp down freely and with pleasure, once he is given the opportunity to savor and enjoy it. And because it is an expert combination of needed food factors, Ideal is even better than fresh meat alone—as a steady diet.

WAR AGENCIES START SALE OF SURPLUS GOODS

RFC Studies Plant Disposal Policy.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Disposal of the immense surpluses of a wide variety of material, from wooden mustard spoons to factories, which the government amassed as part of the war program, is a major problem in the nation today.

As the army and navy moved to prepare for the liquidation of the big surpluses by inviting industry to bid on their vast stores, Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, today told the house public grounds and buildings committee he believed the surplus goods should be sold by the government departments and agencies which made the purchases.

"The agencies which made the purchases ordinarily would be in the best position to sell," he said, but added that they should be made to conform to an over-all policy.

RFC Surveys Plants.

Jones reported the Reconstruction Finance corporation is engaged in a survey of plants financed by the Defense Plant corporation, an RFC subsidiary, looking toward the disposal of the plants to private industry. The RFC also is working on a program for the disposal of strategic materials.

In disposing of the plants, Jones said the government shouldn't "overlook the opportunity" of preventing the establishment of monopolies. He referred particularly to the aluminum and aircraft industries.

He said the RFC had financed aluminum plants with a total capacity of 1 billion 200 million pounds a year. The plants of the Aluminum Company of America and Reynolds Metals corporation have an aluminum capacity of about 1 billion pounds a year. Thus, he said, the government controls approximately 55 per cent of the aluminum production facilities. He said he "certainly would not" favor selling government plants to either of these large producers.

Controls Most of Plane Capacity.

Jones said the government also controls 8 to 9 per cent of steel production capacity, about 90 per cent of the aircraft production facilities, and practically all synthetic rubber producing facilities.

He said the country could produce much more steel than it previously required in peace time, seven times as much aluminum as was used before the war, and "at least a third more" synthetic rubber than the amount of natural rubber we used before the war. He said there were indications synthetic rubber could be produced just as cheaply as we could buy natural rubber at pre-war prices, and that it would be just as good.

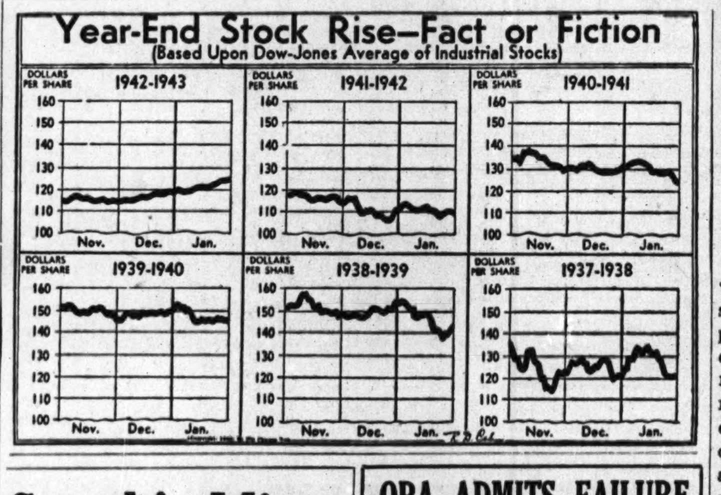
Altho the army and navy are promising bargains to purchasers of surplus stock, Jones warned that the public should not expect "too many bargains," adding the selling price should have some relation to the cost of production.

The army and the navy are promising sales to bidders, without emphasis on production cost. The navy is handling surplus sales thru three material redistribution and disposal offices in Chicago, New York, and San Francisco. The Chicago office is in room 1260 of the Board of Trade building.

Act as Clearing Houses.

"Each of these offices will act as a clearing house for all surplus materials available within its district, and will disseminate information as to what categories are offered for sale," the navy reported. "All material will be grouped into 20 broad categories, to simplify inquiries and bidding."

The army has distributed catalogs of surplus air corps materials to prospective bidders. It also is perfecting an organization for the handling of surplus material in all branches of the service.



South's Mines Are Left Out of Contract Talks

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The United Mine workers and most of the nation's soft coal producers decided today to negotiate a wage contract without the participation of southern producers.

In the presence of Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, who made another appeal for speed, John L. Lewis and the northern and western operators voted to meet tomorrow to write a contract based on the Ickes-Lewis formula.

The Southern Coal Producers' association and Alabama commercial producers were the only major groups refusing to negotiate on that basis.

More Time Is Sought.

It was understood the representative of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company asked more time to announce his vote, and that all other coal associations, including the northern captives [steel company owned] voted to proceed with the contract.

These operators represent about 75 per cent of all soft coal tonnage.

The mine workers heretofore had insisted on a national contract, but after Edward R. Burke, president of the Southern Coal Producers' association, had re-asserted his opposition to the Ickes-Lewis pact, UMW district presidents took a poll and agreed to sign with the southerners excluded.

The Ickes-Lewis agreement, under which the miners are being paid while the mines are in government possession, considers underground travel time as part of the working day and pays for it at a rate of 66⅔ cents an hour before 40 hours have been worked in any week and $1 an hour for the rest of the week. The agreement assumed 45 minutes of travel time daily.

More Than That, He Says.

Burke maintains travel time in the south is more than 45 minutes and that when this officially is determined the added travel time will cut into the actual hours spent in productive work.

[Reports on actual travel time involved in soft coal mine operations were requested yesterday by Morris L. Cooke, chairman of a Presidential committee on portal to portal travel time. The reports will be filed by mine operators and local mine union representatives, covering approximately 2,500 mines owned by 1,800 companies.]

A five man committee of operators will meet the union officials, probably in a hotel here rather than in the interior department where discussions have been proceeding for two weeks under Ickes.

It would have been a seven man committee, including two southern representatives, but the southerners were forced out by a decision of the wage conference that all who did not believe they could reach an agreement within the Ickes-Lewis formula should withdraw.

Reservations on Western Roads Limited to Month

H. W. Siddall, chairman of the Transcontinental and Western Passenger association, announced yesterday that effective Jan. 1 western railroads will limit to one month the maximum time for which passenger reservations will be accepted. Previously, reservations could be made for the current month and the month following.

OPA ADMITS FAILURE TO RULE GRAPE JUICE THRU WINE CEILINGS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—The OPA today removed the remainder of the 1943 crop of California juice grapes from price control, admitting its attempts at grape price control within the state thru ceilings on wine had failed. OPA said it faced a situation in which there was an "abnormal diversion of grapes into California sales and a resultant shortage for wineries and home users outside the state."

OPA explained it tried indirect control thru wine ceilings because most sales inside the state were to wineries

Unity to Raise Output Urged by Johnston

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—To avoid mass unemployment after the war, Eric Johnston outlined a formula tonight which he said could achieve the "same fourfold unity at home that the Moscow agreement portends abroad."

Asserting that despite conflicts the things that make management, labor, agriculture, and government one "are a thousandfold greater than the things that divide them," Johnston, who is president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, added that unity among them "will mean that we are on the threshold of America's greatest development."

"Management," he said, "must understand that labor unions are here to stay; that we must have lower profit per unit and bigger volume of sales; that high wages are important if based on a correspondingly high level of production.

"Labor must remove any acts or policies which restrict or retard production. Labor must clean its own house.

"Agriculture must recognize the necessity for constantly lowered costs and greater efficiency; that an economy of scarcity is an economy of ruin.

"Government must understand that you don't increase purchasing power by taking a dollar from somebody and handing it to somebody else; that the individual should be stimulated to his greatest productive capacity."

WFA to Boost Corn Ceilings; May Be $1.14

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—Marvin Jones, war food administrator, said today that an increase in the present $1.07 a bushel [Chicago base] ceiling prices on corn will be announced within a few days. The move has been advocated by farmers as a means of relieving the east coast dairy and poultry feed shortage that has cut production of milk and eggs.

Jones made the statement to a group of senators from the corn belt, called to discuss the corn problem. It was the first official confirmation of long circulated reports that the office of price administration was about to take such action.

Until now, the plea of farmers that corn prices must be raised to start corn moving from the farms in the grain belt to the shortage areas has been opposed by the OPA on the ground that the boost would be another breach in the President's hold-the-line order against inflation.

Result of Joint Action.

Jones said the WFA had been working with OPA in an attempt to fix new corn ceilings. Altho he did not tell the senators how much the ceilings would be raised, it was learned from informed sources that the new ceiling is expected to be $1.14 a bushel, the current parity price.

Jones asked the 13 senators attending the meeting what they thought the ceiling should be and they estimated anywhere from $1.17 to $1.28 a bushel, Chicago basis. Rumors had persisted that the ceiling would be $1.25 a bushel, the figure which farmers estimate corn is worth to them converted into pork.

Current Ceiling Blamed.

According to farmers and feed dealers, it is the $1.25 a bushel value of corn in the form of pork, as against the $1.07 ceiling that has created the shortage of feedstuffs outside the corn belt. J. B. Hutson, commodity credit corporation president, told the senators that too high a corn ceiling would cause a sharp cut in meat production.

Trade sources said the corn ceiling revision is expected to accocmpany a complete general revision of the corn price structure under OPA regulations, an announcement of new ceiling prices for hard wheat and hay, and an order freezing prices on oats, barley, and grain sorghums in preparation for the establishment of permanent price ceilings.

Lake Shore Trust Will Be National Bank Today

The Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank, which has operated under state authority since its establishment in 1920, will begin business today as the Lake Shore National bank, President Joseph R. Frey announced yesterday after receipt of a national bank charter. Later in December, stockholders will be asked to approve the distribution of a 25 per cent dividend payable in stock.

OPERA BUILDING OWNER PLANS WIDER ACTIVITY

Will Recapitalize, Buy Finance Firm.

The 20 Wacker Drive Building corporation, owner of the 45 story office building which includes the Civic Opera house and Civic theater, plans to widen the scope of its activities by acquisition of the La Salle Industrial Finance corporation, James C. Thompson, president of Wacker, announced yesterday. Company directors approved the plan, subject to vote of stockholders at a special meeting called for Dec. 28. Recent purchase by the company of Continental Industrial Engineers, Inc., also was disclosed.

The plan, which will open a new chapter in the affairs of the enterprise established in 1928 under the leadership of the late Samuel Insull, includes recapitalization, a change in the company's name to General Industries corporation, and a guaranty by General Finance corporation of dividend payments of 6 per cent on two classes of new $5 par value preferred stock for three years from Jan. 1, 1944.

Controled by General Finance.

General Finance, of which Owen L. Coon is chairman, owns all the building company's common stock and about 10 per cent of its preferred stock, and also owns control of La Salle Industrial Finance. A proxy statement said the merger would become effective upon approval by holders of at least two-thirds of each class of stock of the building corporation and by two-thirds of all the stock of La Salle.

The statement said all earnings from the building assets are subject to assignment to the mortgagee, Metropolitan Life Insurance company, until payment in full of the mortgage securing an indebtedness of $9,525,000 [remaining from an original 10 million] "so that there is little present prospect of any dividends on the old preferred stock." That issue has a claim on assets of $100 a share, plus accumulated dividends now amounting to $72 a share. In the recapitalization,

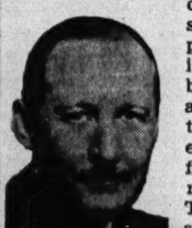
Auto Industry Reconversion Put Up to U. S. by Buick Chief

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Flint, Mich., Nov. 30.—The No. 1 problem before the automobile industry as it considers the prospect of turning its facilities to building cars again is the adoption by the government of a fixed program on reconversion. This program should embrace policies for the disposition of the tools and machines in war plants and of the big inventories of raw materials used in war production.



Harlow H. Curtice.

Harlow H. Curtice, vice president of the General Motors corporation and head of the Buick division, expressed this opinion today in discussing the outlook for a resumption of automobile production. At the moment, he said, man power and materials are not available to build automobiles, but the course of the war may change that.

Quick Employment Sought.

The government should act now, however, to establish a reconversion policy so that no delay will be forced on industry after the war in putting men back to work, he said.

Reconversion of the automobile industry will be a major job, altho not as tough as its conversion to war because then the auto manufacturers had to get into entirely new operations. It will be a big job, however, because this is the first time the industry ever has gone completely out of the building of cars—manufacture was not stopped in World War I. A good conversion plan should be set up by some branch of the government so the country will not be caught flat footed when peace returns, he said.

The government "green light" on automobile production, when it comes, should apply to subcontractors and suppliers as well as to the major companies because all manufacturers obtain parts from subcontractors. Buick, for example, has many hundreds and the General Motors family has more than 18,000. Without them, automobile production could not be resumed.

Were Germany to be defeated before the Japanese, he said, partial restoration of peace work may be expected. In this event it would be well for the industry to be relieved of certain war commitments so it would know how much of its plant could be used for autos.

Needs 90 Days to Start.

Unless it were relieved of some of these commitments, what would be likely to happen would be that the industry could produce more war materials than could be used.

It may be wise to permit at least a part of plant facilities to be used to build cars if man power and raw materials become available, he said.

Telling of his own company, Curtice said Buick could start an auto assembly line running 90 days from the time the government permitted plants to be cleared of all war machinery. Curtice also disclosed that the Buick plans contemplate the production of about 50 per cent more cars than were built in the 1941 season—the last year of full production—which would mean about 500,000 cars.

EARLY YULE BUYING EXPANDS CONSUMER CREDIT IN OCTOBER

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—Reflecting the campaign for early Christmas shopping, consumer credit increased nearly 95 million dollars in October, the federal reserve board reported today.

The rise, chiefly in charge account indebtedness, brought total consumer credit to 4 billion 956 millions, a decline of 1 billion 447 million from a year ago.

Charge accounts at the end of October aggregated 1 billion 366 million, a drop of 53 million dollars from the same date in 1942.

MOTION TO CURB VITAMIN PRICE CEILINGS DENIED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—Justice Jennings Bailey of District of Columbia court, dismissed today an injunction suit brought by 13 large drug and chemical companies to restrain the office of price administration from issuing a maximum price order for packaged vitamins and vitamin products.

He upheld an OPA motion which declared the court did not have jurisdiction because of the emergency price control act. Justice Bailey also denied a motion for a temporary restraining order made by the firms.

LIQUIDATE FHA INSURING UNIT, ASKS WHITLOCK

BY AL CHASE.

Liquidation of the federal housing administration's mortgage insuring functions as soon as possible after the war and replacement of these activities by facilities of private financial institutions was recommended last night by Douglas Whitlock, president of the Producers' council, a national organization. He made this suggestion at the national war conference of the United States Savings and Loan league in the Palmer House.

Granting that the FHA had served a valuable purpose in the past and had demonstrated the feasibility of mutual mortgage insurance, Whitlock declared that post-war housing needs would be met best by returning full responsibility to private business and reducing federal control over construction.

Urges Limit on Extension.

To accomplish this switch from public to private operation he suggested that FHA operations be continued in early post-war years only until private enterprise can take over its mortgage insurance functions.

Whitlock, who is a Washington, D. C., attorney, warned that the construction industry must work closely with war production board officials in removing restrictions on private building to provide maximum employment for demobilized construction workers when the war program begins to slow.

"Manufacturers of building materials and equipment represented by our organization believe in the principle that government should assist and motivate private enterprise, but not compete with it," he said, "and that we should work to hasten the day when government will revert to its true and legitimate function.

Adequate Financing Asked.

WE FIND PEOPLE BOTHERED BY THIS QUESTION:

"Am I doing a good job of looking after my securities?"

Are my security income records such that I can estimate my tax returns accurately and easily under the new requirements of the "pay-as-you-go" income tax law?

An agency account here will keep these records for you.

What about my income from securities when I am traveling?

An agency account here will collect this income and make it available to you promptly.

Do I take time properly to consider my investment problems?

1. Periodic analysis of securities;

2. Suggestion of any changes in securities that may seem desirable from an investment and tax point of view;

3. Discussion of suggestions with the owner.

You know the burdensome details of looking after your securities. But you can relieve yourself of many of these details merely by giving us a simple letter of instructions and bringing or sending us the securities. You keep full control over your securities while they are in your agency account. The arrangement can be ended as easily as it was started. The cost of the service is moderate.

Feel free to inquire of any of our officers how an agency account can be made to work for you.

TO HOLDERS OF
BARAGUA SUGAR ESTATES
Fifteen-Year Participating Income Debentures, due July 1, 1947

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the board of directors has declared payable as interest on the debentures on January 1, 1944 the sum of $75,000 and as interest on the debentures on July 1, 1944 the sum of $75,000, which in terms of each debenture is equivalent in the aggregate to 7½% of the principal amount thereof and will represent all current interest at the rate of 6% per annum to said respective dates, plus 1½% "additional interest" for the year.

Upon surrender to the Commercial National Bank and Trust Company of New York, 46 Wall Street, New York City, of coupon No. 23, on or after January 1, 1944, and of coupon No. 24, on or after July 1, 1944, accompanied by duly executed ownership certificates, an amount equivalent in each case to 3¾% of the principal amount of the debentures to which such coupon pertains will be paid.

By order of the board of directors.

LOUIS IRVINE, Assistant Secretary

Dated, December 1, 1943.

TENNESSEE MANGANESE COMPANY AND PAN-AMERICAN MANGANESE CORPORATION

A substantial sum of money has been realized on the claim of the Tennessee Manganese Company, a Delaware corporation, filed against the United States of America under the War Minerals Relief Act, and is now in the hands of Ferdinand W. Peck and Francis C. Prest, as Trustees for the persons or their legal representatives who at the time the Tennessee Manganese Company ceased to exist were entitled under the laws of the State of Delaware to share in the assets of the corporation upon the dissolution thereof on January 17, 1921. It appears that Pan-American Manganese Corporation, a Delaware corporation, which was dissolved in January, 1921, owned common and preferred shares of said Tennessee Manganese Company in 1918 and that creditors and shareholders of said Pan-American Manganese Corporation may be entitled to share in the assets of the said Tennessee Manganese Company. The Superior Court of Cook County, Illinois, in cause entitled "Ferdinand W. Peck and H. E. Schiller, for and on behalf of themselves and all other persons similarly situated, Plaintiffs, vs. Francis C. Prest, Defendant, No. 41S 5726," entered an order on October 19, 1943, limiting the time for the filing of claims by the persons entitled to share therein to a period commencing with the entry of said order and expiring on January 18, 1944. Claims not filed within said period shall be forever barred from participation in the distribution of said funds so held by the said trustees. Claims shall be made only in writing and may be filed either with the undersigned trustees at 53 West Jackson Street, Chicago, Illinois, or with the Clerk of the Superior Court of Cook County, County Building, Chicago, Illinois, in the aforementioned cause. After the expiration of the time for the filing of claims, a hearing on all claims filed will be had by the Superior Court of Cook County, Illinois. Claims on written obligations of said Tennessee Manganese Company or of said Pan-American Manganese Corporation shall be accompanied by the original or a photostatic copy of the note or other written evidence of the claim. Claims of shareholders of said Tennessee Manganese Company or of said Pan-American Manganese Corporation shall be accompanied by the original stock certificates or photostatic copies thereof. The original stock certificates must be turned in to the Trustees for cancellation before payments are made thereon.

PROPOSED BOOST IN EXCESS PROFIT TAX DENOUNCED

Carriers Assert 95 Pct. Would Induce Waste.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—A spokesman for the Association of American Railroads asserted today the 95 per cent excess profits tax proposed in the new $2,140,000,000 revenue bill "is the foe of thrift and economy and puts a premium upon extravagance and waste." The present rate is 90 per cent.

R. V. Fletcher, vice president of the association, also protested to the senate finance committee a provision which would limit corporations with invested capital of 200 million dollars or more to a 4 per cent credit in computing their excess profits base. He called the reduction from the existing 5 per cent rate "wholly illogical and unjustified."

Menace to Local Officers.

John T. Corbett, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, asked the committee to remove from the bill, already passed by the house, a provision requiring annual financial reports from labor organizations. He said the brotherhood's local officers are unsalaried and the provision, under which erroneous statements would subject their makers to perjury action, would make it difficult for the association to keep men in office.

Leather goods manufacturers protested vigorously against a sharp increase in the excise tax on luggage, which now carries a 10 per cent rate at the manufacturer's sales level.

The house, in passing the revenue bill, voted to raise the rate to 25 per cent of the retail price and extend the levy to include wallets and hand bags.

Reads Joint Protest.

George S. Bernard, chairman of the board of the Seward Trunk and Bag company, read the committee a joint statement on behalf of himself, H. G. Kates, president of the Luggage and Leather Goods Manufacturers of America, and Theodore Cart, president of the Atlantic Products corporation of Trenton, N. J.

"This proposed sales tax of 25 per cent is undoubtedly predicated on the theory that luggage is a luxury," the statement said. "War time luggage, gentlemen, is not a luxury. It is a mistake to include war time luggage in the same category with such luxuries as jewelry, furs, and amusements. It is a definite necessity."

TWA CHIEF ASKS U. S. TO GET AIR RIGHTS ABROAD

New York, Nov. 30 (AP).—Jack Frye, president of Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., today urged federal government action to obtain post-war foreign landing rights for the United States global air transport fleet.

Speaking to the Sales Executive Club of New York, Frye said domestic air lines would seek to do in peace time what they were doing in war time, with modifications to conform to trade conditions.

"American finances have built or substantially contributed to building airports all over the globe on foreign lands," he said. "Unless we act, the United States will conclude this war long on airplanes and short on landing rights. The problems of diplomatic procedure [to obtain landing rights], while undoubtedly great, must be met."

Frye said a far flung commercial air system was a prime element "if we hope to make the United States a great trading nation."

Vote Northwest Airlines Capital Stock Increase

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 30 (AP).—Shareholders of Northwest Airlines today voted to increase the authorized capital stock from 300,000 to 600,000 shares and instructed the directors to issue the additional shares at prices and terms to be fixed by the board. The company is seeking to extend service from Milwaukee to New York City via Detroit and Cleveland, and has asked for post-war routes to Alaska, China, India, Japan, the Philippine Islands, and the Hawaiian Islands.

SHOULD CLAIM REFUND.

In December, 1941, I sold my stock in the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad at 1/32, the price at which it was quoted at that time on the New York Stock exchange, and claimed a capital loss on my income tax return for 1941. Recently I received a notice from the treasury that the St. Louis branch of the bureau of internal revenue had declared the stock worthless as of 1940, and I have been asked to pay additional tax for 1941. Isn't it inconsistent for the treasury department to call the stock worthless when it was still being quoted on an exchange? What can I do?—P. J.

Answer: Upon court approval of a reorganization plan eliminating a security, the treasury department rules that the stock was worthless as of the year in which the reorganization plan was first proposed. Thus, it is possible for an investor to sell a security in one year, and in a later year the treasury department may declare that the security was worthless some time prior to the date of the sale, even tho the security still had market value.

When such situations occur the taxpayer must pay the additional tax demanded by the treasury department, but he is entitled to claim a refund of the excess tax he paid in the year when the security became worthless.

of residential real estate should be stimulated by the provision of financial facilities adequate for post-war needs.

"Encouragement should be given to the establishment of privately owned mutual insuring facilities to guarantee investments in mortgages and notes, both for the financing of new and existing construction and for the financing of maintenance and repair."

Morton Bodfish of Chicago, executive vice president of the loan league, declared that "every man willing to work should have a job if it takes ever cent we have in the treasury to do it. Actually, I think private industry can do it if it is given a real opportunity in the tax policies and in the relaxation of government officials."

Next Depression Planned?

"Some of our planners already have planned the next depression to take place immediately after the war, but I can't see how it can happen unless a hobbling ring is put on private enterprise," Bodfish said.

John H. Fahey, commissioner of the federal home loan bank administration, told the savings and loan men that an unsound boom in real estate prices and inflationary practices in mortgage lending were developing rapidly in the "crowded war industry cities of the nation." He hinted that it may be necessary for the government to step in and prevent a repetition of the mortgage panic of the early 30's.

Fahey said liquidation of the Home Owners' Loan corporation was well ahead of schedule, with more than 53 per cent of its assets liquidated on June 30.

SLUM CLEARING LAW TEST IS SET FOR DEC. 8

Trial of a suit filed in Circuit court challenging the constitutionality of the Illinois neighborhood redevelopment corporation act has been set for Dec. 8. The case will be heard by Judge Julius Miner.

Passage of the act by the legislature two years ago was the culmination of years of effort to get a workable legal formula to permit assembly of large tracts of land for slum clearance projects. The act grants limited powers of condemnation to privately financed housing corporations operating under municipal regulation.

The suit, brought by John F. Zurn, a real estate man, seeks to block the expenditure of $1,000 appropriated by the city of Chicago to meet expenses of the municipal supervisory commission set up under terms of the act. Zurn is represented by Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautmann, Levinson, and Morse.

BROAD HOUSING PROGRAM URGED TO CHECK DECAY

A comprehensive post-war housing plan for the Chicago area to check pre-war trends toward residential area depreciation was urged yesterday by Ferd Kramer, president of the Metropolitan Housing council, at a luncheon in the Chicago Bar association rooms. Unless this is done Chicago faces a loss of population in the central areas and possibly bankruptcy within 25 years, he predicted.

He announced a drive for $50,000 to support the council's post-war planning program.

"From all indications," he said, "the post-war period will bring with it a building boom which may be the largest in Chicago's history. If this boom follows the same pattern as past booms, we may again expect a hasty, disorderly exodus from the city, bringing even greater neglect and decay to newly vacated areas."

Denial of Color Patent to Ward Upheld by Court

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30 (AP).—The idea of imposing one color upon another to get different color effects is "old and obvious," the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia ruled today in affirming a lower court decision denying a patent to Montgomery Ward & Co. for a wallpaper display device. It involved superimposing bands of various colors over a common design, permitting several color combinations on a single sheet.

OPERA BUILDING OWNER SEEKING TO WIDEN SCOPE

Since the monumental structure was completed in 1930, the building company has sustained substantial losses after interest and depreciation each year and the total deficit from organization to the close of 1942 amounted to $9,009,340. The building is now fully occupied, with approximately 40 per cent of the spare rented to the army.

For the 10 months ended Oct. 31, 1943, there was a net loss of $143,653 from the building operations, but a Continental Industrial dividend enabled the company to cut its accumulated deficit to $8,852,994. This is exclusive of a $6,525,409 surplus account arising chiefly from adjustment of indebtedness.

As a condition to the new program, it was necessary to obtain an agreement from the mortgagee to exempt newly acquired assets from the lien and income assignment. Assets and earnings would be segregated into two portions, with the first group including the Wacker Drive building and other real estate at 2559 South Dearborn street. The second group would consist of all other assets.

Required to Cut Debt.

In obtaining the exemption and also an extension in the mortgage maturity from June 1, 1948, to 1953, the building company was required to pay $200,000 principal amount with funds obtained from other sources than then owned.

General Finance made this possible by providing funds with which the company bought the capital stock of Continental Industrial Engineers. The company then received dividends aggregating $380,000 from Continental, of which $200,000 was paid on the mortgage and $175,000 to General Finance by way of reimbursement.

Under the recapitalization, each preferred share of the building corporation would be exchanged for one share of 6 per cent cumulative $5 par class A preferred stock of General Industries. Common stock would be exchanged, share for share, for new $1 par common.

For each share of La Salle Industrial class A stock, three-fifths of a share of General Industries 6 per cent cumulative class B $5 par preferred stock and $7 cash would be issued. Each common share would receive one one-hundredth of a class B preferred share, plus $1.65 cash.

Class A to Get Realty Earnings.

The two classes of preferred stock would have an equal claim on regular cumulative dividends, but class A would be entitled to additional dividends from any net accumulated building earnings, as defined in the merger agreement, in order to preserve the present interest of holders of the old preferred stock.

La Salle Industrial, organized under Delaware laws in 1937, is engaged in financing industries, on the security of accounts receivable and mortgages. The proxy statement said it is expected the merged company "to some extent will continue the business formerly conducted by La Salle."

Giving effect to the merger, General Industries would have outstanding 90,307 class A preferred shares, and no more of this class would be authorized. There would be outstanding 13,000 class B shares and 101,000 common, out of authorized amounts of 500,000 and 600,000 shares respectively.

The directors of the building corporation yesterday ordered the sale of its holdings of General Telephone company and Middle West corporation stocks.

A. D. Hansen, WPB Pulp Production Chief, Resigns

Resignation of Agner D. Hansen, of Green Bay, Wis., as chief of the war production board's pulp production office, was announced yesterday by Harold Boeschenstein, acting director of WPB's forest production branch, the Chicago WPB office said. Hansen will return to his duties as president and general manager of the Northern Paper Mills, Green Bay. James L. Madden, vice president of the Hollingsworth-Whitney company, of Boston, Mass., was appointed deputy director of the paper division and will have charge of the pulp production program.

DIVIDENDS DECLARED

Directors of Spencer Kellogg and Sons, Inc., yesterday voted a dividend payable in the company's common stock at the rate of one share on each five shares of the common held. The action will increase the company's outstanding capital from $12,230,325 to $14,700,000 by capitalizing $2,469,675 of the prior year's earnings. Cash distributions during the year were $1.30, against $1.90 last year. Dividends declared yesterday:

—REAL ESTATE—FARM LANDS—

GREATEST INVESTMENT OF ALL TIME.
Approximately 2,500 Acres
OF LAND SURROUNDING THE VILLAGE OF KIRKLAND, DE KALB COUNTY, ILLINOIS, ALL IN ONE UNIT. THE LARGEST TRACT OF FARM LAND OWNED INDIVIDUALLY IN THE COUNTY, ABSOLUTELY THE BEST FARM LAND EVER SOLD IN ONE BLOCK WITH 4 SETS OF FARM BUILDINGS AND 6 HOUSES.
This valuable and most desirable property will be sold in its entirety at PUBLIC AUCTION
Saturday, Dec. 4 at 2 p. m. on the premises at No. 1 set of buildings by
J. Clinton Bowden
Nationally known land auctioneer of Oak Park, Illinois. This superior property is situated 67 miles west of Chicago Loop, served by the Milwaukee railroad's main line to Omaha, which bisects land equally from east to west. Also, State Highway Route No. 72 runs full width of property. Adjacent to village is the site of the Kirkland Feeding Yards, a railroad owned yard used in the feeding and grazing operations connected with the feeding in transit of western live stock en route to the Chicago market. Two large grain elevators also serve this community for the disposition of grains raised on the highly productive farms in the surrounding territory. The south fork of the Kishwaukee river winds through the full length of the property and is fed by five creeks, forming ideal watering facilities for live stock, which is an additional revenue producer in connection with grazing of transient live stock. THIS WONDERFUL PRODUCING SOIL IS OWNED by the distinguished gentleman, JOHN MacQUEEN, of KIRKLAND, ILLINOIS. His advanced years is the only reason that this attractive farm land and grazing ground is being offered to the public.
SUPERIOR SOIL IN EVERY RESPECT.
Its location is perfect. Soil is deep and black with a subsoil that cannot be beaten. Potash, phosphoric acid, nitrogen, and humus are in abundance. Soil is level with remarkable drainage. Many thousand tons of good manure have been spread upon the land yearly. More than 100 bushels of corn have been produced per acre for years, 125 bushels per acre this year.
WELL PLANNED BUILDINGS which have been kept in good condition, location of which is just about ideal. NOTICE, this auction should be well attended. It really presents a marvelous opportunity. If the purchaser should want to dispose of one-half or two-thirds of this layout, he certainly could at a much greater price than he paid for the entirety. It's splendid that the owner of this valuable soil has placed before the public the greatest of all investments, good old Mother Earth.
SYNOPSIS OF TERMS: 15% day of Auction, balance and final settlement on or before 60 days. Owner will take back a 50% mortgage. Open for inspection every day. INFORMATION: J. Clinton Bowden, Auctioneer, Box 386, Oak Park, Ill. Phone Forest 2017. Chicago office, Central 4069. Or phone Mr. James D. Edwards, Kirkland, Ill. Phone 11.

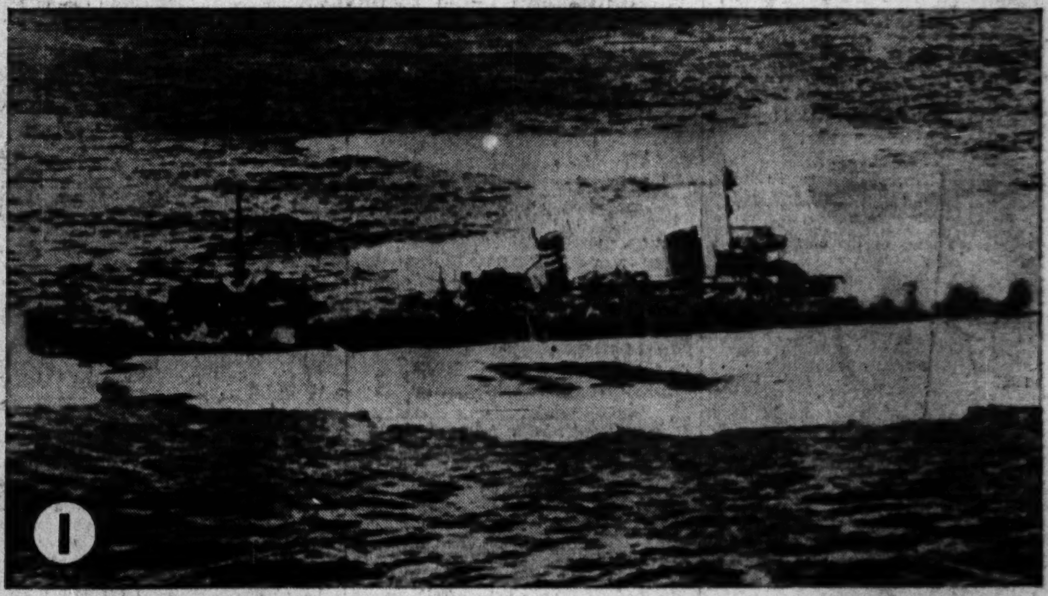
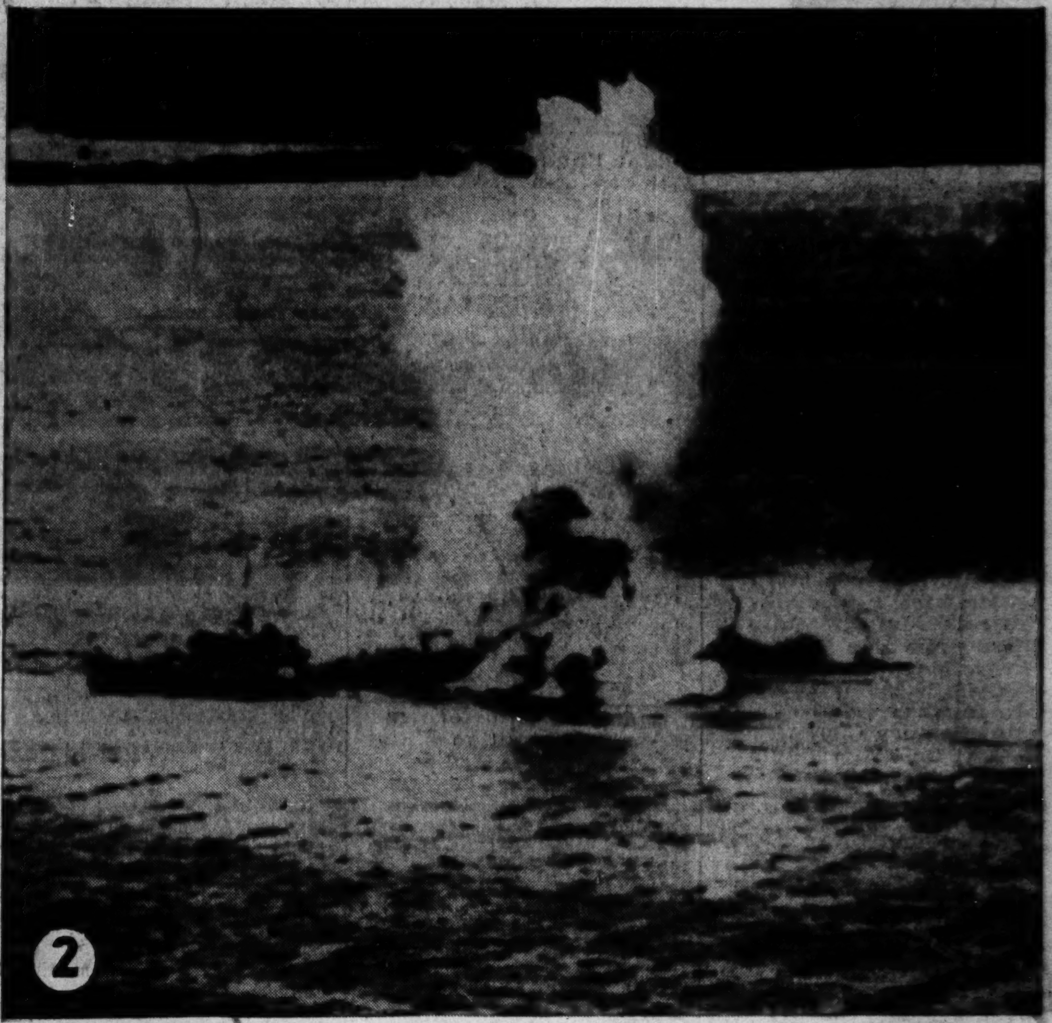
Flying Forts Pile Their Clouds on Nature's in European Mission—First Jap Ship Sunk by Plane's Cannon

[Associated Press Wirephoto: From Army Air Forces.]

Flying Fortresses of the United States 8th army air force leaving trails of condensing vapor to mingle with the clouds as they droned toward their objectives in the German city of Bremen, where submarine yards were blasted by the big planes' bomb loads. The mission was carried out Nov. 13.



First attack by a B-25 bomber armed with 75 mm. cannon on a Japanese destroyer in the South Pacific. Enemy craft is seen as the American warplane gained position for attack.



Clouds of smoke and geysers of water obscure part of ship as five shells blast target. Two hits were scored on bow and one each on the aft turret, bridge, and amidships.
